Will Rogers Remarks

CHICAGO, June 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why don't somebody print the truth about our present economic situation. We spent six years of wild buying on credit (everything under the sun, whether we needed it or not,) and now we are having to pay for 'em under Mr. Hoover and we are howling like a pet coon.

Yours,

Pioneer of West Had Wide Interests in Many Lands; Career Distinguished

YONKERS (N. Y.) June 27. (AP)—Col. William Boyce Thompson, copper magnate and philanthropist, died of pneumonia at his home here tonight. He was 61 years of age.

Death came at 11:55 p.m. At the bedside were his wife, Gertrude Hickman Thompson, and his daughter, Margaret Thompson Schulze. His brother, J. Edward Thompson, is on his way from Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. Thompson came to his home here about a month ago from Phoenix. He contracted pneumonia last Saturday night. For the past four years paralysis had kept him an invalid.

PIONEER IN FIELD

Col. Thompson, with mines in Montana, diamond interests in Africa, a greenhouse in Yonkers, N. Y., and an office in Wall street, was "interested in anything and everything that came out of the ground."

That interest, fostered in his childhood in a raw and treeless West, where he saw mountains crumble before diggers after gold, silver and copper, stayed with him through his life, and carried him through not one, but half a dozen careers.

To him, and men including Col. D. C. Jackling with whom he was early associated, is largely attributable present low cost production of both copper and sulphur, mining men say.

A pioneer in this field, he followed in the footsteps of another pioneer—William Thompson, his father, owner of properties that lat-

FIFTY DEAD IN STORMS

Deaths Occur in Many Places

Thirty Fishing Vessels Lost Around Harbor Grace; Bolts Take Toll

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Death and destruction rode the wings of storms in parts of the United States and Canada last night and today, taking more than fifty lives, injuring many persons and causing property damage of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Thirty persons were killed at Brockville, Ont., in the explosion of a charge of dynamite under the drill boat J. B. King. It is believed the blast may have been caused by lightning. High winds and a swift current hindered efforts of searchers.

THIRTEEN DIE IN WRECK

Thirteen persons were killed near Capreol, Ont., in the wrecks of a freight train and a passenger train. Both wrecks were caused by spreading rails, loosened by the driving rain and high waters.

Eight of the dead were tramps, riding the rods of the freight train.

Almost a dozen deaths and loss of thirty fishing vessels were reported at Harbor Grace, N. F., and vicinity. At St. John's, N. F., hailstones weighing as much as ten pounds broke windows, caved in roofs and sank small fishing boats.

Two men were drowned at Buffalo when a boat foundered, a farmer was killed by lightning near Carlisle, Pa., and a 9-year-old girl at Hackettstown, N. J., met the same fate.

TRAINS STALLED

Seven transcontinental passenger trains were stalled near Sudbury, Ont., center of the Canadian storm area. Telephone lines were blown down and automobiles dotted flooded highways for miles in all directions.

As far south as Atlanta, Ga., high winds and beating rains damaged buildings and crops.

DIVERS RECOVER TWENTY BODIES FROM HULK

BROCKVILLE (Ont.) June 27. (Exclusive)—Divers today recovered twenty bodies from the twisted hulk of the drill scow John B. King, reposing on the rock bottom of the St. Lawrence River. One body was recovered on the surface, bringing the total found dead to twenty-one. Bodies of nine more victims are still believed beneath the surface.

Inquest proceedings were started today to establish the facts of the terrific explosion supposed to have been caused by a lightning bolt striking the dynamite-carrying craft as she lay at work in the Brockville narrows. The inquest was commenced this afternoon to take the evidence of the United States revenue cutter crew which assisted in the rescue of eleven survivors.

Prix Des Drags Society Raises Trailing Skirts

AUTEUIL (France) June 27. (AP) Society women again today demonstrated they will have their way in the matter of style.

Trailing skirts were put in their place by most of the smartly dressed leaders of continental fashion at the Auteuil race course at today's fashionable Prix des Drags. Society attended en masse in striking costumes which were characterized by a preponderance of black and white, medium length skirts and a complete absence of furbelows and fluffery.

Excursion Craft Rams Ferryboat

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—The ferryboat John English, carrying 250 passengers from Staten Island to Brooklyn, was damaged tonight by collision with the excursion steamer Susquehanna.

A fire boat towed the ferry back to Staten Island. She resumed the Brooklyn trip when inspection revealed her worst injury was a hole above the water line.

The Susquehanna, en route from the tip of Manhattan to Keansburg, N. J., with about 700 passengers, continued her trip apparently undamaged. Officials said no one was injured.

Chance for All to Hear Prince

NAVY AIRSHIP FIGHTS DOOM

Giant Los Angeles Nearly Lost in Fierce Battle With Wind and Has Hole Torn in Cover

LAKEHURST (N. J.) June 27. (Exclusive)—The dirigible Los Angeles, pride of the Navy lighter-than-air fleet of aircraft, was nearly lost to the government during the last twenty-four hours, it was revealed today after it finally was housed with great difficulty because of the strong winds blowing in from the west.

On its return from a flight over the dedication ceremonies of Floyd Bennett Field, New York, and the intercollegiate eight-oar regatta at Poughkeepsie, it was found impossible to get the dirigible moored here in the sudden squalls and rainstorms late last night. Blown three miles from the mast against the full ground and operating crew of the air station, Lieutenant-Commander H. V. Wiley, who was in charge of the dirigible, decided to ride out the storm at sea.

ALL-NIGHT CRUISE

Without food or water aboard, the huge ship was wheeled about to flee from the fast-traveling storms. It cruised around throughout the night, holding its position at times by pushing its stubby nose straight into the wind. At dawn it started its return home and arrived over the hangar at noon.

Still fighting the winds the tired, hungry and thirsty crew utilized all their knowledge of dirigible habits and forced the craft near the stub mast, where a half-inch steel cable was attached to the nose.

Reeling the cable in to moor the craft the ground crew struggled against terrific odds as the 3,700,000 cubic foot ship was battered by wind and cross-currents straining every rivet and stay in the delicate framework. Above the engine crew did its best to aid in the work.

CABLE SNAPS

With success in sight, however, the steel cable snapped with a loud report. Its sudden release from tension made it snap through the envelope. A gaping hole was torn in the outer covering but the inside balloonettes holding the great volume of helium were not cut. The airship blew away from the mast as the ground crew was unable to check it.

After nearly two hours more of intricate maneuvering, another cable was passed to the stub mast. Taut under the strain, the Los Angeles slowly was drawn down and moored to the ball engine anchor, but its officers did not desert their posts throughout the afternoon. Fearing that the wind might again wreak havoc with the delicate ship they ordered it reprovisioned at once.

At sundown the wind abated slightly and the commanding offiers seized the opportunity to house the dirigible.

TEMPLE OF PAST YIELDS TREASURE

Story of Mayan Cache for Gold and Jewels Told by Mexican Paper

MEXICO CITY, June 27. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa says it has learned a fabulous fortune in gold, silver and antique jewelry has been discovered in the ancient "Temple of a Thousand Grottos," in the Department of Izabel, Guatemala.

Troops have been thrown about the temple and no one is allowed to approach it without authorization from certain authorities, the paper adds.

The temple is of Maya origin. It is situated in wild jungle country and only a small portion of it protrudes above ground. It is built over a large number of deep crevices, some of which are of undetermined depth.

The fortune was discovered recently hidden away in these crevices, La Prensa says, precious metals and jewelry valued at approximately $5,000,000 already having been extracted.

The paper states that efforts have been made to keep the discovery secret and that the origin of the treasure is a matter of speculation.

Hoover Backs Draft Survey

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—President Hoover today signed the resolution creating a commission to study the question of drafting all the nation's resources in wartime except labor.

It is expected to propose an amendment to the Constitution to permit the government to take over property and otherwise to equalize the burdens of war.

VETERANS' BILL NEAR APPROVAL

Measure for Disabled World War Soldier to be Voted on Today

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—Committee approval of the new House measure authorizing disability pensions for veterans of the World War was confidently predicted tonight by Senator Watson of Indiana, the acting chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Director Hines of the Veterans' Bureau indorsed the bill before the committee during the day of hearings, and his statement was regarded as having full approval of the Hoover administration.

C. L. Bodenhamer, National Commander of the American Legion, in a telegram read to the committee, urged a speedy report, with minor amendments.

The committee will vote tomorrow. Democrats are prepared to ask for an increase in the pension rates to provide for a $60 maximum instead of the $40 limit in the House bill. Spanish War veterans get the $60 maximum.

At attempt will be made in the Senate tomorrow to take up the veterans' bill immediately, but its passage is not believed likely before Monday.

HOOVER REBUKES SENATE FOR VOTE ON CRIME FUND

President Announces Inquiry Will Go on Through Private Aid After Appropriation Fails

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—Striking back at the Senate for restricting his law enforcement commission to a study of prohibition laws alone, President Hoover today declared the commission will continue its investigation of general crime conditions with the aid of subscriptions from private sources.

The President acted soon after the Senate had defeated, 35 to 30, an amendment to the second deficiency bill to provide another $250,000 for the commission to complete its inquiry into enforcement of all criminal statutes, and approved a provision of only $50,000 with a strict limitation confining the work to the dry laws.

Replying to questions at the White House press conference after he had conferred with five members of the enforcement commission, Mr. Hoover said:

"With growing crime of all kinds and with insistent recommendations from every bar association and public body concerned that we should have an accurate study of the reforms necessary in our whole judicial and administrative machinery, that we should have some constructive program for decrease and control of crime as a whole, I cannot abandon the question for one moment or allow the work of this commission to cease."

"I have asked the commission to proceed with its full program of work and it has consented to do so," the President added.

He said he has no doubt there are private citizens sufficiently anxious for the nation to know the "whole truth as to what constructive remedies may be suggested by so eminent a body of men and women as this commission" and that he will be able to obtain from private sources $100,000 to carry the work to completion.

GLASS SARCASTIC

Members of the commission who conferred with the President after the Senate vote were Chairman Wickersham, Dean Roscoe Pound, Henry W. Anderson, Monte L. Lemann and Miss Ada L. Comstock.

Asked if the commission expects to continue its work, Chairman Wickersham said:

"We are not quitters."

Commenting on the Hoover announcement, Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, who led the fight for the $50,000 allotment, said:

"All I have to say is if there is anybody simple enough to want to waste their money in this sort of work I certainly shall have no objection."

JONES RAPS SENATE

Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, who sponsored the $250,000 amendment with no limitations, said:

"I'm not surprised. I think the Senate ought to feel humiliated by the fact that important work like this has to be carried on by private subscription."

Senator Glass, author of the original $250,000 appropriation for the commission, contended in debate that Congress intended the Hoover agency should confine its inquiry to prohibition laws and that appropriation of another quarter of a million dollars would mean that $338,000 would be "wasted."

He included in this figure the $88,000 unexpended balance of the first appropriation which the deficiency bill reappropriates.

Senator Jones, who stood alone for the larger and unrestricted item in the Appropriations Committee he heads, said the law provides for a study of prohibition and other laws. By restricting its work in the future, he said, all exhaustive and uncompleted labors in connection with studies of general law enforcement would "go for naught."

Little debate preceded the final vote, which came after Jones first had won his amendment, 30 to 29. Glass, however, sought reconsideration through a motion by Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, who had not voted on the previous roll call.

HOW THEY VOTED

On the final vote, twenty-seven Republicans and three Democrats voted for the Jones amendment, while twenty-four Democrats and eleven Republicans voted against it. The roll call follows:

For: Republicans—Borah, Capper, Couzens, Deneen, Fess, Glenn,

WAR RAGES IN LA PAZ

Fighting Takes Heavy Toll

Battle Opens When Police Raid Meeting Addressed by Young Girl

BUENOS AIRES, June 27. (AP)—Reports from numerous South American sources today indicated that sanguinary fighting has been going on since Sunday in La Paz, the Bolivian capital, with the administration being turned over to a provisional government which now is fighting a new revolt.

The principal information came from Bautista Saavedra, former President of Bolivia, who reached the frontier from the capital.

Senor Saavedra said the provisional government is a military directorate composed of Cols. Toro, Benzer and Gonzales. Wednesday night cadets and noncommissioned officers of the military academy, aided by civil elements and other troops, revolted against the directorate and defeated the loyal Yngavi Regiment sent against them.

The fighting continued all night Wednesday and all of yesterday, with great loss of life, Saavedra added. He said only two regiments now are loyal to the government.

The former President confirmed stories of heavy fighting in La Paz Sunday, first related by passengers who reached the frontier Wednesday night on an international train.

He said a young Bolivian girl student spoke to a group of demonstrators Sunday concerning the recent resignation of President Hernando Siles, asserting Dr. Siles was trying to regain the presidency and exhorting her listeners to be men and oppose Siles.

Saavedra said in the midst of her fiery address the police fired, killing the girl and her companion on the platform, a young man student who had spoken previously.

With that the crowd became enraged and charged the police, who mounted machine guns on trucks and repulsed wave after wave of the demonstrators, Senor Saavedra estimating the dead at forty or more and the wounded at sixty.

The rioters finally withdrew, carrying the bodies of the boy and girl over the city and shouting accusations of an outrage against the police.

The former President, accused by government supporters of sponsoring the rebel movement, said the revolution had spread to Sucre, Potosi and Cochabamba. In addition, the Camacho regiment holds the town of Oruro and its officers have issued a manifesto calling for a new government.

Bolivia has been restless since the resignation of Dr. Siles, oppositionists spreading reports he was attempting to recapture the Presidency with the aid of Gen. Hans Kundt, German, who commands the Bolivian army. Feeling against both has been bitter in this week's troubles.

ICELAND HAILS PEACE ERA

Treaty Signed With Four Other Powers During Celebration of Freedom's Millennium

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune]

REYKJAVIK (Iceland) June 27. (Exclusive)—On the historic law rock where Iceland established independence 1000 years ago the representatives of five Scandinavian powers signed a treaty of friendship and arbitration, pledging themselves never to go to war but to submit all disputes of whatever character to the Hague Court and accept its decisions without question. These powers are Iceland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and Finland.

The signing took place on the rock in the open air in the presence of thousands of spectators, and immediately afterward the Althing was called to order by President Asgeirsson ringing an old Icelandic silver bell.

Prime Minister Tryggvi Thorhalsson made a brief speech thanking the delegates of all powers for coming to Iceland. Then Jon Thorlaksson, leader of the Conservative party now in opposition, proposed approval of the treaty just signed. The motion was seconded by John Baldwin, son of the Socialist leader, and passed unanimously by a standing vote.

Before the ceremony of signing a long address on Iceland and its history was made from the rock by Benedikt Sveinsson, president of the lower house of the Althing. All the speeches were broadcast from loud speakers on a tall rock on the other side of the gorge and were heard miles away.

This afternoon American Icelanders were welcomed by Gudmundur Olafsson, president of the upper house, and Judge Grimson of St. Paul, Minn., replied.

Later a historical pageant was performed on the rock, reproducing the election of the first law speaker 1000 years ago and in the evening the Prime Minister held a reception in the great dining tent, after which open-air dancing and sports finished the evening.

At the dinner given by the President of the Althing last night Queen Louisa appeared for the first time in Icelandic dress and the royal couple were received with more enthusiasm than was shown before. Even in the magnificent medieval dress, which also is modern for it is still being worn daily, the Queen was overshadowed by the Viking-like women of Iceland.

"BREAK" FOR WETS

Senator Dill, Washington, one of the three Democrats who voted for the $250,000 amendment, observed the "wets have the drys right where they want them—fighting among themselves."

Jones and Glass both are prominent drys. Jones denied the controversy was over prohibition itself.

Mr. Hoover in his statement emphasized that the enforcement of "any one criminal law necessarily involves the machinery by which all criminal laws are enforced, and the country is concerned over the cause of increased crime in general."

Nothing indicates this better, he said, than that "in the last two years there was an increase of persons in Federal prisons for serious offenses from 8400 to over 13,000, whereas in the previous two years the increase was from 7100 to 8400—in other words, an increase of 1300 in the first period and an increase of 4600 in the last period."

USE OF FUNDS TOLD

Seventy per cent of these prisoners were violators of laws other than the dry statutes, he said, with State prisons showing "about the same story."

The President said there can "be no doubt the more vigorous enforcement of the laws has had something to do with the Federal situation."

"What the causes and remedies are in respect to these 70 per cent is of vital importance," he asserted.

Declaring members of the law enforcement commission are "volunteers serving solely out of regard to public interest," he said all funds, whether Congressional or otherwise, are "solely for investigation work."

"The commission will, of course," he concluded, "need to set up a separate division to take charge of the nonprohibition section of their work and will, of course, preside over it in a separate capacity."

This statement is taken to mean the Federal funds will be used specifically for the prohibition study and those obtained by private subscription for completion of the inquiry into other laws.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The text of the Hoover statement follows:

"I know that the appropriation requested by the law enforcement commission for its work outside of prohibition has failed in the Senate. This deleted part of the appropriation is that devoted to investigation into the cause and remedy for crime in general and for the determination of the reforms needed in our judicial and administrative machinery.

"As a matter of fact, the enforcement of any one criminal law necessarily involves the machinery by which all criminal laws are enforced, and the country is concerned over the cause of increasing crime in general. Nothing indicates the situation better than the fact that in the last two years there was an increase of persons in Federal prisons for serious offenses from 8400 to over 13,000, whereas in the previous two years the increase was from 7100 to 8400—in other words, an increase of 1300 in the first period and an increase of 4600 in the last period. Seventy per cent of these prisoners are in for other crimes than those arising out of prohibition. Our State prisons show about the same story.

"There can be no doubt that the more vigorous enforcement of the laws has had something to do with the Federal situation. What the causes and remedies are in respect to this 70 per cent is of vital importance.

PROGRAM NEEDED

"With growing crime of all kinds and with insistent recommendations from every bar association and public body concerned that we should have an accurate study of the reforms necessary in our whole judicial and administrative machinery, that we should have some constructive program for decrease and control of crime as a whole, I cannot abandon the question for one moment or allow the work of this commission to cease. I have asked the commission to proceed with its full program of work and it has consented to do so.

"I have no doubt that there are private citizens sufficiently anxious for the nation to know the whole truth as to what constructive remedies may be suggested by so eminent a body of men and women as this commission, that I shall be able to secure from private sources the $100,000 necessary to carry this work forward to completion.

"The commission are volunteers serving solely out of regard to public interest, and all funds, whether Congressional or otherwise are solely for investigation work.

"The commission will, of course, need to set up a separate division to take charge of the nonprohibition section of their work, and will, of course, preside over it in a separate capacity."

SENATE APPROVES DEFICIENCY MEASURE

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—After its vote rejecting the Jones amendment which would have provided $250,000 instead of $50,000 for the work of the law enforcement commission, the Senate today passed the second deficiency bill, the last of the large annual appropriations measures.

The measure carries $80,000,000 for various Federal projects, including the $10,660,000 to start construction of Boulder Dam, which was approved yesterday.

Before the measure can go to the White House it must be returned to the House for approval of amendments totaling more than $12,000,000, which were added by the Senate.

Program Calls for Greater Activity by Officers

Woodcock of Baltimore in Executive Berth

WASHINGTON, June 27. (AP)—With the avowed intention of spurring prohibition enforcement ahead through increased activity of agents and broad co-operation with State authorities the Department of Justice has completed final arrangements for taking over the Treasury's thorniest problem next Tuesday.

The reorganization will be the fifth to follow the start of peacetime prohibition enforcement in 1920.

Seymour Lowman, prohibition director, and Dr. James M. Doran, a Treasury chemist who has served as commissioner of prohibition, are said by Treasury officials to have been an ideal team for handling the government's toughest enforcement problem.

For nearly three years they successfully weathered the storms of dry-law enforcement and their administration of the law is said by Secretary Mellon to have been splendid.

Doran remains in the Treasury as director of the bureau of industrial alcohol at the same salary he received as commissioner of prohibition. Lowman also will remain as assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

In taking over the work Atty.-Gen. Mitchell said he expects closer co-operation between United States attorneys and enforcement officers and announced he will have no laggards in his department.

Mitchell selected Amos W. W. Woodcock of Baltimore as director of the department's prohibition division and Howard T. Jones as assistant director.

While no announcement has been made of plans of the new enforcement officers, reports generally have agreed the department will concentrate its attention on the wet spots of the nation.

BABIES CHOOSE OWN DIET

Youngsters Thrive on Food Tests Described to American Medical Association

DETROIT, June 27. (Exclusive)—Fundamental research which if it proves right must change all our theories of what and how to feed babies, is how Dr. William Palmer Lucas of San Francisco described infant feeding experiments which Dr. Clara M. Davis of Chicago reported to the American Medical Association at its closing session here today.

In her experiments, Dr. Davis allowed thirteen newly weaned infants to feed themselves, choosing what they wanted and eating as much as they liked from a list of simple, unmixed foods.

Except that the foods put before these babies were selected with the aid of modern knowledge of nutrition, the method reverted to that used by our grandmothers and still used by many foreign-born women who allow the newly weaned infant to eat what he wants from the family diet.

The excellent health and growth of the children was evident in the pictures Dr. Davis showed. The babies have been exceptionally free from digestive disturbances. The food list comprised a full range of edible meat products, sea fish, eggs, ◆nine vegetables, five cereals, six fruits and sea salt.

The foods are cooked without salt or seasoning or loss of water or soluble substances. Incidentally, the babies' tastes were found similar to those of healthy adults. They did not like spinach, lettuce, turnips and barley. Dr. Davis said in conclusion that the method is both expensive and wasteful and, therefore, cannot be considered a system of feeding. So far it has only been experimental. From it, however, revolutionary developments were foreseen by some of the doctors who discussed the work.

Facts, fads and fancies of adult diet were described by Dr. Willard J. Stone of Pasadena, Cal. Diet faddists are usually those who, having found certain varieties of foods which they believe useful for themselves advocate such foods for others regardless of conditions, he said.

CHINA ARMY MASSED FOR OFFENSIVE

SHANGHAI, June 27. (AP)—The government concentrated its forces today for a great offensive against the northern rebels, who fought hard to break through to the Yangtse and overthrow it.

With its armies in retreat in Shantung Province, the government ordered 50,000 men withdrawn from southern battlefields to reinforce the Honan northern front in the most critical phase of the civil war.

President Chiang Kai-shek, said Nanking dispatches, considered the situation most grave. The southern rebels having been temporarily thrown back to Southern Hunan, he ordered troops from there to plug the weakness in his northern ranks.

The government resistance in Shantung has collapsed and the northerners continue almost unopposed their advance southward from Tsinanfu. Apparently well-founded dispatches asserted Han Fu-chu, Nationalist commander, was bribed with $1,000,000 (Mexican) to evacuate Tsinanfu and lead his army southward.

Republican Chairman Bound to Lead Band

Lean Campaign Fund Feared If He Remains

WASHINGTON, June 27. (Exclusive)—Two groups of Republican national leaders have waited upon Claudius H. Huston and found him firmly unwilling to give up the Republican national chairmanship.

Consequently, party leaders have agreed that there should be a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican National Committee to demand his resignation. Unless this is forthcoming soon after Congress adjourns the leaders anticipate difficulty about raising funds for the Congressional campaigns in the fall.

Within the last few days, it transpires, seven "young guard" Senators held an "indignation conference" and drew up a joint request for Mr. Huston's resignation, which they promptly laid before him. He declined. The paper bore the signatures of Senators Henry J. Allen, Kansas; Frederick Steiwer, Oregon; John Thomas, Idaho; Simeon D. Fess, Ohio; Frederick C. Walcott, Connecticut; Philips Lee Goldsborough, Maryland, and John G. Townsend, Jr., Delaware.

Previously fifteen national leaders of the party had waited upon Chairman Huston at the Willard Hotel and individually and collectively appealed to him to step aside and spare the party any unnecessary political embarrassment in the fall campaigns. The chairman was adamant.

The national chairman took the stand that he had done nothing to warrant all this pressure for his retirement less than a year after he took the helm.

Mr. Huston today called a conference of the officers of the national committee and the chairman of the Senatorial and Congressional campaign committees for Monday, July 7, at the committee headquarters in Washington, but the specific purpose was not disclosed.

MUDDLE IN CHIHUAHUA CONTINUES

Claimants to Governor's Job Awaiting Decision of President's Arbiters

EL PASO, June 27. (AP)—Representatives of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico today began an attempt to unscramble the political muddle in the State of Chihuahua where rival claimants to the Governorship—Francisco Almada and Manuel Jesus Estrada—are contesting for control.

Gens. Augustin Mora, L. Contreras and Pablo Meneas, appointed by the President to settle the differences between the factions, interviewed followers of both Almada and Estrada at Chihuahua City, but had reached no decision late today as to which of the claimants will be recognized by the Federal government.

A dispatch from a staff correspondent of the El Paso Herald said should the decision favor Estrada "more bloodshed is expected."

Order prevails, although there is intense feeling following yesterday's coup, by which followers of Manuel Prieto, candidate for Governor, voted the impeachment of Gov. Almada and elected Estrada as provisional Governor.

er went into the gigantic Anaconda Copper Company, and one-time vigilante mayor of rough-and-rowdy Butte, Mont.

FLOWERS PASTIME

In addition, Col. Thompson developed copper mines, and diamond mines, the largest sulphur mine in the world—the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company—was a Presidential elector for the Republican party, bought and sold properties on Wall street, and grew flowers for a pastime.

When Washington signaled, he got into a diplomatic uniform and went abroad on a mission. When he was not bringing back reports on Russia, business conditions, or peace in Peru, he brought back seeds from Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb for his back-yard research.

He was a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from its founding in 1914 until December, 1919. He was Presidential elector in 1912 and a delegate to the Republican national conventions in 1916 and 1920 and was mentioned in 1921 for the post of Ambassador to Germany.

WITH RED CROSS

In 1917, he was commissioned lieutenant-colonel of the United States Army and for four months headed the American Red Cross mission to Russia, and in 1918 urged the Allies to be tolerant of the country's difficulties.

In July, 1921, he was chosen envoy extraordinary of the United States to the first centennial of the Proclamation of Independence of the Republic of Peru; and he was a member of the advisory commission to the American delegation in conference on the limitation of armament, 1921.

Col. Thompson was born in Virginia City, Mont., May 13, 1869, son of William Thompson and Anna M. Boyce, and married Gertrude Hickman of Helena, Mont., in 1895. The couple had one daughter, Mrs. Boyce Thompson Schulze of New York.

A friend of Roosevelt, he identified himself in 1919 with a movement to raise funds to perpetuate the dead President's memory. He contributed more than $200,000 to the fund and was virtually the father of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, of which he served as first president and later as honorary head.

For the past four years, Col. Thompson had traveled extensively over the world in an effort to improve his health. His yacht and his private car carried him in his wheel chair to many distant points.

The most recent of his many philanthropies was the gift of $1,000,000 a few months ago to Phillips Academy, at Exeter, N. H. of which he was a graduate.

CHIVALRY VICE OR VIRTUE?

St. Louis Judge Has Delicate Problem in Ethics Involving $1,900,000 Hinging on "Behavior"

ST. LOUIS, June 27. (AP)—A question of whether it is bad behavior for a man to swear falsely to protect a woman was before Federal Judge Faris today. Vincent Kerens seeks to gain his $1,900,000 share of the estate of his father, Richard C. Kerens, former Ambassador to Austria-Hungary. The point concerned whether Kerens has spent five consecutive years in "sobriety and good behavior" and therefore is entitled to the inheritance under the will.

Contained in the report of the St. Louis Union Trust Company, trustee, which seeks to end the trust, is a report that in 1920 Vincent and a woman were arrested in a Los Angeles hotel for asserted violation of the Mann Act. Both were released. Vincent filed the affidavit of a woman who admitted she was the woman involved to show there was no real infraction of the law.

The trust company reported its investigation showed some of the facts stated by Vincent were false and that the affidavit was not in fact made by the woman involved. Attorneys then introduced a letter from Kerens's attorney admitting the falsity of the affidavit but seeking to condone it on the ground it was made to protect the name of the real woman involved.

Attorneys for Kerens's two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Colket of Philadelphia and Mrs. Madeline Kenna of New York and London, who seek to prevent terminating the trust, contend allowing of the affidavit to remain on file constitutes bad behavior on Kerens's part and bars his ending the trust.

Counsel for Kerens's sisters sought to present additional details about the arrest of Kerens and the woman in Los Angeles, but Judge Faris ◆sustained an objection.

The trust company holds the Los Angeles incident, having occurred in 1920, does not come within the five-year period under inquiry, from 1923 to 1928. The company also brought out that the woman Kerens then sought to protect is his wife.

The sisters' counsel argued the false affidavit made in 1920 was repeated in a sworn statement by Kerens in July, 1923, and therefore the matter does come within the five-year period.

In ruling out additional testimony on the subject Judge Faris said the question was not whether Kerens is guilty or not guilty of the Los Angeles incident but whether or not the affidavits filed in the case are within the five-year period and whether they constitute bad behavior.

YORK, June 27. (Exclusive)—Some day when it has a regular routine to fly heavier than air machines across antic, the log of the flight down to the smallest detail recorded minute by minute. We could not do that on this

h log as we have is pretty sketchy and nothing like an record of the journey was written down nor does it remain minds. Some things stand out more than others and to are the important items. In telling them to others, writ- for lay readers, there is perhaps the danger of frequent onous repetition.

I would like to mention them all here by name, operators and ship captains, owners of the shore stations and the men at the keys, but unfortunately I can't. Perhaps they or their friends will see these words and receive my thanks through them. I will mention my friends, Messrs. Heintz and Jack Kaufman, and their radio chain aided us all the way across.

PACIFIC EASIER

As I look back over the two flights, the Pacific and the Atlantic, I am inclined to believe that the old Atlantic is the more uncomfortable for flying, even if the distance from land to land is shorter. We had the same radio facilities over the Pacific, but fewer ships. In compensation for that we had more stars and fewer overcast skies, so that we could take celestial observations.

It is not yet clear to me how we came to deviate so far from our course as we approached Newfoundland. It may be that the rapid magnetic variation had something to do with it. Then, too, it may be that we were tired and were not holding the Southern Cross up to her work as we did earlier in the flight.

It certainly was rather awkard for three or four hours. There we were, flying 100 miles an hour minute after minute, and going nowhere, apparently. It was all blind flying, and this condition, if a pilot keeps it up long enough, isn't conducive to accurate flying.

GET BEARINGS AGAIN

It is possible that we were circling. Our compasses certainly seemed to tell us so. They were going all around the place, our master compass and all. The instruments worked all right for us as we came down the coast to New York, but there seems to be some condition up there off Newfoundland that affects the compasses. Col. Fitzmaurice tells me that Koehl and himself found the same difficulties in about the same position, 300 to 400 miles off Newfoundland.

Then Stannage got his radio bearings again and we discovered that we still had 200 miles or so to go before reaching land, when we thought we were right over it.

It is merely a guess on my part, but I believe that it is possible that the Frenchmen, Nungesser and Coli; Capt. Hinchcliffe and others got almost to Newfoundland and then, coming up against those magnetic variations when they were tired, flew in circles and went down or wandered off up into the wilds of Labrador.

There was no radio to straighten them out and set them on their way again.

There were several other points in connection with the Atlantic flight and the whole flight around from Oakland that I would like to say something about, particularly in reference to the future of air transport over water.

These I will take up in my next article.

Texas Lawyer's Wife Killed by Mystery Blast

AMARILLO (Tex.) June 27. (AP)—What police believe was an infernal machine killed Mrs. A. D. Payne, wife of an Amarillo attorney, and maimed and probably fatally injured her 14-year-old son, as they were driving in their automobile toward the business part of the city today.

Payne had walked to his office, almost three miles from his home, and left the automobile for his family's use. He could not ascribe a motive for the explosion.

Detectives said they found bits of wiring and pieces of dry-cell batteries in the wreckage.

Prodigy's Father Violent in Court

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Pietro Ricci, who seeks to regain custody of his two sons, Ruggiero and Giorgio, from their guardian, Miss Beth Lackey, startled the court today when he shook his fist at Miss Lackey and shouted from the witness stand, "I want my children. You have robbed me of them. Shame on you."

The children, Ruggiero, a 9-year-old violin prodigy, and his younger brother, looked serious for a moment and then smiled as Justice Valente advised their father to compose himself.

Ricci was testifying in habeas corpus proceedings he brought against Miss Lackey.

FLYERS GIVEN MEDALS OF VALOR

New York Welcomes Adventurers

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Flying across oceans is still something to make ordinary earthbound folk applaud and speak in glowing terms of heroic courage, but to the crew of the Southern Cross it is "just a job of work."

Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and the three men with whom he made the perilous westward crossing of the North Atlantic in the same plane in which he flew the Pacific two years ago were welcomed as heroes at the City Hall today and at a luncheon were presented with medals of valor.

"It's awfully nice to get these medals," the Australian flyer said, "but I don't know why they should be called medals of valor. There wasn't any valor about what we did. It was just a job of work we had set ourselves and we did it."

Kingsford-Smith then protested against all the credit being showered on him, saying four men had been in the ship and all had played equally important roles. He then introduced the members of his crew, the bad-weather pilot from the Dutch East Indies, Evert Van Dyk, whom he called "the Flying Dutchman;" Capt. J. Patrick Saul, the Irish navigator, whom he called Paddy, and "Little Johnny Stannage," the Australian wireless operator.

The flyers will stay in New York over the week-end, flying to Washington in their famous plane early Monday morning to be received by President Hoover. Some day next week they will hop off from Roosevelt Field on a nonstop flight to Oakland, Cal., which will complete Kingsford-Smith's circumnavigation of the globe by air.

OAKLAND PREPARES TO WELCOME FLYERS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27. (Exclusive)—While officials and civic organizations of Oakland prepared elaborate reception plans today for the welcoming of Capt. Kingsford-Smith and the crew of the Southern Cross, some time early next week, the welfare committee of the Board of Supervisors here rejected a request for money to decorate Mills Field, the municipal airport, in honor of the transoceanic flyers.

BYRD PAID TRIBUTE BY BOSTONIANS

Welcome to Explorer by Home Folk Sets Mark for Massachusetts City

BOSTON, June 27. (AP)—To the plaudits of hundreds of thousands of home folk, Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, aerial conqueror of North and South poles and the Atlantic Ocean, came back today to receive a welcome such as Boston probably never has given another man.

From the moment he descended from his private car until three hours later, when he retired momentarily to the privacy of his Brimmer-street home, Byrd was the center of milling thousands whose enthusiasm seemed to know no bounds.

With him from first to last went a goodly number of his colleagues under the southern stars. There was intrepid Bernt Balchen, pilot of Byrd's three major flights; Capt. Ashley C. McKinley, photographer; Harold I. June, the expedition's co-pilot, and more than a score of others.

Gov. Allen presented the gold medallion of the commonwealth to the rear-admiral.

SEA FLYER TALKS WITH AUSTRALIA

The conversation was carried on by radio telephone.

Speaking of New York's reception to himself and the other three members of the crew of the Southern Cross, he said: "We had a marvelous reception here, marvelous—they threw paper all over.

"I'm going to dispose of the Southern Cross in San Francisco," he continued, "I'm going back to England as fast as train and boat will carry me—and that date for September stands good. Oh, I'll teach you to fly oceans."

Parade in India Led by Donkey in English Togs

SIMLA (India) June 27. (AP)—Thousands of persons followed a donkey wearing foreign clothes, an English hat and carrying a copy of the Simon commission report through the streets of India's summer capital in a procession today.

The procession wound up at the grain market, where a mass meeting was held. Hindu and Sikh speakers condemned the report, whereafter the copy was burned.

At Delhi today the police made a two-hour search of the premises of the all-India congress committee and the Satyagraha Ashram, or college. They removed copies of a pamphlet calling on the police and military to resign. No arrests were made.

ROTARIANS HEAR CALL FOR PEACE

Session Told by British Navy Man America Can Put Lid on Warfare

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP)—Tocsin calls to America to prepare for peace were delivered today by a veteran British fighting man before the convention of Rotary International at the final day's session.

Admiral Mark Kerr of the British Royal Navy (retired,) C.B., M.V.O., gave American Rotarians what he termed an eleventh commandment: "Thou shalt not go to war."

"Were America to say to nations of the world, 'Fight, and you get no help of any kind from us,'" Kerry said, "then peace might be assured.

"You cannot have a lasting peace while minds of men think of war. Let Rotary and the American press unite to spread this gospel."

English - speaking nations, with one - quarter of the world's territory and amost half of the world's population, could be welded in a union to preserve peace, Kerr said. He traced the activities of the League of Nations, saying in a few short years of League operation it had stopped several threatening crises which might have resulted in war with subsequent loss of life.

Almon E. Roth of Palo Alto, Cal., was elected president of Rotary International today. He is business manager of Stanford University.

WOOL TRUST TOLD TO END MONOPOLY

Government Orders 138 Members of Institute to Permit Competition

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—The Federal government struck today to end what it charges is a wool monopoly maintained by the wool institute.

Federal Judge Grubb of Alabama, sitting in the New York jurisdiction, enjoined the institute and its 138 members from continuing violations of the Sherman antitrust law, on complaint of government counsel that participants in the wool institute reported to it before every sales season on the subject of prices and "agreed to maintain schedules without deviation, thus eliminating all price competition."

Members of the wool institute control most of the nation's supply of woolen yarns and cloths, the complaint charges.

The institute consented to the decree.

The complaint asserted the institute is a trade association with 138 member concerns or corporations, of which thirty-five are spinners. On January 25, 1928, and since that date, it was charged, the institute and its members "have engaged in a conspiracy to restrain and have restrained interstate commerce in woolen goods and yarns."

The government also asserted the wool institute published "schedules to be maintained by its members," and on December 11, 1929, agents of eighty-four weavers of men's wear met and established prices for the spring of 1930.

DEATH CHECKS MERGER TRIAL

Youngstown-Bethlehem Writ Estopped by Tragedy

Chief Counsel Kills Self as Court Opens

Worry Over Difficult Case Assigned as Cause

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) June 27. (AP) L. A. Manchester, chief counsel for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, killed himself today at the moment of the opening of court for the third day of trial in the injunction suit to prevent merger of the Youngstown company with Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

The suicide caused abrupt adjournment of the trial after a dramatic episode in the Mahoning County Common Pleas Court. July 8 was set as the date for resumption of the hearing.

News of the attorney's act was brought to President Grace of the Bethlehem corporation in the courtroom as the score or more attorneys awaited opening of the session.

VACANT CHAIR

The chair immediately behind former Secretary of War Baker, acting as chief counsel for all the defendants in the suit, was vacant.

President Grace called Baker and Attorneys F. H. Wood and James B. Kennedy aside for a whispered conference. Judge Jenkins entered. The bailiff rapped his gavel and began the ritual. "Hear ye! Hear ye!"

"Attorney Kennedy leaped to the judge's dais and pushed that official through the door leading to chambers.

Finally Baker, Wood and Luther E. Day of Cleveland, the latter chief counsel for the stockholders fighting the merger, were called into chambers.

COURT ADJOURNED

Baker emerged first, weeping. Judge Jenkins followed. His face was white, his features drawn. "For good and sufficient reasons, this court is adjourned," he said.

Manchester's death occurred at 8:55 a.m., just five minutes before court was scheduled to open. From his own office at the headquarters of the Youngstown company on the public square, J. C. Argetsinger, associate counsel, heard a shot. He rushed into Manchester's office.

SUICIDE PLAIN

The attorney was slumped over his desk dead. A bullet had pierced his right temple. A revolver lay on the floor.

The Coroner pronounced a verdict of suicide, cause unknown.

James A. Campbell, chairman of the board, and other officials of the Youngstown company, said the attorney was overworked. They attributed his act to a nervous breakdown.

Manchester had handled legal work of the Youngstown company since it was organized. In 1917 he severed his connections with a law firm and became chief counsel of the company.

GOVERNORS TELL NEEDS OF STATES

West's Eleven Provinces Hear Spokesmen for Oil and Silver Interests

SALT LAKE CITY, June 27. (AP) The second annual western Governors' conference organized here today and prepared to resume its task as spokesman for the eleven public land States.

Gov. Emerson of Wyoming was elected chairman and a committee on resolutions, of which William R. Wallace of Utah was made the head, was called to meet tomorrow to consider a long list of proposed recommendations.

Following an address by Gov. Emerson in which he criticised the attitude of the Secretary of the Interior for what he termed his disregard of Congressional laws and court decisions in refusing to accept applications on government mineral lands, two spokesmen for western interests—Silver and oil—were heard by the conference.

W. Mont Ferry of Salt Lake City, president of the Silver Producers' Association, advanced the depreciation in price of the white metal as a principal reason for the present economic depression. Stabilizing the price of silver, he contended, would re-establish the ability of Asiatic countries to buy American goods.

Orman W. Ewing of Salt Lake City, an oil operator, condemned the present policy of the Interior Department with respect to oil on public lands and urged States affected to bring legal actions to force operation of the leasing act.

A Philosophy of Religion For Thinking Men & Women

Religion is, for me, a way of life that creates the highest human values. It includes an intellectual understanding of the world in terms of contemporary knowledge; an emotional adjustment which makes for a wholesome inner life; and a program of action in which the individual identifies himself with an ideal good beyond his own narrow being.

You are cordially invited to hear an address on this subject by E. Burdette Backus, at the First Unitarian Church, West 8th Street, just east of Vermont, Sunday at 10:50 a.m. This is the last time Mr. Backus will speak before going on a year's leave of absence.

Rigs of Three Companies in Pathway of Flames

More Than 150 Men Fighting Blaze Near Santa Paula

Rancho Sespe Force Aids in Battling Advance

SANTA PAULA, June 27.—More than 250 men were fighting a brush fire in Timber Canyon on San Cayetano Mountain this afternoon which was threatening oil wells of the Capitol, Crude and Timber Oil companies. Origin of the fire had not been determined by County Fire Warden Emerick early tonight.

The fire started about one mile above the highway, five miles east of this city. The flames spread rapidly and all available county fire material and all county firemen were sent to the scene.

As the blaze spread toward the Rancho Sespe property a large force of men from the ranch were dispatched to the scene. The Southern California Edison Company also sent all available men and equipment to aid combat the menacing flames.

The sky in the entire valley near the region was covered with dense brown smoke clouds. At some points the flames leaped as high as fifty feet in shooting up San Cayetano Mountain.

FLAMES THREATEN CHURCH OF ANGELS AT PASADENA

PASADENA, June 27. — Church of the Angels, selected by many June brides for their wedding ceremonies, was threatened by a stubborn fire which for a time ran wild this afternoon in the beautiful San Rafael Hills on the west side of the Arroyo Seco.

Twenty members of the local fire department, assisted by fifty volunteers, brought the blaze under control after it had scorched the walls of a frame garage and raced to within 150 yards of the Church of the Angels.

Late today, a fresh outbreak of the fire on the north and south fronts was reported, but firemen succeeded in halting this second onslaught before serious damage occurred. Workmen extinguished the blaze on the west side and occupants of several small homes were moving their valuables to vantage points. Employees of the city water department relieved the firemen for patrol duty tonight.

Mexican Maid Succumbs to Love of Finery

MONROVIA, June 27. — Three days after being employed as a maid in the household of Mrs. Marguerite Aseltine, 403 North Alta Vista avenue, Grace Trejo, 16-year-old Mexican girl, took jewels, lingerie and other articles valued at $250, according to Mrs. Aseltine's complaint to Constable James L. Quiggle.

Assisted by City Mother Woodland, Constable Quiggle investigated the case and after obtaining a confession from the girl committed her to Juvenile Hall.

"I love beautiful things and so I took them," the girl told City Mother Woodland.

"GOLDEN WEST" DAYS RECALLED

Owen Swift, Asserted "Claim Jumper" of Upland, for Second Time Told to Vacate What He Says is Platinum Mine on Government Property

UPLAND, June 27.—Echoes of the days of the olden West, when mining boomed colorfully, were heard here again this week when local police moved in on Owen Swift, asserted "claim jumper," and told him for a second time to move on. Swift, according to police, contends he has a platinum mine on government land. Hugh Frankish, G. T. Stamm and the Ontario Investment Company assert the land belongs to them.

On May 7 the courts of Upland granted Frankisch, Stamm and the land company a writ of restitution, ordering Swift off the property. Recently neighbors to Swift and his platinum mine were ordered off the property, which they passed over as a short cut to their homes. A no-trespassing sign was erected by Swift and the neighbors asked the police about it.

This revived the mining war again, and yesterday police called on Swift and removed his no-trespassing sign and ordered him off again. Police said today that the tract which Swift believes is his property, according to his description of its location, is half a mile away, and was recently claimed from the government by another man.

CENSUS CONFUSES JUSTICE

Attorney Granted Stay of Execution Until Status of San Jose Township Court Can be Settled

POMONA, June 27.—Raising a question as to the legality of the San Jose Township Justice Court holding increased jurisdiction under recently enacted State legislation, due to the fact that the district falls just under the 30,000 population mark necessary to maintain increased status, Attorney Charles R. Stead was today granted a ten-day stay of execution in the case of Mrs. Minnie Straley vs. O. R. Nichols. Judgment of $150 had been granted to Mrs. Straley, represented by Attorney John Loucks of this city.

Stead, as defense attorney, questions the increased jurisdiction of the court as equal to that of the Municipal Court. He qualifies his contention by citing the last census figures which show that the township has a population of 29,948 residents, or fifty-two persons short of the required 30,000 to maintain the senior-court ranking.

Higher jurisdiction was granted San Jose township with several other townships of Los Angeles county, under a new State law prior to the April 1 census.

It is understood that the appeal was filed for the purpose of settling, for the satisfaction of future litigation, the legality of the jurisdiction when the State law specifically provides for a population of 30,000.

In a statement issued today, Judge U. E. White, presiding judge of the local court, said that the Supreme Court writ making this court higher in rank than the old Justice courts, as based on estimated population figures, can be made to hold, due to the fact that the difference in actual and required population is so trivial.

MRS. DE SILVA DIES AT AZUSA RESIDENCE

AZUSA, June 27.—Mrs. Georgetta Gard De Silva, member of a pioneer Southern California family and mother of George Gard (Buddy) De Silva, song-writer of the music publishing house of De Silva, Brown & Henderson, is dead at her home here. She died Thursday night after a lingering illness.

Mrs. De Silva, who was 81 years of age, was the daughter of the late Maj. George E. Gard, former United States marshal in this district, and a niece of former Sheriff William A. Hammel. Besides her son she leaves a brother, William B. Gard of Los Angeles.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. Monday at St. Vibiana's Cathedral, Los Angeles. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery. Brant Gard, Ray Henderson, Lew Brown, Leo McCarey, David Butler and Gerald Staley are to be the pallbearers.

CONTRACTS ON CANAL TO BE MADE

Papers for All-American Canal Construction Will be Drawn Up Soon

BRAWLEY, June 27. (AP)—Plans for drafting contracts for construction of the proposed Boulder Dam all-American canal were announced today by M. J. Dowd, chief engineer of the Imperial Irrigation District.

The contracts will be drawn at a conference of members of the government reclamation bureau, the Imperial Irrigation District, and the Coachella Water Users' Association.

Dowd said the meeting would be held as soon as bureau engineers complete checking of data, which were gathered in recent government surveys of the territory to be crossed and supplied by the canal.

Firemen Lose Fight for Baby; Save Another

SANTA ANA, June 27. — Twice snatched from the jaws of death by the tireless work of firemen tiny Earl Russell, 3-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, of 2006 South Van Ness avenue, succumbed today at the Orange County Hospital to an attack of pneumonia. Firemen twice revived the child with artificial respiratory methods at his home yesterday.

Death was cheated by firemen in a second case, however, when the rescue squad revived Vincent Paul Valdez, 2 1-2-year-old boy who was seized with a serious attack of acute indigestion. The baby was unconscious when firemen arrived at his home at 3:45 a.m. today and Capt. Dwight Miller, Fire Chief John Luxembourger and R. R. Raymond worked over him more than an hour and a half before he was revived. He was reported out of danger today.

Funeral services for the Russell baby will be conducted from the Harrell & Brown funeral chapel tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Alhambra Woman to Receive Silver Trophy Honor

PASADENA, June 27.—Indicating that imagination will guide the hands of float designers as never before, "Dreams in Flowers" was announced today as the theme for the 1931 Tournament of Roses parade next New Year's Day.

The theme selected by the Tournament of Roses Association committee was suggested by Mrs. Harvey Clement of 23 North Chapel street, Alhambra, who will receive a silver trophy for winning the State-wide theme contest.

Mrs. Clement, who is the mother of two grown children, voiced her delight that after submitting many suggestions for themes in previous years without success, her efforts finally have won recognition.

The Tournament Association's theme committee is composed of Mrs. Frederick J. Mills, Mrs. Harry Coleman, Mrs. A. J. Wingard, Leroy D. Ely, C. Hal Reynolds, Harlan Hall and William Dunkerley.

Many Spurious Checks Charged Against Woman

VENTURA, June 27. — Sixteen complaints charging that Maud E. Jenkins, 31-year-old resident of Simi, issued fictitious checks on Ventura county business men and private citizens were filed in justice court late today by the District Attorney's office. She was arraigned on the sixteen counts this afternoon before Justice Melvern Dimmick.

Confession to passing the sixteen checks in this county was wrung from the woman today by Dist.-Atty. James C. Hollingsworth. The checks total nearly $150, and most were cashed at Piggly Wiggly and former Daley stores throughout the county, arresting officers said.

In addition to the Ventura county operations, Mrs. Jenkins has admitted passing bad checks in many cities in the San Fernando Valley, according to the District Attorney's office.

The woman operated in this county from August to November of 1929, and during May and June of this year, it was asserted by authorities. She was arrested Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Freeman Bliss at a Simi residence. She is the mother of four children, the officers stated.

Peach Growers Signing Up in Cannery Pool

CHINO, June 27.—The task of "signing up" peach growers in the Ontario-Chino pool was under way today, following a meeting of the pool members here last night on call of Ashley Bliss, Ontario, president of the pool. One hundred peach growers attended the meeting. Several of them signed up for the pool, while others are holding off, wishing to study the situation more closely.

John R. Cameron, Ontario grower, secretary of the pool, read reports of a survey showing the situation in Northern California in chaotic condition. Such a situation will exist in Southern California unless a strong pool is organized, he said.

Cannery officials are opposed to the $30-per-ton price set by the Canners' League recently in a meeting in Northern California, it was said, holding this price too high to pay. Local growers are also opposed to the $30 price, declaring it is far too low.

The peach pool is organized for the purpose of having all growers "lump" their crops and sell to canners at one stipulated price. The growers have been called together for another meeting here the evening of July 3 at 8 o'clock.

SANTA BARBARA, June 27.—Gift to the city of a $1000 power-boat for policing the harbor by Maj. Max C. Fleischmann, was announced today just as the city was preparing to honor the wealthy yeast manufacturer for his huge financial contributions for the building of the $650,000 breakwater. A bronze plaque for the pier commemorating the gift to the city of the major portion of the breakwater by Maj. Fleischmann was authorized by the Council, at the suggestion of Chairman E. W. Alexander of the Harbor Commission. Another plaque will bear the names of the engineers and contractors and the Harbor Commissioners engaged in its construction. The name of Harry Doulton, who died while a member of the commission, will be included.

The plaques will be placed on the pillars at the entrance to the pier promenade.

Resolution ordering advertisements for bids to construct a service station on the breakwater for boats fas adopted by the City Council at the request of the Harbor Commission. The city will receive a revenue from the sale of gasoline and oil, according to the plans of the commission.

Another Trial in Grapefruit Theft Looms

REDLANDS, June 27.—Jesus Chaves is back in jail and must stand trial again on a charge of stealing grapefruit. A jury in the court of Judge C. G. Potter today failed to reach an agreement on his guilt or innocence and was discharged.

Harvey and Kenneth Williams of Highland testified that they nabbed Chaves on the night of May 14. They said the Mexican sat in an automobile at the edge of a grove while a companion loaded three sacks of fruit into the car. When the youths halted the machine the second man fled, they said.

Chaves countered with testimony to the effect that a stranger had entered his automobile at Highland and Waterman avenues, San Bernardino, pressed a gun against the driver's ribs and ordered him to drive to the grove. Then the stranger took the automobile keys from Chaves while he filled the car with fruit, the latter averred.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. F. O. Thompson prosecuted the case. Defense attorneys were D. W. Richards and Donald P. Mayhew of San Bernardino.

Reduction Asked in Water Rate at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, June 27.—Reduction of water rates for wholesale quantities is asked of the City Council by the Associated Manufacturers of San Diego in a communication filed today by the executive secretary, J. D. Pritchard. The present rate is 20 cents per 1000 gallons, it is stated. Competition with manufacturing concerns of Los Angeles or Long Beach is handicapped by a higher water rate here, the petitioners assert. Los Angeles charges 5.7 cents and Long Beach 6.5 cents per 1000 gallons, according to the local manufacturers. In their application for a lower rate the local manufacturers say that this city has lost a number of important manufacturing institutions seeking new locations for the reason the projectors considered the water rate here too high. The applicants say that the increase in pay roll, the employment of local citizens and a greater activity by reason of more factories would more than make up the value of the loss between the present water rate and a less rate to be charged, which is asked. No amount for the proposed new rate is stated by the applicants. When the Council begins work on the budget of the operating department it is quite likely a revision of water rates will be suggested and considered, as Mayor Harry C. Clark says he intends to bring up the issue as petitioned for by the manufacturers.

Fruit Storage Suit Completed

YUCAIPA, June 27.—The suit of King Laboratories, Inc., of Yucaipa against the Yucaipa Valley Fruit Company for peaches stored at the King plant last year was taken under advisement by Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warmer yesterday. Verbal testimony was completed yesterday noon, after four days of trial, and the respective attorneys will submit their cases by briefs.

Upward of fifty witnesses of Yucaipa Valley and other places were called. Yucaipa Valley Fruit Company had filed a counter-suit asserting heavy loss of fruit that had occurred because of assertedly improper storage and refrigeration. The evidence throughout was directly contradictory and confusing, Judge Warmer declaring he could give no decision until the contending parties' briefs had been studied.

FIRST BEACON TAVERN OPEN

Millions of Dollars to be Invested in Chain of Hostelries Along Roads and Airlanes

BARSTOW, June 27.—This little desert town tonight witnessed in the formal opening of the Beacon Tavern the first of an epochal move in Pacific Coast Hotel circles, in the words of Paul D. Howse of Los Angeles, president of Highway Communities Corporation, Ltd. It is the first unit, he said, of a multimillion-dollar chain of moderately priced overnight hotels to be situated on national or State highways and airlanes at convenient points from the Mexican border to the Canadian border.

The occasion was a gala fiesta in this new fifty-room hotel of pure Spanish Southwest design, furnishings and atmosphere and was attended by such Los Angeles persons of prominence as Mr. Howse, president of Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation; John B. Miller, chairman of the board of Southern California Edison Corporation, who is chairman of the board of Highway Communities Corporation, Ltd.; Henry M. Robinson, chairman of the board of Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles and a director in the Communities Corporation; President Fuller of Richfield Oil Company; other officials of the Richfield concern; Manager Burt Heinly of the corporation, and many others.

TROUBADOURS PLAY

They held what easterners call a "housewarming" and danced to the music of Jose Arias's Mexican Troubadours, watched Spanish dancers reel off La Jota, and otherwise dedicated the new enterprise, which they declared will mean a new day in accommodations for auto and airplane tourists along the chain of seven or nine hotels and twenty to twenty-five cafes that the corporation is to build and operate through closely controlled leases.

The Beacon Tavern here, as each of the hotels is to be called, cost about $180,000 to build and equip. In another building is the Beacon Cafe, opened some weeks ago. The hotel is two stories high, and of gray stucco with red tile roof. Inside and out it carries what is declared to be a true Spanish type with specially made furniture of a design not to be reproduced elsewhere. Notwithstanding the elaborateness of the place, it is to accommodate guests at $3 for a single room or $4 for two.

ALL TO BE ALIKE

The accommodations include tiled bath in each room, special garage service, steam heat in winter and summer air refrigerated to 18 deg. below outside temperature, and many other special features.

Each of the other places that the corporation is to build is to be virtually identical in appearance, accommodations and service, Heinly said. The next is to be begun as soon as experience with this develops possible improvement in details, or within ninety to 120 days, it was announced. It probably will be, Heinly said, at Santa Maria, Visalia County Airport or Capistrano Beach.

FOLLOW AIR BEACONS

He said that the corporation already owns all the sites to be used and that it will spend between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 on buildings and equipment.

Frank Miratti, Jr., of Santa Barbara, will operate the hotels and K. C. Sanders of Los Angeles will operate the cafes under leases that permit of considerable management, if desired, on the part of the corporation in order to provide uniform service throughout the chain.

The units are to be located exclusively along the chain of Richfield Airways beacons, which guide night airships in passage.

GARDEN READY TO SIGN BOUT

Max's German Pilot Agrees to Terms of Peace

Contracts of Fighters Will be Presented Tuesday

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, June 27. (Exclusive) After holding out for nearly a week Arthur Von Bulow, former manager of Max Schmeling, capitulated today to the terms of the peace pact offered by the Madison Square Garden Corporation. This means that the return fight between the German champion and Jack Sharkey, with the world's heavyweight title at stake, will take place at the Yank Stadium on either September 18 or 25.

MAX SCHMELING

While nothing to bind the match has been put in writing as yet, Frank Bruen, general manager of the Garden, announced after a conference with Von Bulow and his lawyers today that next Tuesday he will present the signed contracts of both fighters to the State Athletic Commission for official approval.

Under the terms of his conditional surrender of whatever financial claims he may have against Schmeling, Von Bulow has agreed to entrust the Garden corporation with the collection of 20 per cent of whatever Schmeling gets out of the second Sharkey fight. The Garden, as earlier agreed, will deduct that amount from Sharkey's 12 1-2 per cent, thus leaving the 37 1-2 per cent that the champion is to receive free and clear of managerial cuts.

Although Schmeling was sailing back to Germany at midnight tonight aboard the Bremen he left a signed blank contract behind with his manager, Joe Jacobs, who will see that it is filled in, in accordance with Max's wishes.

"I'm going back to visit my mother who is ill," said Max tonight. "But I will return about the middle of August to start training for the Sharkey fight."

When Sam Mandell and Al Singer, who are to fight for the world's lightweight title here July 17, appeared before the State Athletic Commission today and requested that the foul rule be changed so that neither boxer can win on a foul the commissioners were so astonished by the odd request they told the boys to return after they had thought it over.

CHAMACO WINS AGAIN

Joe Chamaco won his fifteenth straight billiard match last night at Stevens's Billard Parlor when he defeated Harold Baker in forty-nine innings by a score 35-30. Chamaco had a high run of 7, while Baker's best effort was a mark of 5. This was Chamaco's last appearance here.

THREE YOUNGSTERS WIN

Wilmer Allison, Johnny Doeg and Gregory Mangin Advance to Semifinals at Wimbledon

BY FRANK H. KING

Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON (Eng.) June 27. (AP)—Three youthful Americans rose to brilliant tennis heights today to stroke their way into the quarterfinal round of the Wimbledon championships as they dealt a blow to England's titular aspirations.

Wilmer Allison, the young Texan, and the equally as youthful Johnny Doeg from California and Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., won their way into the last eight along with Henri Cochet, the wiry little defending champion from France, at the expense of the English. Big Bill Tilden, the ace of the American invaders, and George Lott, United States No. 4 ranking player, may increase the United States representation in the final eight to five, when they meet their British empire opponents in the fourth round tomorrow.

WILMER ALLISON.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Miss Helen Jacobs, America's ranking women stars, also sailed through their matches today, each losing one game. Mrs. Moody made short work of her match with Miss M. Canter, Holland star, 6-0, 6-1, while Miss Jacobs defeated Mrs. W. D. List of England by the same score.

King George and Queen Mary were today to see the stars in action but nobody showed any mercy to the home players because of that. Mrs. Moody and Miss Canter even ran the risk of being criticised by keeping Her Majesty waiting for their appearance on the center court.

The crowd became impatient and applauded until the girls made their appearance. Both wore stockings. Stockings may be just stockings in the United States but they're a major issue at Wimbledon. The unwritten law that women must not appear on the famous center court without their legs covered is understood to have had its origin in a desire of the authorities not to risk Her Majesty's disapproval.

As for tennis, Mrs. Moody played her usual sort, winning as she pleased. Her next opponent will be Phyllis Mudford, who beat Miss

STARS CAPTURE FOURTH IN ROW

Six-Run Rally Snows Under Senators in Sixth

Solons Tamed by Hollerson With Seven Safeties

Barbee, Severeid, Hill Lead Attack for Vittmen

BY BOB RAY

Oscar Vitt's scrapping Stars completed their task of shoving Sacramento out of first place yesterday, when they handed the Solons their fourth straight setback, 8 to 2, to enable Jack Lelivelt's Angels to step into the league leadership.

DAVE BARBEE

A six-run splurge in the sixth inning by the Hollywooders sank the Sacs and tumbled them out of first place. Seven ringing hits, including a couple of singles by Dave Barbee, made that six-run rally possible and drove Tom Flynn to the showers a bit earlier than he expected.

Sacramento had just succeeded in tying the score, 2-all, in its half of the sixth but the Hollywood demonstration took all the starch out of the boys from the heart of California.

HOLLERSON IN FORM

The Stars banged out sixteen safeties off the left-handed offerings of Flynn and Rufus Smith, Barbee, Jesse Hill and Hank Severeid, all getting three each.

Barbee's first hit was a home run into the center field bleachers in the third inning. Lee was on base at the time so the blow accounted for the Sheiks' first two runs. It was Barbee's fifth homer in the ten games since he joined Skipper Vitt's outfit and his fourteenth circuit clout of the season.

In order to present more of a right-handed punch against southpaw pitching, Vitt tried Harry Green on third base and used Bill Rumler in the outfield. There's plenty of grief for portsiders in that Hollywood line-up now with Hill, Barbee, Rumler, Green and Severeid all batting from the right side of the plate.

SACS SCORE FIRST

Sacramento started the scoring in the second when, after two were out, Eldred, Wirts and Flynn slapped out successive singles for a run. Barbee's throw to Severeid arrived in time to convince Umpire Cady that Wirts was out at the plate trying to

MERMAID BREAKS RECORD

Eleanor Holm Establishes New World's Mark in Tankfest at L.A.A.C.

One world's record and a series of pulse-quickening performances at the Los Angeles Athletic Club last night, served to introduce to Southern California the galaxy of swimming stars who will take part in the national championships at Long Beach from July 3 to 6.

Pretty Eleanor Holm, 16-year-old star of the Women's Swimming Association of New York, set the world's mark when she shattered the backstroke time for 400 yards by thrashing the distance in 5m. 52 1-5s. The old record was held by the late Sybil Bauer. It was 6m. 10s.

ELEANOR HOLM

Miss Holm broke the record, it seemed, without drawing a hard breath. Swimming against time she simply glided up and down the pool as though she was on an afternoon's outing. With any kind of competition, the experts think she would have established a mark that might stand for years. As it is she will probably break the record she established last night the next time she tries.

The big kick of the meet came in the match races between men and women stars. Helene Madison, northwestern Amazon, defeated Josephine McKim, L.A.A.C. mermaid, in a head-to-head finish in

RUTH SMASHES ANOTHER HOMER

Babe's Twenty-seventh No Help to Yankees

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians found a favorite relative in "Cousin" George Pipgras today and evened the series by winning the second game from the Yankees, 11 to 7.

BABE RUTH

They drove Pipgras from the mound in the fifth inning, making the seventh straight time in two seasons they have sent him to the showers.

Cleveland broke its losing streak by piling up sixteen hits off Pipgras and Ownie Carroll, including homers by

LAST CALIFORNIAN LOSES IN COLLEGE NET PLAY

HAVERFOLD (Pa.) June 27. (AP)—The last Californian was squeezed out of the national intercollegiate singles tennis championship today, while a player from the deep South and another from the East remain to clash for the title tomorrow.

Dolf Muehleisen of the University of California, met defeat in the semifinals, but forced Julius Seligson, Lehigh University, to struggle through five sets before he succumbed. The scores were 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 10-12, 6-4.

Seligson, seeded No. 1 and winner of this tournament two years ago, clashes in the final tomorrow with Clifford Sutter of Tulane University, who defeated Donald Cram of Vanderbilt University, 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Seligson and Sutter will play for the title Berkeley Bell of the University of Texas, won last year. Bell is with the United States Davis Cup team in Europe.

California was not shut out of the picture altogether, however, for the doubles team of Muehleisen and Robert Muench of the University of California, defeated Eddie Jacobs and David O'Laughlin of Pittsburgh, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6, in one of the semifinals.

This pair will meet in the finals tomorrow, Stanley Almquist and Sherman Lockwood of Oregon University, who triumphed over Sutter and Maurice Dayon of Tulane, 10-12, 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5 in the other semifinal.

HUSKIES DENY THREAT TO PASS UP CREW RACE

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 27. (AP)—The college rowing colony perched on the banks of the Hudson River for the past three weeks disappeared almost overnight following upon yesterday's races and today found only the stragglers leaving.

All the oarsmen and coaches had gone by nightfall. Everyone left singing the praises of the great Cornell varsity that brought back the intercollegiate rowing title to Ithaca after a lapse of fifteen years.

The two far western crews, Washington and California, were the last to leave the city. The Huskies closed their rowing season with a crew dinner at which Richard Curly Harris of Seattle was elected captain for next year.

California disbanded as a crew and the oarsmen will make their way home individually and gradually. Many spent tonight in New York City.

Wisconsin's crews left the city for New York to attend the annual dinner given by the alumni after which they were to break up for the season.

The reported criticism of the policing of the varsity race, current in the city last night, disappeared with the morning sun and not an adverse word was heard.

Coaches Al Ulbrickson of Washington and Mike Murphy of Wisconsin both declared they had no fault to find with the handling of the race and asserted they intended to be back in the regatta next year and for many years after that.

TROJAN TITLE HOPES RUINED

S.C. Star Loses Match by Score of 8 and 7

Moller of Notre Dame Beats Phillips Finlay

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKMONT (Pa.) June 27. (AP)—The collegiate golf championship of 1930 has demonstrated the medalist in the qualifying round is not always jinxed when the match play begins.

WINSTON FULLER.

Current competition had two medalists, George T. Dunlap, Jr., of Princeton, and Lawrence Moller of Notre Dame, and they are the only survivors in the record field.

Dunlap had a comparatively easy road today to the final match, winning from Winston Fuller of Southern California, 8 up and 7 to play, in a thirty-six-hole match, but Moller had to battle for thirty-seven holes before he got down a birdie 4 at the extra hole to eliminate Phillips Finlay, Harvard captain.

When Moller and Dunlap tied at 153 for the thirty-six holes of the qualifying round, officials of the intercollegiate association suggested they arrange for a play-off to decide possession of the medal.

Tomorrow will bring the first convenient occasion so the player who leads after the first eighteen holes will get the pretty gold medal with the blue ribbon.

The youth able to outlast the other over the marathon thirty-six holes at the Oakmont Country Club will be acclaimed best college golfer in the United States.

Dunlap's play against Fuller was brilliant after a slow start. The Princeton youth required forty strokes for the first nine in the morning, but the Trojan took one more and Dunlap was 1 up at the first turn.

The former Pinehurst star played the last ten holes of the morning round in par figures to go 7 up at the end of the eighteen. He followed this remarkable performance by averaging par for the first ten holes in the afternoon. He started the second round by scoring birdies at the nineteenth and twentieth holes and he was over par on only two holes.

is sounded sending the racing craft away on the 137-mile sailing battle.

Commodore Owen Churchill's eight-meter sloop Babe, the boat that won the race last year, may be an added starter. She was withdrawn by Churchill by reason of the fact that he was making a trip east, but last night it was learned Owen Dresden is preparing to sail her today. Dresden recently sold his six-meter sloop Clio.

Another story from the harbor had Dresden as the new owner of the King of Spain Trophy winner Marin. If that is the case, he will sail her and not the Babe.

There is a possibility that Lazard Lippman may not start his Tolayaha today, but he had not withdrawn, according to Paul Hiller, chairman of the regatta committee, up to a late hour last night. There was some rumor along the water front that Mr. Lippman was having trouble getting a complete crew to handle his craft.

The winning trophy is a silver replica of the sloop Westward, owned by Syl Spaulding. This beautiful prize goes to the first boat crossing the finish line. Rex B. Clarke, Lake Norconian Club sportsman, has donated a cup for the boat that finishes first on corrected time. The California Yacht under whose auspices the event is staged, has three cups up for the various classes entered.

The San Clemente Island race was founded in 1924 and has been one of the most popular Southern California yachting events with all classes of boats since.

Paul Hiller will start the race promptly at high noon, he announced last night.

W. W. Pedder and his schooner Diablo have finished first three times in the past in the San Clemente race and Pedder is anxious to register a fourth victory. Among the new boats that will face the starter today is the latest boat to slip down the ways into local waters, the Endymion, owned by Don Douglas.

Dr. J. Park Dougal, past commodore of the California Yacht Club, and one of the leading figures in Southland yachting, will make the trip along to Honolulu on Morgan Adams's Enchantress. Dr. Dougal announced to friends yesterday that he was to sail. Nelson Taylor, Ellis Taylor, Dan Lauberschiemer, George Keating, Ken Kerry and Hugh Mann will also go along on the Adams boat.

Morgan Adams announced yesterday that Harold Dillingham, who is now on his way here from Honolulu, will sail back with him.

PALMER ANNEXES TITLE

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Ray Palmer of Malba, N. Y., won the eastern junior singles tennis championship today, defeating Russell Galloway of Sacramento, Cal., 6-3, 1-2, 6-2, in the final round.

Jones's Grip Aids Golfers

HOLD IT THERE FIRMLY DURING SWING
6-26

BY SOL METZGER

If you will grip your club, much as does Bobby Jones, you won't have much trouble with your right elbow running wild and causing you to slice when playing golf.

Bobby puts his left hand on the club with a finger grip. The left thumb straight down the back of the shaft. The right hand is then applied. He fits the crease in the heel of his right hand over the left thumb and sees that the pressure here is firm throughout his swing.

I suggest you try it. You'll notice at once the tendency for your right elbow to stay close to the right side. When that happens the old curse, your slice, gets a body blow. All because you can rather easily swing your clubhead through the ball from inside the line.

Cure that hook or slice. Straighten out your drive by writing Sol Metzger, care of The Times, for free leaflet on "Driving." Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

The German yacht Michl again led the way today. Kickerle finished second with the American entries, Oriole, Sewaing and Yankee, crossing the line in that order.

ELGEN MOORE COPS BOUT

SACRAMENTO, June 27. (AP)—Freddy Hoppe, San Francisco middleweight, tonight took a six-round beating from Elgen Moore, Seattle, in the main event of the benefit card staged at the L-street arena by the West End Charity Club. There were no knockdowns and the fight for the most part was dull, principally because Hoppe failed to make a fight out of it.

IMPERIAL AIR WINNER

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt's Imperial Air, which won only one race in twelve starts as a juvenile and failed in eight attempts as a 3-year-old, scored in brilliant fashion over the Aqueduct turf today to win the Hindoo claiming stakes.

ANDERSON DEFEATED BY MILLER

Jewish Battler Outclasses Rival to Annex Decision in Hollywood Main Go

BENNY MILLER

Benny won every round and at no time seemed to be in any danger of losing the affair. Referee Frank Holborow had no trouble in deciding the winner, Miller had that big an edge.

The tenth round was a thriller. Miller landing a terrific right-hand smash that sent Anderson crashing over the ropes, almost out of the ring. Anderson bounced out of the ropes and Benny caught him with another right that sent him to the floor. After taking a count, Babe got up and showed great courage by sticking out the round.

Anderson had been on the canvas twice before the tenth session, taking a nine count in the third and a no-count in the first. Miller had Babe groggy in the first session but Anderson didn't take any count regaining his feet immediately.

Miller put up a great fight and defeated a good boxer as well as a dangerous hitter in Anderson, who is an old hand at the fight racket. Miller's left jab kept a cut open over Babe's left eye throughout the affair, while his right hand staggered Anderson continually.

Bad News Johnson was too fast for Ray Spiker in the six-round semi-wind-up, taking the decision. The bout was a regular rough-house brawl with plenty of slugging by both parties.

Young Papke won on a technical knockout over Jess Vasquez in the special event, Vasquez's seconds tossing in the towel at the start of the sixth round. Papke, who has an awful wallop in his right hand, gave the Mexican a bad beating. Vasquez dropped to the canvas for a nine count in the second round, took an eight count in the third and was badly licked in the fourth and fifth.

Referee Jack McDonald had quite a bit of trouble in picking the winners in the two preliminaries. McDonald called the Mike Cardova-Bozo Kamisher battle a draw, with Cardova winning all the way, while in the curtain raiser, McDonald picked Domingo Topez over Marcelino Lomelli, when Lomelli should have had the nod.

All-Star Mat Card Planned

A more attractive all-star card than the one he presented this week is being planned by Promoter Lou Daro for the Olympic, July 9.

With Everett Marshall already signed to meet Joe Stecher in the finish feature event of the next program, the promoter was busy yesterday trying to line up such stars as Lee Wycoff, Joe Malcewicz, Don George, Dr. Karl Sarpolis and Nick Lutze to appear in the other matches.

The one grappler of this quartet Daro hopes to sign for the next card is Wycoff. The lanky Missourian gave Marshall as tough a match as he received at the hands of Ed (Strangler) Lewis. Wycoff's speed and ability with the toe-holds marked him as one of the outstanding wrestlers.

CIRCUIT RACES.

TOLEDO (O.) June 27. (AP)—The second event of the getaway program of Grand Circuit races at Fort Miami Park tonight developed into the feature with Betty Symbol, driven by both Val and Parshall, winning the twenty class pace in four heats.

The bay mare finished sixth behind Laddie Mac in the first heat and fifth as Peter Merriman won in the second.

After Betty Symbol won the third heat, Peter Merriman pulled up lame and was drawn from the race-off. Betty Symbol easily pulled away from Laddie Mac in the stretch in the fourth heat.

Horses and horsemen began their departure tonight for North Randall, Cleveland, where the Grand Circuit resumes Monday afternoon.

Mary Ann Guy, driven by Bob Plaxico, won the twenty-four class trot after finishing second to Jake Mahoney's Guy Leaf in the first heat.

RAMAGE KAYOES DUMLER IN FIRST

SAN DIEGO, June 27. (AP)—Lee Ramage, San Diego light-heavyweight, knocked out Andy Dumler, San Francisco, in the first round of a scheduled six-round bout here tonight. Ramage caught Dumler with a terrific right to the jaw. The San Francisco heavy had to be carried to his corner and it was a matter of several minutes before he could be revived and leave the ring.

The bout lasted just two minutes and forty-seven seconds and there was not a stiff punch landed below the chin. Ramage hit Dumler twice previous to the knockout with right-hand punches but they were high on the jaw. The rest of the time saw both boys sparring for openings and employing a left jab.

RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

THE CARNERA SHADOW

THERE is a general suspicion that Madison Square Garden officials aren't as keen as they pretend to be about a Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey repeat fight this summer.

The reason is Primo Carnera's victory over George Godfrey at Philadelphia.

Say what you will about the situation, a champion who wins the heavyweight crown while reclining on one ear in the resin is not a magnificent box office attraction.

And synthetic or not, Schmeling and his managers don't want to risk that crown for another year.

Carnera is real fistic bait. Killer or palooka, he draws.

In this connection the remarks of Walter Trumbull, who writes for the Newspaper Association of North America, are to the point:

"The customers don't care what the arrangements are. What they want is to see Carnera. He is an exhibit. The throng flocks to view him just as it went to see John Ringling's sea elephant, the blood-sweating behemoth."

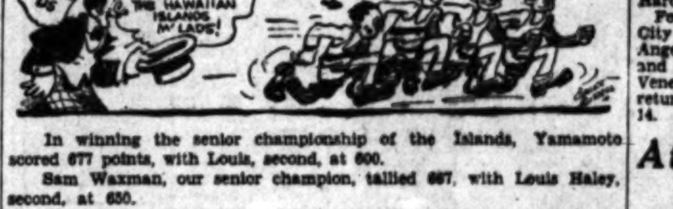
A JUNIOR OLYMPIC BATTLE

THEIR chief rivals—the Hawaiian Junior Olympic champions—having preceded them by two days, the Southern California delegation in charge of John F. Ness of The Times pulls out tomorrow for the finals at Atlantic City the week of July 9-11.

Last year the Southern California boys swept the competition in both junior and senior divisions in the eastern finals.

But this year it is likely to be a different story. Our boys probably will have to divide honors with the Hawaiians, proof of the old saying that the farther west you go the better the athletes grow.



US
our local boys

Sam Waxman, our senior champion, tallied 687, with Louis Haley, second, at 650.

The edge is more pronounced in favor of Hawaii's junior champion—Ouchi—who scored 668 points to win the title, while our representative, Joe Andrade, registered 625 points. Our second place boy was close to Andrade, Johnny Lee tallying 624, while Arakawa of the Islands scored 600.

The recapitulation shows the Hawaiian representatives to have the potential first-place winners and Southern California the second-division winners. Our boys, therefore will have to outstrip their best competitive efforts to date if they win at Atlantic City.

A MERRIWELL STUNT

CORNELL'S first Poughkeepsie regatta victory in fifteen years must have been sweet, indeed.

Particularly when the big Red crew had a sophomore Dick Merriwell at stroke, a substitute who stepped into the boat at the last minute and paced his boat to a stunning triumph over the favorites.

Robert M. Wilson will live long in Cornell annals for that feat.

He helped the Red pick up the thread of victory cut short by the end of Pop Courtney's regime in 1915, and that is enough for all sons of old Cornell.

Fans Order Draw Verdict

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 27. (AP)—After a dramatic thirty-minute argument in the ring with the referee, judges, Boxing Commissioners, promoters and fans taking part, a draw decision was officially rendered in the Wesley Ketchel-Joe Anderson six-round boxing bout after Ketchel had been declared the winner here tonight.

The trouble started when the commissioners looked over the three votes following Referee McCarthy's decision giving Ketchel victory. The two judges had each voted for a draw while the referee favored Ketchel.

The third man in the ring believed he was to decide the result and raised Ketchel's hand.

Joe Waterman, promoter, hopped into the ring and, after explaining the situation, told the fans to make their own decision. They put up a howl and the commissioners huddled with the judges and the referee and finally decided to change the decision.

WHICHONE NOT TO RUN AT AQUEDUCT

NEW YORK, June 27. (Exclusive) — Harry Payne Whitney's Whichone will not run in the Dwyer stakes tomorrow, it became known at Aqueduct today. The great son of Chicle, which was the 2-year-old champion of 1929 and suffered defeat by Gallant Fox in the Belmont stakes, has suffered a quarter crack which will throw him out of training for an indefinite period. Whichone's name was withdrawn from the Dwyer field early today, leaving only three to run: Gallant Fox, Flaming and Limbus.

LATONIA DERBY TO BE RUN OFF TODAY

LATONIA (Ky.) June 27. (AP)—The forty-eighth renewal of the Latonia Derby, worth $25,000 added, for 3-year-olds, will feature the opening tomorrow of Latonia's thirty-seven-day summer thoroughbred meeting.

Out of 108 nominations the starting field was reduced to eight horses, Gallant Knight, which finished second to Gallant Fox in the Kentucky Derby, being established as the favorite. Gallant Knight also has the Fairmount Derby to his credit. Second choice was placed in Bezonian, and third in Reveille Boy, a rank outsider until his victory in the American Derby.

Game, but only a shell of the fine little fighter of a year ago, Stetson took a bad body beating throughout the bout. His punching was weak, while Hernandez drove his punches steadily to win eight rounds, two being even.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC BOYS TO LEAVE

Local Champions Off for East Tomorrow

Southern California's four Junior Olympic Games champions will leave Los Angeles tomorrow night for Atlantic City to participate in the national finals there July 7-13. Those making the trip are Sam Waxman, senior winner; Louis Haley of San Bernardino, runner-up to Waxman; Joe Andrade of Calexico, junior champ, and Johnny Lee of Highland Park, runner-up to Andrade.

SAM WAXMAN

The party will be in charge of John F. Ness of The Times. Arthur Dietz, well-known local playground director, will also accompany the boys East.

The local youngsters are following the eastern trail blazed by the Hawaiian delegation which left here last night after spending three days in this city after arriving here from Honolulu.

Ez Crane and his four youngsters departed at 6:15 after spending a big day sightseeing, the tour including a trip to the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio in Culver City. The Hawaiians were guests at the Alexandria Hotel while in this city.

Those in the Honolulu delegation, besides Crane and his wife, are Cupie Yamamoto, Tony Louis, Harou Ouchi and Kazuo Arakawa.

Following the meet in Atlantic City both the Hawaiian and Los Angeles parties will go to New York and sail on the Panama Mail liner Venezuela for Latin America. They return here approximately August 14.

Athletes of Yesteryear Meet Today

Athletes of yesterday, from high schools and colleges of Southern California will don the shorts and gym shirts again today to take part in one of the largest industrial track-and-field meets to be held in Southern California this year, at the Union Pacific Knickerbocker field.

There will be more than ten teams representing leading organizations of the city and State here to compete for the list of numerous prizes and cups including the trophy donated by Maurice De Mond, president of the Breakfast Club, which was won by the Union Pacific team in 1929. This cup must be held three years in succession to become the permanent property of any team.

Already the Los Angeles City Engineers' Association and the Los Angeles Fire Department, have a leg on the cup. Other teams that will be represented this year are Southern California Telephone and Telegraph Company, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, Caslon Printing Company, Citizens Print Shop, T. V. Allen Company, Adams-Goodman Company, and the A. G. Spaulding Company.

Stanley Cops Spot at Ascot

While Francis Quinn, Walt May and Jimmy Sharp are installed as the three favorites in tomorrow afternoon's final Sunday afternoon auto racing program of the summer, many of the fans who journey to the Legion Ascot Speedway are expected to focus much of their attention on a newcomer from Michigan named Wirt Stanley.

Stanley, who wheels No. 84, proved one of the sensations of the season with his dare-devil exhibition of driving last Sunday. The Michigan pilot was unaccustomed to the difficult curves of the five-eighths-of-a-mile saucer, but nevertheless he proceeded to set a dazzling pace and to negotiate the bends at almost the same speed as the straightaways.

McCrary to Play Manion for Title

BROADMOOR COUNTRY CLUB (Colorado Springs, Colo.) June 27. (AP)—The trans-Mississippi golf championship will be decided tomorrow between Jimmy Manion of St. Louis and Bob McCrary of Des Moines, Iowa. The thirty-six-hole finals will be a duel of champions, Manion having won the trans-Mississippi title in 1924 and the Iowa Scot the honor last year at Omaha.

The result of today's semi-final matches was just about as expected. Manion's superiority in driving and approaching gave him a 10 and 8 victory over Walter Crooks, former Colorado State champion, and McCrary's steadiness overcame the at-times brilliant Logan Van Zandt, 46-year-old Tulsa campaigner, 8 and 7.

DOEG, ALLISON WIN MATCHES

Of the three American men who won today, Mangin had the hardest fight and covered himself with the greatest glory by defeating H. W. (Bunny) Austin, Britain's foremost singles star, 9-7, 10-8, 6-3.

The King and Queen arrived just in time to see the Newark youth draw level at eight games all in the second set and then win the next two games. It was a great match, with Austin probably the more finished player as far as individual strokes were concerned. His match spirit and staying powers, however, could not be compared with the American's.

Allison and G. P. Hughes, English Davis Cup member, carried on an exciting match, each batting for the advantage at the net but the swift Texan finally emerged with the honors, winning, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Doeg's powerful southpaw service and volleying compensated for his lapses on ground strokes and the Californian brought in the third American singles victory as he defeated H. F. David of England, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

America's supremacy in the singles failed to carry over into the doubles, although the invaders from across the Atlantic managed to get an even break. Tilden advanced in two phases of play. Paired with his Dutch partner, H. Timmer, he defeated Pierre Landry and Grandguillot, a French combination, 8-6, 4-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. With Fraulein Cecilie Aussem of Germany as his partner, the American ace downed J. Van Der Heide and Miss M. R. Souquerque in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

The youthful combination of Mangin and Sarah Palfrey of Boston, defeated W. A. R. Collins and Miss G. R. Sterry of Great Britain, 6-2, 6-3, but Miss Palfrey, paired with Fraulein Aussem lost in the women's doubles to Mrs. L. Colegate and Miss C. Tyrell, the English team winning, 6-8, [illegible], 7-5.

The Lott-Jacobs team lost in the mixed doubles as did Berkeley Bell and Miss Greef, the former falling before Patrick Spence and Miss Betty Nuthall of England, 1-6, 7-5, 6-2, and the latter to A. J. Willard of Britain and Miss S. Payot, Swiss champion, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

DOUBLE MAIN EVENT ON CURTIS RING CARD

A Japanese and a Mexican will be featured in the double main event of two six-round bouts at the Main-street tonight. Kano Nakamura, recently returned from a trip to Japan where he won a number of bouts, meets Harry Grey, Portland featherweight, in one six, and Pete Pacheco, Denver Mexican welter, tackles Howard Fritz in the wind-up. Both Nakamura and Pacheco will be strong favorites. The latter has scored two knockouts in as many starts here and is out to make it three in a row.

Polo Mendoza boxes Tony Archer in the four-round special. They are bantamweights. The three four-round preliminaries are: Manual Davila vs. Jack Grande, 148 pounds; Adam Morage vs. Lucky Baldwin, 135 pounds, and June Lagera vs. Angel Vincent, 112 pounds.

Big Six

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Frank O'Doul gave the big six a lesson in hitting yesterday and in doing so, he moved from fourth to first place in the standing. The Phillies southpaw went to bat five times and hit two doubles and two triples to add nine points to his average and displace his teammate, Chuck Klein, from the top.

Klein hit only once in five tries. Sam Rice of Washington, slammed out three hits in four times up and replaced Mickey Cochrane, going into fifth place at .395, only a point behind Al Simmons.

The Philadelphians slumped badly, Simmons getting only a home run in six times at bat. Babe Ruth hit three times in five times at bat, inserting his twenty-seventh home run, and gained five points. Paul Waner dropped three with one hit in four times up, but held third place.

Calendar of Grunion Runs

HERMOSA BEACH, June 27.—Quite a number of excursions are scheduled for the grunion during the month of July. The little silver fish that come up on the sands every year to spawn will start performing on July 11. According to Capt. J. M. Anderson, skipper of the big Olympic fishing barge and an authority on anything pertaining to ocean angling, the best time to watch the grunion is at night between the hours of 10:30 p.m. and 1:30 a.m.

Here is a list of nights when the grunion will run and the time when the tide reaches its peak:

July 11, 9:27; July 12, 9:52; July 13, 10:29; July 14, 11; July 27, 10:28, and July 28, 11:17.

ANGLERS KEPT BUSY

A run of large barracuda, many of them scaling as high as fourteen pounds, kept the anglers busy at Santa Monica several days this week, declares Jack Dugan of the Morris Company live-bait boats Palisades and Thrush. Good catches of halibut, bass and bonito continue to be made also.

STRELITZ WINS RACE

PARIS, June 27. (AP)—Strelitz, Viscount De Rivaud's crack four-year-old steeplechaser, today won the Classic Prix Des Drags of two and thirteen-sixteenths miles. Alfonso was second and Telegram third.

Miss Collett Beats Old Foe

SEALS BOW TO BEAVERS, 10-9

PORTLAND (Or.) June 27. (AP)—With the San Francisco Seals leading by three runs Baker's error on Summa's easy grounder gave the Portland Ducks a chance to rally and tie at 9-all in the last of the ninth today. Portland had two outs at the time of Baker's error.

Then Turpin, San Francisco relief pitcher with one Duck out in the Portland tenth and the bases full, walked Robertson and forced in the winning run, giving Portland a 10-to-9 victory. Score: complete major-league average is .262, you will see why his showing so far in 1930 is remarkable.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

An indomitable spirit, a love of the game, and a pair of sturdy legs have kept the Rabbit in the national pastime for so many years. One of the greatest of all shortstops, he has scampered and hurried around and across major-league diamonds like a youth of 18 ever since 1912. No wonder they call him the "Living Fountain of Youth!" For years he was known as the playboy of the National League, and his antics and escapades on and off the diamond were the talk of the fans of the country. I'm all for color and comedy in sports, and an aggressive spirit helps, too, and Walter James Vincent Maranville of the Boston Braves, but formerly of the St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn Dodgers, Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, has plenty of all three. Even though the Rabbit reformed somewhat, he is still a great card and his basket catches and antics on the diamond still endear him to all lovers of the game.

Perhaps he doesn't fight with taxi drivers any more. But he still can fight on the diamond, and even though in his thirty-eighth year he is just as intent on winning as he was sixteen seasons ago when he was one of the bright flames in that mad burning dash of the Braves to a pennant and a surprising world's championship.

The Rabbit hit .308 in the championship games in 1914, and .308 fourteen years later with the Cardinals. What a man!

SACS KNOCKED FROM LEAD

Sacramento Tumbled Out of First Place as Stars Win, 8-2, While Angels Defeat Indians

score on Flynn's hit, but from the stands it looked as though the Sac catcher had arrived safely.

Lee's hit to right and Barbee's towering clout into the bleachers gave the Stars two in the third and put them in front, 2-1.

Hollerson walked Backer to start the sixth and the pass helped the Solons tie the score. Camili sacrificed, but Backer was trapped between third and second when Hoag hit to Lee. Hoag reached second while the run-down was on and scored when Osborne hit safely to right.

THIS SETTLED IT

Then came the Stars' big inning. Barbee started the fireworks with a sizzling single to center and Rumler walked. With the count three-and-two, Green drove a double to left center and Barbee and Rumler ankled across the plate. When Severeid also doubled to score Green, Buddy Ryan lifted Flynn and sent Smith to the mound. Heath's infield out moved Severeid to third, from where Hollerson's one-base shot scored him. Hill's double and Lee's sacrifice fly brought Hollerson around, while a single by Brannan scored Hill. Barbee followed with another single, but Eldred speared Rumler's line drive to end the shootin'. SERAPHS ANNEX OVERTIME TILT rolled out, but "Dutch" Holland rose to the occasion, hitting a line drive into the left-field bleachers for a homer that scored Knothe ahead to tie the count. Holland's drive wasn't more than six inches fair when it landed.

Wilbur Hubbell, who was rushed in to pitch the twelfth, was wild. With one out, he walked Johnny Moore. Johnny lit out for second and stole it, and continued on to third when Cox threw into center field. The infield pulled in, Carl Dittmar, the shortstop who is twice the ball player he was a year ago, hopped a hard drive past Freck Owen so fast that the shortstop couldn't get a glove on it, and home came the winning run.

The Angels scored their four runs off House in two innings. One came in the first, Moore doubling and scoring on Dittmar's single to center.

Harper, Jacobs, Schulmerich, Statz and Warren hit successive singles in the third to score three runs. Jacobs and Warren were cut down because of poor base running or there would have been more scoring.

Knothe opened the game for the Indians with a single, was sacrificed to second, stole third and scored on an infield out.

OWEN HITS TRIPLE

Owen hit a triple in the fourth to score Bill Lawrence, who beat out a bunt, and counted himself on Harry Taylor's infield out, to give Seattle two more runs.

The tying run came in the seventh on Knothe's infield hit, a sacrifice, and Louie Almada's single to right. Lawrence followed with a double, but Almada was stopped at third, or the game might have been an Indian victory in nine innings.

The Angels look woefully weak at third base, with Statz, a darned good outfielder but a terrible infielder, staggering about in the absence of Fred Haney, injured in Tuesday's game. Haney will be out for several more days, but young Art Parker, substitute infielder, declares his sore arm is about ready and Manager Jack Lelivelt may use him at third tomorrow.

The Angels lead in the series, three games to one, and are in first place in the pennant race, but they're getting a great battle from the Indians. This is the second extra-inning game of the week, while the Indians beat them with a ninth-inning rally Wednesday. The score:

Joe Dundee to Perform Here

Joe Dundee, ex-welterweight champion, yesterday wired definite acceptance of the Benny Miller match for July 15. The Olympic will stage the bout.

On account of dates in the East the Coast showing of Dundee has been on and off for the last couple weeks. Jimmy Johnston may come to Los Angeles with Dundee. Max Waxman is no longer the Baltimore boy's manager.

Johnny Lamar and Goldie Hess will finish training tomorrow for their ten-round bout at the Olympic next Tuesday night. The Mexican is a slight choice in the betting.

Lamar's Pacific Coast lightweight championship will be at stake in the Tuesday fight. He is down to weight and is in no danger of losing the $500 he posted as a forfeit to make 135 pounds.

Charley Cobb is here from San Diego. He meets Sammy Jackson in the six-round semi-wind-up. Cobb is known down along the border as a puncher. He stopped Sammy Santos last week. Jackson hasn't fought here recently, but has a good record.

Foul Tips

Bill Lane bought Dave Barbee from Seattle to hit homers for Hollywood, and Dave is certainly doing his stuff. The big outfielder has hit five home runs in the ten games he's played, since joining the Stars.

Jesse Hill's three hits yesterday brought his average to .426 for the season. Hill's only trouble now is his inability to slide into bases, but he'll master that shortly.

The Solons are certainly in a batting slump or else the Hollywood pitching is much improved. In the last three games the Sacs have made but 13 hits off the offerings of Jim Turner, Frank Shellenback and George Hollerson. That's an average of six per game.

Everything favored the Angels yesterday, the Stars, Reds and Ducks all obliging Jack Lelivelt by knocking over the Sacs, Oaks and Seals.

Old Hankus-Pankus Holvey, who turned in a couple of splendid mound exhibitions against the Missions last week, will be on the mound for Hollywood today. Ray Keating will probably hurl for the Sacs.

Dud Lee is again playing the kind of ball at short that made him a sensation. Dudley is also rapping the agate lustily.

Rumors have it that the Angels have agreed to waive on Emil Yde, and that the Stars plan to use him in a trade with an American Association or International League club.

FISH AND DIME HOOKED

While fishing for barracuda from the Star of Scotland off Lick pier at Ocean Park, Thursal Newell of 5950 South Van Ness avenue, Los Angeles, while cleaning one of several "scooters" found a shiny 10-cent piece in one of the fish. It is supposed that a fisherman from one of the numerous small boats fishing in the near vicinity dropped the coin and that the barracuda grabbed it as it was descending to the bottom of the sea.

Government Seeks to Check Unlicensed Broadcast

Score of Stations Said to be Listed as Offenders

Byrd Scheduled to be Heard Over KHJ Tonight

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Ruth Pitts, soprano, and James Russell Loyal, baritone. Peggy Hamilton, fashion expert.

Judge Dudley S. Valentine on "Traffic" at 12:30 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

An energetic campaign to drive unlicensed radio stations off the air has been undertaken by the Federal government, as a result of the discovery by inspectors for the Department of Commerce that there are some twenty such stations operating. The cases have been turned over to the Department of Justice for prosecution. The offending stations, it is understood, include only one or two which are broadcasting.

The first case of this kind was successfully terminated a few weeks ago in St. Louis, where the unlicensed operator of an unlicensed station was found guilty of program pirating and was given a jail sentence. This was suspended on condition that the defendant, who is not an American citizen, be deported.

Generally speaking, there has been little violation of the law in this respect. Unlicensed stations have turned up only occasionally. In a number of instances the offenders were amateurs who had no ulterior motive in violating the law.

Radio inspectors of the Department of Commerce also are investigating the activities of television stations as a result of reports that some of them have sold time, thereby undertaking commercial operations.

KHJ at 9:30 a.m. today is to present Ballyhoo, a "mighty program of musical comedy and novelty;" a little bit of everything that the KHJ staff has to offer. Anything is apt to happen, it is said, including a spelling bee. At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Crockett Mountaineers will be heard over CBS in fifteen minutes of Hill Billy numbers, while at 4:30 p.m. the Dixie Echoes will be featured in a half-hour of songs peculiar to the South. At 5 tonight Show Boat is to dock with another gripping melodrama for the folks who swarm to the air levee. Rear-Admiral Richard Byrd will be the honored guest on Paramount Publix Hour at 6 o'clock. The program is to come from WABC, New York. Byrd will relate the highlights of his venture into the Antarctic. Musical selections chosen for the occasion will be another feature. At 7 o'clock Columbia is to send its Dance Carnival. Two of the nation's most famous dance orchestras, Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians and Will Osborne's organization, each will contribute half an hour of music. At 9 tonight Charlie Wellman is to return with his "Chasin' the Blues," which promises to be sparkling with antidotes for any case of blues.

KFI at 7 p.m. on the Forest Lawn concert program is to offer Eva Olivotti, Mildred Laughlin and other soloists, with the Pryor Moore orchestra in scenes from operettas, including "Maytime," "The Student Prince" and "The Desert Song." For the Del Monte hour at 9 o'clock the musical comedy "High Jinks" will be presented, featuring Lawrence Gray. At 9:30 the KFI variety hour promises an hour of harmony, accordion music and Anna Christina in dialect songs and patter.

At 1:30 this afternoon the NBC is to bring the thrilling Ohio River Steamboat Race, the race of the Betsy Ann and the Tom Greene up the river for the historic trophy. The contest will be transmitted from the deck of one of the steamers.

KECA at 9 tonight will include Woodford-Finden's Indian love lyrics in an hour of string ensemble music, with Arthur Lang as baritone soloist. At 10 tonight NBC's Spotlight Review is to offer an array of music and song for those who prefer other than dance music.

KNX, as a contribution to the success of Hollywood Bowl's music season, at 11 a.m. will present "Famous Figures in Music." Today's subject will be Percy Grainger, pianist and conductor. The story of his life from a human interest angle and some of his music will be offered. The usual grand opera in its entirety will be heard at 2:30 this afternoon with the presentation of Massenet's "Manon." At 9:05 p.m. Calmon Lubovlski and Claire Mellonino, with Rosalie Barker Frye, contralto, will feature a classic repertoire, while at 10 tonight Ted Fio-Rito and his Cocoanut Grove Orchestra are to offer dance music, continuing until midnight.

RIO GRANDE OIL PROFITS STEADY

Five Months' Income Exceeds Dividend Requirements

Gasoline Sales Rise Sharply as Outlets Gain

Refinery Capacity Increased for Ethyl Product

Current earnings of the Rio Grande Oil Company of California, which in April and May were substantially in excess of the dividend requirements for the second quarter, are more than sufficient to justify the continuance of quarterly disbursements at the annual rate of $2 a share, L. E. Lockhart, president, announced yesterday. Net earnings for the first quarter were equivalent to 97 cents a share.

While marketing conditions are unsettled this month, a material increase in gasoline sales has been made by the company, Mr. Lockhart stated. Retail units which embrace California, Arizona, New Mexico and Western Texas, have been doubled in the past four months.

"Net production at Elwood, even under the existing curtailment schedules, continues at about 32,000 barrels daily for the Rio Grande-Barnsdall leases jointly owned by both companies," Mr. Lockhart stated. "Even with this shut-in, amounting to 50 per cent of the potential, the present rate of production is level with the crude output for the first three months of 1930."

The company has completed within the last two months, nine new crude-oil storage tanks at the Vinevale refinery making a total of forty-five tanks having a combined capacity of 62,230,000 barrels. Mixing plants at the Vinevale and El Paso refineries have just been completed in preparation for the immediate distribution of Rio Grande-Ethyl gasoline. These plants, according to Mr. Lockhart, have added 210,000 gallons capacity to the Vinevale refinery and 305,000 gallons to the El Paso refinery.

The tideland permit well No. 88-2, which was completed for an initial production of 10,000 barrels a day, is now beaned down to 3815 barrels daily. Of the three tideland permits owned jointly by Rio Grande and Barnsdall, two have already been proved, with three wells producing, and four drilling. In the Luton-Bell lease, the company has sixteen producing wells and two drilling, Mr. Lockhart stated.

Rio Grande's production in other California fields amounts to 4500 barrels daily, under the curtailment program. The company, according to recent reports, is now negotiating for leases on proven property in Montana.

California Bank Branch to Open

California Bank's new Hollywood-Gramercy branch on Hollywood Boulevard will be opened for business Monday, according to an announcement made yesterday by W. H. Thomson, executive vice-president.

Twelve years ago the California Bank opened the first branch bank in Hollywood, on Western avenue. The growth of the community and of the branch since that time has made necessary the new Hollywood-Gramercy branch, the successor to the Western-avenue branch. H. L. Holland, manager of the latter since its opening, will be in charge of the new office. Open house hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Peterson Joins Transamerica's Official Staff

Van E. Peterson, who achieved distinction as administrator of the depositors' guarantee fund of Nebraska, has accepted a major executive position with the Transamerica Corporation, and is now in Los Angeles as manager of the mortgage loan department of the Occidental Life Insurance Company, which was recently acquired by the Transamerica Corporation.

The proven success of the branch-banking system in California, in comparison with the unit system in the Middle West, where, within the past decade, bank failure had been numerous with half of the institutions in some districts closing, was given yesterday by Mr. Peterson as the reason for his forming a connection with California's largest branch-banking system.

"The failure of the Nebraska bank deposits' guarantee law, as like laws failed in seven other States, was inevitable, as it was not built upon a proper foundation," said Mr. Peterson. "It was an effort to treat a symptom, instead of curing the disease. The inadequately capitalized independent bank, having aggregate deposits of less than $300,000, unable to diversify its loans and able to pay only such salaries as would attract men of mediocre ability, is doomed."

OIL MERGER CASE HEARING DAY SET

NEW YORK, June 27. (Exclusive) Judge John C. Knox has issued subpoenas calling on several witnesses to appear at 10:30 a.m. the 30th inst. to give testimony regarding the antitrust action instituted by the United States government in St. Louis against Standard Oil Company of New York and Vacuum Oil Company attacking the validity of the proposed merger as a violation of the Sherman antitrust law. Hearings will be conducted before Special Master Fred L. Williams.

BOARD OF MORTGAGE CONCERN INCREASED

L. C. Torrance, Jr., Milo Bekins and J. A. Burton have been added to the directorate of the Indemnity Mortgage Securities Company, Dwight Whiting, president, announced yesterday. Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share. Mr. Whiting stated that while a larger dividend probably would be justified in view of the satisfactory earnings, it was felt that it would prove a wiser policy to conserve the company's cash position.

EAGLE-PICHER LEAD TO OMIT DIVIDEND

CINCINNATI, June 27. — Directors of Eagle-Picher Lead Company voted today to pass the quarterly dividend of 20 cents a share on the common stock due at this time. The regular quarterly preferred dividend was declared. Heavy shrinkage of inventory values occasioned by the decline of metal prices during the past few months was given as the reason for the omission of the dividend.

PRICE-CUTTING END SIGHTED

Refiners Hope for Stable Market in July; Storage Supply, However, Still Increasing

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Major gasoline refiners are still hopeful of entering the month of July with prices on a stabilized and profitable basis. Recent declines of the retail price from 16½ to 14½ cents in the chain marketing stations and quotations as low as 11½ cents by independents are believed to signal the early end of the price-cutting orgy.

Since early in the first quarter the unsettled price condition has persisted, which unquestionably has left a heavy imprint on the revenues of all companies, small and large alike. Not in recent history has a gasoline war run so far into the summer, and the strain on the financial resources of companies less favorably intrenched is plainly beginning to show.

PEACE BELIEVED NEAR

Aggressors in the price-cutting campaign, it is believed, are about ready to sue for peace, partly because of the unprofitable level of current prices and the depleted state of finances. But there is also the constructive influence to consider of crude oil curtailment, which has reached a point where smaller runs of oil to refineries may be expected.

With the wholesale price of gasoline restored to 15 cents or higher, the industry would again be back to where profits might be reasonably expected. Such an expectation is not unreasonable, for petroleum products as a group are considerably under normal price levels. The index number, based on 1926 as 100, was down to 66.5 in May, compared with 71.3 as the 1929 average.

Prices of petroleum products, in fact, have been irregularly downward since 1920 when the index number stood at 183.5. The May index of 66.5 is lower than any annual average since 1915 when the average was 54.1.

Competitive conditions in the refining and marketing of gasoline have accounted for a substantial part of the price unsettlement. Production of crude oil and gasoline, of course, has been out of line with consumption, but the increasing efficiency of the curtailment program is at least eliminating crude oil from culpability for price unsettlement.

STOCKS INCREASE

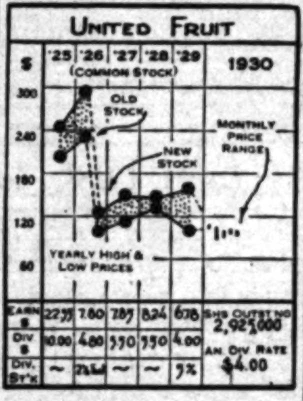
Gasoline, however, is still out of line statistically. There is still too much gasoline in storage and price-cutting apparently has not increased consumption or decreased stocks on hand. The industry was hopefully looking for a drop in stocks in May, but the storage figures for the Pacific Coast show an increase over April of approximately 500,000 barrels.

Pacific Coast stocks at the end of May were approximately 18,500,000 barrels, compared with 18,000,000 at the end of April, and 14,000,000 in May, 1929.

Availability of cheap gasoline has enabled independent price cutters to continue retailing at low prices. The Standard Oil Company of California took a constructive move in the direction of removing some of this gasoline from the market when it offered to purchase cargo lots at San Pedro, but very little has been offered to the company for purchase.

Refiners contend, however, that even excess stocks do not warrant the present low prices, and that some higher point of stabilization should be reached if price-cutting activities were eliminated.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



UNITED FRUIT

Handling more than one-half of the entire world production of bananas, and ranking as one of the largest sugar producers in Cuba, United Fruit dominates the production and distribution of tropical products in the United States, Canada and Europe. In the prosecution of its extensive business, the company controls 2,865,656 acres of improved and unimproved land and operates more than 1500 miles of railway in seven Central American countries. A modern fleet of 103 vessels handles the huge annual production of bananas and is active as well in the general Caribbean ocean trade.

While net income for 1929 was below that for the peak year, 1928, the first-quarter results in 1930 showed an increase to $1.30 a share as against $1.27 in 1929. The recent acquisition of the Cuyamel Fruit Company consolidates the company's strong competitive situation and is expected to contribute substantial additions to income.

CAPITALIZATION

Funded debt, none.
Common stock (no par.) 2,925,000 shares.

Current Data: United Fruit was recently awarded several large contracts to carry United States ocean mail for the next ten years. It was stated that an approximate revenue of $10,000,000 will accrue from this new source over the period of the contracts.

Atlas Diesel Profits Lower for Half Year

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Atlas Imperial Diesel Engine Company reported today net profits for six months ended May 31, last, of $279,967 after all charges including taxes equal to $1.72 a share on 161,985 outstanding shares of combined Class A and B stocks.

This compares with $309,698, reported earned for the same period a year ago, or $1.91 a share. In the 1928 similar period, $1.22 a share was earned. Net profits for the second quarter ended May 31, totaled $154,422, or 95 cents a share, against $223,407, or $1.31 a share, last year, and $107,868 for the same quarter of 1928, or 66 cents a share on the same capital basis.

Sales for the six months just closed aggregated $1,817,763 against $1,456,233 for the same period a year ago, an increase of 25 per cent. May sales totaled $380,024 against $317,000 in May last year, a gain of about 20 per cent.

CLEARINGHOUSE IN NEW ACTION

Will Substitute Bank Debits for Clearings Beginning on July 1

Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association beginning July 1 will discontinue the practice of reporting bank check exchanges as clearings for the city of Los Angeles and will substitute therefor all bank debits to individual accounts, according to a resolution just adopted by the executive committee of the association.

"Publication of the total exchanges is not a true index of the business of the community, but the total debits to individual accounts give a much more accurate estimate of business transactions," the committee stated. "The total debits report will include only the actual payments by banks for the accounts of customers having funds on deposit for the purpose."

Rainier Paper Tells Profits in Fiscal Year

Rainier Pulp and Paper Company reported yesterday net profits for the fiscal year ended April 30, last, of $479,623.18 after all charges equivalent to $4.79 a share on the $2 preferred Class A stock and after such dividends to more than $2 a share on the Class B stock outstanding. Net profits for the preceding fiscal year totaled $486,607.

During the year the market for bleached sulphite pulp declined steadily and the year closed with the poorest bleached sulphite market for several years, E. M. Mills, president stated. In the face of these conditions the company continued to improve its methods of pulp production and also made extraordinary efforts to produce and find markets for pulp suited to special purposes which would command better prices, he said.

At the end of the fiscal year, inventories amounted to $555,705, as compared with $120,646 at the beginning of the year. The inventories should be materially reduced during the year, according to Mr. Mills, who also stated that the reduced cost of pulp production and the developments of special pulps are expected to insure the continuance of satisfactory earnings despite the poor present condition of the pulp business.

ATCHISON EARNINGS REPORTED

May Net Off $2,531,244 and for Five Months of 1930 $12,472,547

May net railway operating income of the Santa Fe system decreased $2,531,244 from the net for May, 1929, to total $871,897, according to a statement issued yesterday from the Los Angeles office of the road. The net for the five months ended May 31, amounted to $6,653,547, a decrease of $12,472,305 from the same period last year.

STOREY SAYS NET LOWEST FOR YEARS

CHICAGO, June 27.—"Our June expenses will show a material decrease from a year ago as a result of the retrenchment program we announced on the 1st inst., W. B. Storey, president of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway system, said today.

"Our mechanical department is working only five days a week and we have also cut down track forces. There is a great deal of track work such as renewal of ballast that can be postponed when necessary.

"Our net for the past three months was the smallest in many years because of the combination of unexpectedly light traffic and an early season for maintenance of way work. Although June gross also will probably be below normal net will benefit from the expense reductions I have mentioned.

"Net for the balance of the year should be considerably nearer normal than it has been, though at present I do not see how it can attain or exceed the figures for the corresponding period of 1929 which were exceptionally good."

"Our loadings of citrus fruits are off, but we have known all along we would have only two-thirds of an orange crop this year. I do not think they are nearly as blue on the Pacific Coast as they are in New York.

"Our passenger business is badly off. Passenger revenues declined $500,000 last month, and $400,000 the month before, as compared with last year. As a result of our arrangement with the Transcontinental Air Transport, we are handling ten or twelve passengers a day each way from this source.

"The gasoline pipe lines now under construction will undoubtedly reduce our gasoline traffic, although to what extent we cannot tell yet. It will require some time to work the whole thing out, as it will take big refineries to support a gasoline pipe line. Another consideration is that if they use pipe lines they will not have a distinctive gasoline to sell at the marketing end.

"The real purpose of these pipe lines is to put mid-continent refiners more on a parity with concerns which do their refining nearer the consuming markets and set their crude in by pipe line. Use of gasoline pipe lines will apparently reduce transportation charges considerably, as the rate we were asked to make in order to compete with pipe line rates was so low we did not see our way clear to make it."

Cotton and Grain Planters Anxious About Farm Board's Attitude on Surpluses

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

NEW YORK, June 27.—When Alexander Legge became chairman of the Farm Board wheat was selling around $1.35 a bushel. When the special session of Congress was called in April last year, wheat had gone down to $1.10 at Chicago. Today it is selling at 87 to 88 cents.

So Gov. Clyde Reed of Kansas wants Chairman Legge to finance immediately the purchase of 25,000,000 bushels of new winter wheat, in order to save the market. This western Governor's demand is backed up by nearly all the Senators from the winter wheat States as well as by southern Senators, who see danger ahead for cotton.

With wheat prices at the lowest point in sixteen years, pressure was never stronger on the Farm Board to enter the market and pick up the surplus new wheat.

The Farm Board, with a "market" record of the last twelve months in the red, so far has refused to listen to the cry from the West.

Will, or will not, the Farm Board enter the active markets again and pick up the surplus wheat and cotton this year in order to raise prices within the United States, and give the producing farmers a chance to break even? The West and South are pressing the question in this form before the Farm Board and awaiting an answer.

Right now it looks as if the board has decided not to enter the competitive markets actively for the sole purpose of bolstering artificially the price of either wheat or cotton.

Last year's world production of 26,200,000 standard bales was almost the same as that of 1928. But the carryover for 1929 was larger because the consumption during 1928 was less than the year before. The New York Cotton Exchange has been estimating the carryover this year at 4,474,000 bales, which, with estimated American production, would make a total of 19,200,000 bales, as compared with 19,661,000 the year before and 18,836,000 bales for the five-year average of 1923 to 1927, inclusive.

Reliable experts now are estimating the world's consumption for the year ending July 1, 1930, at 13,700,000 bales, as against 15,169,000 bales in 1929, and 15,500,000 in 1928. This largely tells the cotton price-drop story!

Present reports indicate a United States cotton crop this year of over 15,000,000 bales—about the same as last year. But the longer carryover results from decreased consumption.

"Tie these two facts together and one must conclude," says the Wall Street Journal, that "the cotton market will be obliged to carry a heavy load this coming season."

"I leave New York this week for Wyoming and do not expect to return before late fall. That should give you an idea of what I think is ahead for the stock market," said a large Wall-street operator to this writer yesterday.

In the opinion of this broker, dog-days are ahead this summer for the stock exchange, with light trading, limited rises and falls, and a watchful-waiting policy pursued until business sees what the third quarter develops.

The second quarter's reports, now forecast, will be disappointing.

"Certain specialty stocks can be bought today, but they should be picked up with considerable care," continued my informant. "I do not think, however, that anyone needs to jump after any stock on the big board. Put in a price that you think is a fair price for the stock and perhaps when you come back from your vacation, you may have gotten it. But more likely than not, the market will hover within narrow limits, with no impressive move one way or the other."

So it's Wyoming and the cowboy country for him!

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Market Again Turns Downward as Trading Operations Slacken Considerably

Lack of confidence in the ability of traders to sustain for any appreciable length of time the rallying movement initiated last Wednesday brought about a fractional recession of prices in yesterday's session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The volume of the day's operations dropped to a relatively quiet level and while an attempt was made at the opening to hold the ground recovered in the two preceding sessions the list gradually gave way when buying support melted.

Standard Oil of California headed the market operations and led the list with a decline of 1 1-4 points to 58 3-4 after reaching a high for the day at 59 1-4. Richfield dropped a point to 15 1-8, and Pacific Associates, Union Oil, Rio Grande and Shell recorded fractional declines. Gilmore strengthened to 18 3-4 and Pacific Western held firm to 14 1-4 respectively.

Transamerica fluctuated in an uncertain manner but within a narrow range. The issue opened at 29½ and ran up to 30 and closed at 29 3-4 net. Security-First National Bank lost a point of 2 points regained Thursday and ended at 102. Pacific Finance on a turnover of but 200 shares sold back 1-4 to 26 1-4. Union Bank continued to hold to 325.

Southern California Edison, in line with the general trend, reacted 7-8 to 54 3-4 and Pacific Public Service, dipped 3-8 to 25 1-4. Western Pipe and Steel, an inactive issue, dropped 2½ points to a new low as a board lot was brought out at 21. Claude Neon eased 1-4 to 30½, while Emsco held steady to 16.

Wheat Futures Rule Steady on Bullish Report

CHICAGO, June 27. (AP)—Reports of black rust in the Northwest and of farmers holding their wheat in the Southwest gave wheat buyers an advantage today. A Chicago crop authority telegraphing from Mitchell, S. D., said on a 300-mile drive he had found black rust in all wheat fields inspected, and the rust ranged from the lower to the top sheaf of the plants.

Meanwhile, Kansas dispatches also were at hand telling of farmers piling their wheat on the ground and making few deliveries, except for storage, to await higher prices.

After fluctuating rapidly both above and below yesterday's closing figures, but mostly above, wheat closed firm, unchanged to ⅛c higher. Corn closed unchanged to ⅛c up, oats ⅛@⅜c off and provisions varying from 2c decline to an equal gain.

Enlarged export business contributed to the strength which the wheat market showed most of the time today. Estimates were current yesterday's and today's purchases for trans-Atlantic shipment from Canada and the United States totaled more than 2,500,000 bushels, chiefly, however, from Canada. There also were cable dispatches saying millers abroad were buying wheat more freely, and offerings from North America were less numerous. Meanwhile, advices from Canada were received which indicated crop prospects in important wheat-producing districts remain subnormal, although rains today in Alberta counted as something of an offset.

With the Canadian wheat crop fast approaching a critical stage, many traders leaned to the view, unless generous continued rains are in evidence hereafter, serious crop deterioration is to be expected, owing to dearth of moisture reserve.

On the other hand, a source of considerable selling was weakness of stock exchange quotations.

Corn borrowed strength from the action of wheat. Oats trade was very small.

Provisions were upheld by upturns in the value of hogs.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Few changes of consequence were recorded on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday as traders exhibited a disposition to adhere to the sidelines. The market valuation of the day's turnover was less than half that of Thursday's session.

Fokker Aircraft, the most volatile issue on the board and which consistently leads the activity, had but a single transaction of a board lot throughout the entire session. The stock reacted a point to 18 3-4. Cities Service yielded ½ to 26½ and Caterpillar, 5-8 to 57 3-8.

Security Company units, which fell off 2 points Thursday, dropped a similar amount yesterday to depress the issue to 53. Detroit Aircraft and Consolidated Steel dipped small fractional amounts while Claude Neon of New York ran contrary to the general trend with an advance of 1-4 to 8 3-4. Samson Tire lost another 1-4 to 5 5-8.

TRIENNIAL EXAMINATION OF

The PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA

Comments by George I. Cochran, President

The regular triennial examination of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company has just been completed by a committee of States appointed by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners. The States which have conducted the examination are California, Tennessee and Washington.

This examination dealt with the condition of the Company at the close of business on December 31st, 1929, and covered its business transactions during the three-year period since the previous examination, that is, since December 31st, 1926.

The examiners in the course of several months spent in the Home Office of the Company, made exhaustive investigations in respect to our treatment of policyholders, examined and verified all of our securities and checked our annual statement as of the close of 1929. Their report is a voluminous one, covering 70 pages, so that it is not possible to reproduce it here word for word. Excerpts of general interest are quoted below:

1—BRANCHES OF BUSINESS:

The Company conducts three distinct branches of business: a Participating Life Department (where policyholders share in the profits of the Company); a Non-Participating Life Department (where policyholders carry their insurance at a guaranteed low cost and do not share in the profits of the Company); and an Accident Department, which is conducted entirely on the non-participating basis. The matter of allocation of expenses and segregation of accounts between these various departments naturally is a most important one. With regard to this the examiners state—

> "The Company has since (1908) maintained separate accounts for each of the three divisions, and has prepared annually separate statements of Income, Disbursements, Assets, Liabilities, and Gain and Loss Exhibits."

With respect to the distribution of expenses between the departments, the examiners state—

> ". . . it is evident that the Company is making genuine endeavors to allocate overhead expenses equitably."

Referring to the profits belonging to participating policyholders, they state—

> "Having divided these joint expenses between the Life and Accident Departments, a further division is made in the former between the Participating and Non-Participating business. All items capable of direct allocation, such as premiums, death claims, etc., which clearly apply either to the Participating or to the Non-Participating division, are so allocated.
> "Subject to such changes as may from time to time be required in the underlying percentage assumptions, the Company's method has the effect of giving the Participating business full credit for all the profits arising therefrom."

2—DIVIDENDS TO POLICYHOLDERS:

Discussing the scale of dividends employed in the distribution of profits to policyholders, the examiners state—

> "The scale appears to be equitable and to run reasonably parallel to the actual results of the Company's operations."

3—POLICY FORMS:

In respect to contracts which we issue, the examiners state—

> "The policy contracts are so drawn as to be fair and liberal in their terms and special pains are taken with the wording to make them clear and to prevent misunderstandings."

4—PAYMENT OF DEATH CLAIMS:

The examiners state—

> "A review of a large number of death claim files, with particular reference to the Company's attitude toward beneficiaries in the matter of adjustment and settlement of claims, indicates that such settlements and adjustments are made promptly and with commendable fairness."

5—DISABILITY CLAIMS:

The examiners state—

> "A Claims Committee, which has exercised its functions for a number of years, is charged with a review of all adjustments, and clothed with final authority in the matter of ultimate disposition. Your examiners have attended several meetings of this Committee, and have discussed with its members individual cases that have come to their attention in the course of this investigation. We have found it to be the uniform policy of the Committee to insure to all claimants a fair interpretation of the policy contract."

6—PACIFIC MUTUAL NEWS:

Commenting on our house organ, which the Company considers a valuable medium of contact—the examiners say—

> "A monthly publication known as the 'Pacific Mutual News' is sent regularly to all agents and employees. It represents an exceptionally creditable type of house organ, and invariably contains matter of general interest and universal appeal, presented with literary and artistic skill of no mean order. A special number is prepared and mailed annually to all policyholders."

7—ACCOUNTS AND RECORDS:

In respect to our accounts, the examiners state—

> "Separate accounting departments, under competent direction, are maintained for the Life and Accident Departments of the Company.
> "The books and other records of account were found in exemplary condition. Accounting and office procedure, through division of labor and the establishment of internal controls, are sound and designed to facilitate compliance with reporting requirements and administrative needs."

8—ASSETS:

(a) Real Estate:

The total real estate owned by the Company on December 31st, 1929, amounted to $7,490,396.95; that represented by our Home Office property had a book value of $7,265,980.49.

With regard to this the examiners state—

> "This (the market value of our home office property) exceeds the book value of the Home Office property by $4,129,019.51, which your examiners, however, have disregarded in the preparation of the financial statement, in accordance with the expressed wishes of the Company, which does not claim any excess over book value in its own financial statement."

This means that were we to claim as an asset the true value of our Home Office property, our unassigned surplus would be increased by $4,129,019.51.

(b) Mortgages:

Our mortgages represent 49.7% of our total assets, and our collateral loans 5.1%. The examiners state—

> "The most significant fact speaking for the high quality of the Company's mortgage loans, and one in which the Company takes just pride, is the complete absence of delinquent interest as of December 31, 1929. Most extensive checks made to verify this fact have failed to disclose a single loan on which all mature interest had not been fully paid. The element of past due interest has for many years been almost negligible in the case of this Company, and the present showing, noteworthy as it is, is merely a striking illustration of the uniformly successful administration of the Company's loans. The same considerations apply also to the Company's loans secured collaterally by stocks and bonds."

(c) Bonds:

The bonds represent 13.7% of our total assets. The examiners state—

> "Although the market value of the Company's bonds exceeds the book value by $79,600.16, the Company does not take credit in its financial statement for this excess, and no additional non-ledger asset has been set up by your examiners, although a total excess of $82,990.33 could be properly allowed, as shown by the following analysis:
> "Market Value over Book Value—
> Life Department $82,990.33
> Less Book Value over Market
> Value—Accident Department 3,390.17
> Net excess of Market Value > over Book Value .... $79,600.16"

This means we could properly increase our unassigned surplus by another $79,600.16.

9—RESERVES FOR LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES IN FORCE (which constitute the major item of our Liabilities):

The examiners state—

10—CONCLUSION:

In conclusion the examiners state—

> "AS DISCLOSED BY THIS EXAMINATION, THE PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA IS IN EXCELLENT FINANCIAL CONDITION. THE INTERESTS OF ITS POLICYHOLDERS ARE ADEQUATELY PROTECTED BY THE COMPANY'S RESERVES, CAPITAL AND SURPLUS. THE COMPANY HAS ENJOYED A HEALTHY GROWTH, AND BY THE HIGH CHARACTER OF ITS INVESTMENTS, AND ITS ABSTINENCE FROM INVESTING IN SPECULATIVE SECURITIES, HAS CLEARLY DEMONSTRATED ITS TITLE TO BE RANKED AMONG THE MOST CONSERVATIVELY MANAGED FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS OF ITS CLASS."

—The excerpts from the report of the examiners speak for themselves and need no further comment.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27. (AP)—Sellers dominated the stock market here today. Prices sank rather quickly, but rallied irresolutely later. Sales totaled only 23,392 shares at $805,716, one of the lowest points reached in weeks. There were five new lows.

Brokers commented on an increase in odd-lot purchases, indicating investment buying for cash by westerners. They were attracted by good yields of most leading coast stocks, which in some cases have reached the highest points in years.

Transamerica closed more than ½-point lower, after keeping well within a price range of 1 point during the day. Another investment issue, Bond and Share, moved a point higher against the trend.

Fireman's Fund was the only insurance stock sold, and only an odd lot turned over, the price being down 1¾.

Oil stocks were irregular. Honolulu and North American each gained ½ point, while Standard lost a point. Richfield ½ and several others slipped fractionally off. Price-cutting competition left the group in an uncertain position as to profits.

Although irregular, the utility trend was generally lower. A few fractional gains were more than offset by losses, including dips of one or more points by Los Angeles Gas preferred, Pacific Lighting, Pacific Telephone and Pacific Gas.

Industrials were predominantly lower, with Hawaiian Pineapple off 3, California Ink 3 and Caterpillar 1, while a number lost fractionally. Marchant gained a point.

[illegible] field operations have not lessened because of this fact. At present the field has more than thirty projects, six producing wells at least a half-dozen that have [illegible] the interesting stage, and expected to go on production. The Ohio Oil Company's No. 1, Venice Oil Syndicate's 1 and several others were giving considerable concern earlier in week because of the gas pressure. Each of these may be completed within a week.

Acreage

[illegible] of a deal for 14,000 acres Bellingham, Wash., by the [illegible] Oil Company was announced yesterday and a deep [illegible] scheduled soon if a favorable report is received from company geologists who have been dis[illegible] there to make a thorough [illegible] of that district.

[illegible]dall's newest acreage is in separate parcels all within close [illegible] of Bellingham. A portion the acreage is along the ocean while a greater part is under[illegible] to be inland.

[illegible] to reports, quite a number of shallow holes have been [illegible] in and around Bellingham the last two or three years, a few of the projects are said have encountered showings that [illegible] in leasing of the property Barnsdall. The property in [illegible] was formerly held by the [illegible] North Counties Petroleum Company. Lease requirements that drilling is to start within [illegible] months.

Steady

The Standard Oil Company has [illegible] Emery No. 46 at Coyote Hills, the pump, and the project is [illegible] out 341 barrels of oil and [illegible]-three barrels of water a day [illegible] a depth of 4088 feet. The [illegible] is of 28.7 deg. gravity. Standard's Bastanchury No. 1 on Bastanchury ranch due east of Coyote Hills is swabbing again and soon be on production at a [illegible] of 3887 feet. This undertaking flowed by heads a few days ago, was killed to deepen. Its completion is expected to extend Coyote [illegible]

Bailing Down

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Company's Hobson No. A-2, two miles southeast of Seacliff yesterday was bailing preparatory to a production test with bottom of the [illegible] at 7479 feet. Indications are [illegible] test to extend the Seacliff field [illegible] be swabbing soon. About 200 [illegible] of oil sand is in evidence.

Preparing to Test

The Vaqueros Major Oil Company's Union Annex No. 1 in the [illegible] district where the Union Oil Company has obtained production for many years, has landed ten-and-three-quarter-inch casing to [illegible] feet with bottom of the hole [illegible] feet and will make a production test. According to officials of the company, approximately 600 [illegible] of oil sand and shale has been penetrated, and the project is believed to have an excellent chance of completion as a producer. The company plans to drill another well on the same lease.

Construction Work Begins

Erection of four validating piers by the Elwood Exploration Company at Seacliff started recently. [illegible] wells will be drilled on the [illegible] side of the county beach park, on the Hobson lease.

This activity is a direct result of the recent completion of Ferguson No. 2 by the General Petroleum Corporation. The Ferguson well establishes the fact that the structure at Seacliff extended out into the ocean and is thought to have definitely proved up at least 400 acres, portions of which are controlled by the Richfield Oil Company, Elwood Exploration Company and Exeter Oil Company.

Richfield has practically completed its pier at Seacliff and is pouring concrete for the foundations of two derricks, one well to be drilled between high tide and the ocean and another to go down at the outer end of the company's [illegible]-foot pier. Steel derricks from the company's Hobson shore leases will be moved to the pier for drilling purposes.

New One In

The Petroleum Securities Company brought in another excellent producer yesterday in the extreme southeastern portion of the Signal Hill field. Its Painted Hills No. 1 is flowing out 1800 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 6800 feet. This well is near the company's Wilson No. 1, brought in about ten days ago and not far from the Plymouth Oil Company's No. 9 and No. 10, new producers in that vicinity.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—The movement of bonds was mixed today with the result the level of prices was little changed.

Small list of railroad issues improved but others eased, so the irregularity which has characterized the bond market throughout the week, ruled. Secondary issues, stock privilege and speculative issues were reactionary.

A feature was the broad market in United States governments, especially Liberty 4th 4¼. Sales of the issue totaled $1,039,000, the largest for any bond of the group in many weeks, some bonds were sold at a concession and the treasury 3⅜s of 43 and 47 were the only governments to break through the high prices of the year established some time ago. Two $500,000 blocks of the 4th Liberty changed hands.

Best carrier bonds were steady to firm but the turnover of most of the gilt-edged liens was only nominal.

Near the high level were Chesapeake & Ohio issues. Pennsylvania issues were higher. Erie 5s of 67 advanced 1⅝ points and several prime bonds gained about ½. Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s broke 5½ points. The Seaboard Refunding 4 yielded 5½ points on a few bonds and is 20 points under the year's high.

Most convertible issues finished the day slightly under the previous day's close, after showing some signs of rallying in the forenoon. Prices held above the year's low levels and the extent of trading was far under normal.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 27. (AP)—Curb stocks drifted uncertainly today, as trading dwindled to a volume barely sufficient to keep the ticker tape moving. The more active stocks were firm early in the day, heavy during the afternoon, until the last hour, when a rally curtailed some of the losses. Net changes were mostly narrow and inconsequential sales were only 550,000 shares.

The utilities were firm during the morning, but became irregular later. Electric Bond and Share was an active feature, selling off 3 points, then cutting its loss in half. American Gas gained a couple of points, and American Superpower closed a fraction higher.

Duke Power jumped 10 points in a few sales. Oils were dull. Cosden sold up 2⅛, then fell back to close off 1. Gulf closed 1⅛ points down.

Technicolor was a weak spot, tumbling nearly 6 points to another new low at 25¼, compared to its peak made not many weeks ago at 86½. It closed at 27. The company announced early in the year it had contracts enough to take its entire production for the year.

The bear drive on the stock, however, has been accompanied by rumors of increasing competition, which may result in cancellation of contracts. Deere dropped about 7 points in renewed bear selling, then rallied to close only about a point lower.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Alhambra, Hill nr. 8th.—"The King of Jazz."

Bard's Eighth between Broadway & Hill.—"Only the Brave." A nice little drama of the South, ably played by Gary Cooper and Mary Brian.

California, Main near Eighth—"White Cargo." An English idea of the South Seas is rather good, though sometimes slow.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"So This Is London." Will Rogers goes abroad again and finds London as funny as Paris.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Big House." An exciting and realistic drama of prison life featuring Wallace Beery and Chester Morris.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Honey." A human bit of comic-drama with Nancy Carroll.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Rogue Song." Lawrence Tibbett opens up his baritone in the Caucasus and everyone applauds.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6706 Hollywood Boulevard—"The Bad One." Dolores Del Rio and Edmund Lowe go through a lot of activities and riots before they finally get together.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Lady of Scandal." Ruth Chatterton in a domestic picture of frequent fineness.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"The Fall Guy." An amusing incident in which Jack Mulhall is innocently, if unfortunately, involved.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Swing High." Old-time circus atmosphere uniquely sets off rather conventional plot. Helen Twelvetrees appeals; Daphne Pollard amuses. Short comedy good.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Paramount on Parade." See above.

STAGE

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th.—"The Last Mile." A tense feverish drama of a prisoner's last hour of life. Clark Gable and [illegible] Woods.

HEARST TO REFINANCE OBLIGATIONS

Plans Sale of Stock in His Publications to Employees and to Public

CHICAGO, June 27. (Exclusive)—Plans of William Randolph Hearst looking to a large-scale refinancing of many of his newspaper and magazine properties through the sale to employees and the public of $50,000,000 of stock in a new holding company have aroused considerable interest in Chicago financial circles. It was said to be the largest stock financing ever undertaken by an American newspaper.

Heretofore Mr. Hearst has financed his properties by bond issues on his various publications and several holding concerns, which have been offered through bond dealers and syndicates. These issues now outstanding in public hands aggregate more than $60,000,000, including obligations of a Hearst-Brisbane real-estate company.

Now, however, it is Mr. Hearst's intention, according to local bankers, to relieve the load of the bonds by refinancing a considerable part of these obligations through sale of preferred stock in a new holding concern known as Hearst Consolidated Publications, Inc.

Several bond issues on various Hearst properties mature within the next few years and will require several million dollars to retire interest charges. Most of the issues also are guaranteed personally by Mr. Hearst as to payment of principal and interest.

The sinking fund and serial payment provisions on the various bond issues of Hearst enterprises now in public hands aggregate between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 per year and, in addition, total interest charges are between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000. These heavy fixed charges against earnings would be removed with a retirement of the bonds through the sale of stock.

Officers Seek Suicide's Name

FULLERTON, June 27.—The body of an unidentified man, apparently about 70 years of age and well dressed, with the throat cut, was found under an orange tree on the Bastanchury ranch this afternoon by T. G. Kwasigroch, a ranch employee. A razor nearby indicated suicide, police declared.

No identification marks or papers were found on the body by Sergt. J. C. Gregory. A deep cut in the left leg below the knee indicated further effort on the part of the man to end his life, Gregory reported. The body was brought to the J. E. Seale funeral chapel here, where Coroner C. D. Broun plans to conduct an inquest.

The man was dressed in a blue suit, nearly new shoes and had gray hair.

PYGMY QUEST PERILS DEFIED

Mrs. Akeley Tells Story of Her Congo Adventures

Death Barely Missed When Buffalo Herd Charges

Knife of Insane Native Boy Also Narrowly Avoided

NEW YORK, June 27. (NANA)—It seems incredible that this woman of middle years and gentle manner, so feminine in a soft-toned dinner gown as she sat there on a penthouse terrace, high above the lights of Manhattan, could have had the hard and savage and perilous adventures thus calmly and casually related.

That chilling face-to-face with death when her ammunition failed as the buffalo herd charged her, the rough, cruel hardships and privations of travel in the Belgian Congo, the insane pygmy who sought to kill her, the steaming heat, the streaming rains, the constant hazards of life among these African tribes, the loneliness—especially the loneliness.

For Mrs. Delia J. Akeley went single-handed into the dark wilderness, a solitary white woman with only black boys as burden bearers, but if, as she admitted before she started on this latest adventure, she was to have and did have moments of fear, they never knew it.

FOURTH EXPEDITION

The expedition just completed is Mrs. Akeley's fourth into Central Africa. This time it was not a hunt for big game. It was a hunt for little men, the forest pygmies, strange, shy creatures about whom there is so much to be learned.

Mrs. Akeley wanted to study them and their customs, their games and their dress, if one could call it that, and most of what she went out for she accomplished. She has returned with hundreds of photographs, with native tools and ornaments and weapons, and with the material for pygmy villages which she will set up for the Brooklyn Museum. But there is much she still wants to do.

"I am going back," she said. "But this time not alone. I'll have companions—scientists. There is much for us to do."

FIVE MONTHS' STAY

Mrs. Akeley, who was the first wife of the late Carl Akeley, explorer and naturalist, spent five months in the pygmy country. She had planned to stay longer, but constant, torrential rains made this inadvisable. She struck into the pygmy region from Arabi. A day's journey, made by Mrs. Akeley in a chair borne by natives, took her to a tribe known as the Mangebetus who are savages of normal stature and overlords of the pygmies. The Sultan of the Mangebetus sent his men into the forest to bring the pygmies in, but they were a disappointment. For they were sophisticated little fellows who had posed frequently for motion pictures, and were ready to dash here and there at the white man's call.

So Mrs. Akeley returned to Arabi and then started out once more, this time by motor car, which carried her deep into the pygmy country. When pygmies were seen slipping through the forests edging the roadway, Mrs. Akeley would give up her car and go in after them, camping for days until she had made friends with them and could study them in detail.

CHARGED BY HERD

It was during one of these periods of encampment that Mrs. Akeley had her encounter with the buffalo. She was out shooting herself a dinner. She fired at a buck but a herd of killer buffalo came crashing down upon her in response.

"They are little devils, those buffalo," remarked Mrs. Akeley. "I was in a tight place. I set myself behind a tree and aimed at the leader of the rush. But sput! My ammunition was dead. No good. I was helpless.

"The tree saved me. The buffalo went charging by on either side of it. It divided them and saved me. The buffalo swept on past. That ammunition? I found that it was twenty years old. It came from New York. And I am going to see about that." Mrs. Akeley's lips tightened.

ANOTHER ESCAPE

The crazed native who tried to kill her was a boy.

"About 10 years of age, perhaps," Mrs. Akeley explained. "For days he had followed me, everywhere. Always pointing at me in a curious way. And then he tried to knife me. I turned just in time to save my life."

This boy, said Mrs. Akeley, had the conviction that if she were dead he would become white. So he sharpened his knife and got ready to carve the explorer into small portions.

Mrs. Akeley turned from this bloodthirsty tale to a discussion of the romantic significance of buttered toast among the pygmies. She was entertaining a chieftain and his numerous wives, treating them to tea and toast. She handed a bit of the toast to the chief, disregarding the warning scowl of one of her boys. The chief's black eyes brightened, and he took his departure. But the next day he sought Mrs. Akeley out in evident angry chagrin, and took her to task for not keeping her engagement with him.

"And what engagement is that?" Mrs. Akeley inquired, puzzled.

It was then explained to her that presenting buttered toast to a pygmy was a sentimental overture to an affair.

"I was most careful about buttered toast after that," Mrs. Akeley laughed.

She found the pymies intelligent, friendly, simple-minded, with their own standard of morals.

"And they are the healthiest people in the Congo," she said. "They are sturdy and quick. I should say, that their height averages four feet."

A pygmy has as many wives as he can afford. He buys them—so many bows, so many arrows. The transaction is always with the girl's father. Often a child is sold in marriage before birth, and if the child should prove to be a boy the buyer is out the purchase price.

Norma Talmadge is on her way to Paris under an assumed name, according to word received from New York last night.

She sailed Wednesday on the Ile de France, and, according to her husband, Joseph Schenck, went under the assumed name to avoid unwelcome publicity and attention and not to get a Paris divorce.

"We are the best of friends and are not living separately as some people say. In fact we are crazy about each other," Schenck was quoted as saying.

"Miss Talmadge is quiet and retiring," he added when seen in the United Artists' Building in New York, "and if she goes abroad under her own name people insist on feting her. She doesn't want this as she is going abroad for rest and quiet."

He explained he didn't see her off because he didn't reach town until the day after she had sailed.

"That was just a coincidence," he said. "I was held up in Chicago for two days visiting Jesse Lasky at his farm near there."

He also explained her failure to stop at the Park Central Hotel where he occupies a suite.

"She didn't stop anywhere because she sailed the day she arrived, Wednesday."

Council Dazed as Committee Returns Funds

The day of miracles has not passed, it was remarked feelingly by Councilman Martin yesterday when a letter was read to the City Council from a citizens' committee which had obtained an appropriation of $500 of city funds and which informed the Council that all the money had not been used and the remainder was being returned to the city treasury.

The $500 appropriation had been voted to the 1930 Memorial Day Committee of All Veteran Organizations of American Wars to aid in covering the cost of its Memorial Day observance. The letter that the committee sent to the Council said that, because of the fine co-operation it had received from numerous citizens, it had been necessary to expend only $295.32 of the city's appropriation and the remaining $204.68 is being returned with thanks.

NEW MOVE FOR BEACH OIL CURB

Council Group Causes Delay on One of Four Permits

Other Applications Receive Unanimous Approval

Another attempt was made by several City Councilmen yesterday to place some limitation on the granting of permits to drill for oil in the Venice beach area, but the stand of the opposition served only to delay passage until next week of one of the four applications which reached the Council yesterday.

Three of the applications were granted unanimously, but the fourth, from Josephine M. Kent, did not receive the unanimous vote necessary for immediate action, Councilmen Williams, Jacobson and Martin voting against it. If the same vote of 11 to 3 is cast when it comes up again next Friday it will be granted.

OPPOSITION STAND

The objection of these three Councilmen is based on the fact that the lots on which the applicant wishes to drill are on the ocean side of the Speedway, and they regard drilling on that side of this thoroughfare as the beginning of a dangerous encroachment on the beach area. It is their wish to make the Speedway the west limit of oil drilling, but unless the majority of the Council changes its mind within the next week no such limitation will be put into effect.

Two resolutions were introduced in the Council yesterday which were induced by the Venice oil boom. One, by Councilman Randall, points out that an opinion rendered by City Attorney Werner February 24, last, rules that the city may impose a license tax on the production of oil within the city and asks that an ordinance placing such a tax be prepared. The matter was referred to the Council's Finance Committee and the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency.

SHEATHING URGED

The other resolution, presented by Councilman Barthel, whose district includes Venice, states that, owing to the skeleton construction of the oil derricks, there is a danger of spraying oil over the neighboring property, and asks that an ordinance be prepared requiring the inclosing of the derricks with corrugated sheeting at a reasonable time prior to the coming in of the well, as directed by the inspector of oil wells. The resolution was referred to the Council's City Planning Committee.

MOTHER OF FRANK FLINT SUCCUMBS

Mrs. Danskin, Resident of Southland Forty Years, Dies in Pasadena

Mrs. Althea Louise Danskin, a resident of Los Angeles and Pasadena for more than forty years, died at the Pasadena home of her late son, United States Senator Frank Flint, yesterday at 90 years of age. Mrs. Danskin was born in North Reading, Mass., and came to Southern California with her first husband, Francis Eaton Flint, and their two sons, Frank and Motley H. Flint.

During many years of her life in Los Angeles Mrs. Danskin was prominent in the club activities of the city and maintained an active interest in civic affairs.

Private funeral services will be conducted this afternoon in Pasadena from the funeral chapel of Turner & Stevens at 2:30 o'clock, and following the service the body will be sent to Oakland for interment in Mountain View Cemetery in that city.

EMPLOYEES WILL PICNIC

Two thousand employees of the Western Union Telegraph Company, their families and friends, and visiting employees will hold their fourth annual picnic tomorrow in Griffith Park. The program, starting with a golf tournament at 6 a.m., will include athletic events and other entertainment. The afternoon feature will be the annual baseball game between the combined traffic and plant departments against the commercial department.

SCHOOL VANDALS SOUGHT

Search Under Way After Discovery of Damage in Excess of $1500 at Hollywood High

A few fingerprints, admittedly of little value, gave Hollywood detectives their only clew yesterday to the identity of vandals who caused damage estimated at more than $1500, Thursday night at the Hollywood High School auditorium.

The havoc was discovered by Principal Foley shortly before the hour for the opening of the annual commencement exercises and police were notified. The occurrence was not made public until yesterday morning.

The intruders virtually wrecked the stage portion of the auditorium, emptied the acid contents of two fire extinguishers into a grand piano and destroyed a number of potted plants. Hundreds of chairs which had been arranged on the stage for the graduating class were thrown into the orchestra pit.

Two kettle drums, valued at more than $100 each, were wrecked. The piano, the principal said, was ruined by the effects of the acid on its mechanism. The instrument was valued at approximately $1000.

Capt. Miller of the Hollywood detective bureau assigned Detective Lieutenant Heitzelman to the investigation and his first step was to have a search made for fingerprints. Several imprints were found and photographed, Miller said, but they are almost worthless unless other clews are found. The only alternative would be to take fingerprints of every male student in the school, and this plan hardly seems feasible, he said.

The auditorium, according to Principal Foley, was locked from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. and it was between those hours that the havoc was wrought. Detectives said a padlock on the stage door apparently had been opened with a duplicate key and expressed hope that this fact may lead to identification. They are convinced, Miller said, that there were at least two engaged in the work of destruction.

Detective Lieutenant Heitzelman spent several hours yesterday in conference with Principal Foley and other members of the faculty and intimated late in the afternoon that he had obtained information which may lead to the arrest of several suspects.

Rev. James Hamilton Lash of Hollywood Congregational Church, performed the ceremony in a western setting similar to many that Gibson has employed in his pictures.

Following a reception in the ranch home to 150 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left for an extended honeymoon to the Canadian Rockies. They will return to make their residence at Gibson's ranch, formerly the Baker ranch.

Jeanette Loff, actress, and Isabel (Bubbles) Steifel (Mrs. Reginald Denny) were confined in local hospitals and unable to attend the ceremony as bridesmaids. Carmen Pantages was maid of honor and Marion Nixon (Mrs. Edward Hillman,) Marie Prevost and Mrs. Mae Sunday acted as bridesmaids. The women attendants wore georgette gowns of pastel shades.

William (Buster) Collier, Jr., was best man. Ushers were Dr. Harry Martin, Arthur Rossen and Wallace Davis.

STEWART'S WILL NAMES HIS FAMILY

Size of Oil Man's Estate Not Disclosed as Widow, and Children Share It

The entire estate of William Lyman Stewart, president of the Union Oil Company who died last Saturday, is left to his widow, Mrs. Margaret E. Stewart, 790 San Gabriel Boulevard, Lamanda Park, and four children, according to his last will and testament filed for probate yesterday.

Although it is known that the oil man was possessed of a large fortune the papers filed yesterday only state property valued in excess of $10,000 consisting of stocks, bonds and real estate.

Mrs. Margaret E. Stewart, the widow, is named executrix, but she waives the appointment in favor of a son, William Lyman Stewart, Jr., and a daughter, Sarah Arnold Bennett, and asks that they be appointed.

Under the provisions of the will Mrs. Stewart is bequeathed the family home, valued at $50,000, and its furnishings. The will further creates five trust funds of the residue of the estate to be divided equally among Mrs. Stewart and the four children, William Lyman Stewart, Jr., Sarah Arnold Bennett, Adelaide and Arthur Stewart. They are to terminate for the children when they reach 35 years of age.

The document was drawn by the oil operator on April 1, 1923.

Dolling Up River Bed Considered

As the result of suggestions which have been made to Mayor Porter that something should be done to improve the appearance of the Los Angeles River bed along which railroad lines run, bringing many visitors to the city, the Mayor conferred yesterday with the Board of Public Works.

Nothing definite came of the conference except the giving of verbal assurance to the Mayor by several of the Public Works Commissioners that they will investigate to see if there are any steps the city can take.

June Weather Not "Unusual"

Another day with a temperature top of 78 deg. and a bottom of 59 was recorded here yesterday by the local weather bureau. Continued foggy weather close to the coast is predicted for early mornings, but clear a few miles inland.

The humidity was close to the average for June. At 5 a.m., it registered 83 per cent and at noon it had fallen to 52 per cent. Normal humidity for June is 88 per cent at 5 a.m. and 58 per cent at noon.

LATE RAINS INCREASED FIRE RISKS

County Foresters Finding Hazards Made Greater by Growth of Weeds

Late rains this year, instead of lessening the fire hazard in Los Angeles county, increased it, according to the County Forestry Department.

"While the late rainfalls we had this year made the fire-hazard season later, the extra moisture caused a tremendous growth of grass, weeds and brush which are now getting dry and which will create more of a fire hazard than ever," said L. S. Percey, assistant fire warden in charge of construction.

"In some places," he added, "the grass is more than a foot high. This is drying out now making it extremely dangerous and extremely difficult to handle when once fired."

Percey added that campers and autoists driving along the highways will have to be more careful this year than ever because of the heavy, dried undergrowth.

The assistant fire warden has just completed about ten miles of firebreaks adjacent to the boundary lines of Glendale and Altadena.

ASSESSMENTS MODIFIED

Appeals against the confirmation of the assessments for the opening of Sherman Way from its northeasterly line to Van Nuys Boulevard were denied by the City Council yesterday, but then the Council ordered a modification of the original assessments. It will hold a hearing on the new assessments on July 22, next.

LASKY SEES EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY

Paramount Magnate Bases Prediction on Box Office Record of Late

The nation is about to enjoy an era of prosperity, Jesse L. Lasky, vice-president of Paramount-Publix Corporation, predicted yesterday in discussing the business outlook as he viewed it on his recent trip to New York. Theater box offices, he said, serve as an excellent gauge of the financial condition of the people, which, of course, reflects the situation in business and industry.

JESSE L. LASKY

"The news we thus learn is good," he stated. "There is marked improvement in all lines of industrial endeavor and the country is swinging into a thoroughly healthy condition."

Lasky arrived Thursday to co-operate with B. P. Schulberg, general manager of West Coast production, in launching the new season's schedule. Sixty-five features are to be produced in the Hollywood and New York studios and seventy-two, each in six different languages, at the company's plant at Joinville, near Paris.

Trio to Conduct Annual Jubilee

Three masters of ceremonies, Fred Niblo, Benny Rubin and Charles Irwin, will contribute wit, wisdom and wise cracks at the annual Hollywood midsummer jubilee at Hollywood Bowl Wednesday night.

All are graduates of the vaudeville stage, though now members of the screen colony. Niblo was headlined as monologist in his pre-Hollywood days. Rubin became a master of ceremonies when de luxe pictures adopted revues. Irwin proved his talents as master of ceremonies when Paul Whiteman's first picture, "King of Jazz," was presented.

TRASH CANS GET LETTERS, SO THEY'LL BE REPAINTED

The color of waste paper cans on the city streets is to be changed from green to battleship gray, it was decided by the Board of Public Works yesterday, but it was not esthetic considerations which caused the decision. It was because mail boxes also are green and it has been found that many a letter is being deposited in the waste-paper cans under the impression that they are mail boxes.

The fact was called to the attention of the board by Postmaster O'Brien, who said in a letter to Public Works Commissioner McGuire: "It is found that many persons mistake the very serviceable trash cans on the downtown streets for United States mail deposit boxes, and the fact that they are very similar in color to the mail boxes is largely responsible for this fact. It is believed that if some distinctive marking could be used for these trash cans, indicating they are for waste matter only, or if they could be painted some color different from that of the mail boxes, that the difficulty would be more or less overcome."

This letter was not, however, the first indication the board had had of the situation, for it was brought out during their discussion that refuse collectors had reported the finding of hundreds of letters in the trash cans.

QUIZ ON MISSING FILES ORDERED

Power Department Mystery to be Gone Into

Employees Asked to Bring Evidence Before Board

Data Guarded Day and Night Suddenly "Worthless"

A thorough investigation into the disappearance of records from an office of the Department of Water and Power during the recent water bonds campaign will be conducted by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners. President Haynes announced at the conclusion of yesterday's meeting of the board.

"For the good of the city, the Department of Water and Power and its faithful employees, as well as for the good of ourselves, we believe this investigation should be conducted," Dr. Haynes said. "The findings will be given to the public."

WHAT'S MISSING

The records in question included precinct maps, lists of names of employees of the department counted upon to aid in bond-campaign work, lists of names of citizens, other election data and a valuable series of power-load studies made for the Bureau of Power and Light. They were removed from Room 511 in the Boardway Building of the department on or about the night of May 8.

Burdett Moody, business agent of the Power Bureau, stated to reporters for The Times that he had the records reported missing removed or destroyed. He said they were worthless.

Although no date for the opening of the investigation was announced it was intimated that it probably will be gotten under way Monday. Dr. Haynes said that any employee knowing anything about the records and their disappearance will be invited to come before the board and tell it.

EMPLOYEES IMMUNE

When asked whether employees would not only be invited generally but would be summoned individually in certain cases to appear before the board under assurance that no reprisals will be permitted against them for talking, Dr. Haynes said the board will see to it that employees can talk freely without fear.

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood had stated the day previous that employees would be permitted to discuss the matter with the reporters.

The public disclosure of the disappearance of the records through the columns of The Times produced widespread comment, particularly throughout the ranks of the 4600 employees of the Department of Water and Power.

CHANGE OF VIEW

Moody's explanation that he had the records destroyed because they were "worthless" and he needed the room was the subject of discussion in view of the fact that extreme precaution had been taken to guard the records from inspection or theft. Some employees had quoted Moody as saying that under no circumstances was anyone to be permitted in the room where the records were kept, outside of employees assigned to handle them, nor were any of the records to be let out of the room. Further, two truck drivers took turns staying in the room all night with the records. Then came the sudden order sending Maurice Scott, in charge of the records, up to Owens Valley on the afternoon of May 8—a mission he had never been given before.

That evening Alex Pettibone, assistant to Scott and the compiler of most of the records, was requested to turn the key to the room over, not to the truck-driver guard he had been giving it to, but to Tom Mullen, in charge of transportation for the bureau.

MULLEN NAMED

"Mullen asked me for the key himself," said Pettibone in discussing the incident yesterday. "He also asked me for all the keys to the filing cabinets in which the records were kept. He stepped over to the cabinets, pulled out a few drawers, asking me what they contained. Mullen had been in and out of the room, having been designated as assistant to Scott in the campaign work.

"I left the room that night with Mullen and the truck driver in charge. When I came back next morning the door was locked, as usual, and as I had been doing, I knocked. There was no answer. I knocked again and again. I real-

SAVANTS ON ICE AGE TRAIL

Carnegie Fund Grubstakes Institutions Here to Renew Search of Gypsum Cave, Nevada

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, June 27.—Excavations in Gypsum Cave, near Las Vegas, Nev., which already have pushed back human history in North America at least 20,000 years, will be resumed in November when a second cave expedition will be financed by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

Announcement that the Carnegie Institution has made an extensive grant of money to make possible the completion of excavations was made last night by Dr. James A. B. Scherer, director of Southwest Museum, Los Angeles, in the course of his introduction of a speaker who addressed members of the University Club of Pasadena.

The grant followed a recent inspection of the cave by Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution, who characterized the discovery that men were roasting ground-sloth steaks in this vicinity 25,000 years before Columbus made his voyage as one of the most important finds in the history of American archeology.

Through a co-operative arrangement between Dr. Robert A. Millikan and Dr. Scherer, the second Gypsum Cave expedition will be conducted jointly by the Southwest Museum and the California Institute of Technology, all expenses being borne by the Carnegie Institution. California Institute of Technology is assuming responsibility for collecting animal remains in the cave, while the Southwest Museum is specializing in the discovery of human artifacts.

Dr. Scherer is of the opinion that about two months will be required to exhaust the possibilities of Gypsum Cave. He stated that the Carnegie Institution's grant came at a time when the museum's funds for the purpose were depleted.

Before the discovery of campfire ashes in Ice Age geologic strata scientists commonly believed that man was a relative newcomer in this country.

The Lancer

SOMEWHERE around Los Angeles the fountain of youth has been discovered. Ponce de Leon looked for it in the wrong State.

I attended a dinner given by the past presidents and directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Many old friends were there—like Fred L. Alles, who gave me my very first job; John Mitchell, Senator Bulla, George Parsons, who originated the campaign to sign the water holes in the desert; W. B. Washburn . . .

It happens that I know that several of these men are more than 70, and one or two are nearly 80. Not one of them seemed more than 60, and some of them looked to be mere children of 50—alive, keen, alert, interested in everything—quick on the trigger, mentally. It is astonishing.

HIGH-GRADE ORE

The Mitchell family has panned out about as well as any I have ever known.

Mow Mitchell is considered to be one of the most brilliant men in the commercial service of the government. Standish is the executive head of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Ruth Comfort Mitchell (now Mrs. Young) is one of the shining lights of the literary world, and the youngest boy, Douglas, gives every promise of great success.

Stan and Mow Mitchell were both football stars. I remember a high school football game in which a boy was hurt. Stan Mitchell clapped him on the shoulder and said he was a good player. "Gee," said the little boy, his eyes filling with tears, "I'd get busted up any old day to have Stan Mitchell say that to me."

Then, as now, Stan was accustomed to chatterbox along at the rate of about one word every eighty-four hours. His words meant something.

SMUTTY MAGAZINES

As to this wholesale arrest of news dealers for selling magazines that are spotted morally—

It is highly probable that many magazines that are sold ought not to be. But it would seem that the retail dealer is justly entitled to have some legally established standard whereby to govern his business. Drug store clerks are a funny court to be erected for the protection of public morals. The place to stop unclean magazines is at the printing press.

Incidentally, after all this free advertising there is going to be a hot market for magazines publishing the pictures of young ladies alleged, averred and asserted to be artists' models.

RURAL TRADE

When Coulter's Dry Goods Store opened an uptown branch Mr. Coulter was so afraid of his own revolutionary optimism that he kept the old downtown store going until he could give the women time to get educated into going to the rural districts to do their shopping. The rural store was located at the corner of Spring and Second street.

THRILLS

The gentleman who lived in the attic and is now being tried on a charge of murder had his exciting moments. Sometimes, as he sat there in the dark, he was thrilled to hear them calling the cat.

SANHUBER AGAIN DENIES MURDER

Costello Reads Confession in State's Quiz

Exchanges Cause Laughs in Judge Hardy's Court

Scheming of Shapiro to Get Widow Isolated Told

Another day of cross-examination in Superior Judge Hardy's court found Otto Sanhuber, asserted "garret ghost," still standing firmly by his story that he did not murder Fred Oesterreich eight years ago, despite previous confessions of the deed.

Yesterday was the third day the diminutive witness has spent on the witness stand, approximately half of the time having been devoted to cross-examination. Just before court adjourned last night, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello told the court that he will finish the cross-examination in one more hour, and Judge Hardy instructed the jury to be in their box at 9 a.m. Monday in the hope of concluding evidence in the case that day.

CAUSE LAUGHTER

Yesterday was a repetition of Thursday, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello seeking to draw the witness into admissions and Sanhuber fighting to avoid them, the exchanges between the two leading once to an outburst of laughter in the courtroom.

Taking the "attic man's" so-called confession of the murder before the grand jury, Costello went through it bit by bit, making the witness declare the truth or falsity of each particular statement as it was read. Generally, Sanhuber declared the statements were false, and part of the story prepared by Attorney Herman Shapiro, once representing Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich and herself now accused of participation in her husband's murder.

"YOU HELPED ME"

"Did you so testify?" demanded Costello repeatedly as he read the grand jury transcript.

"Yes, and you helped me along nicely," snapped Sanhuber at one point, reminding the prosecutor that he also conducted the proceedings before the grand jury.

Sanhuber in his testimony declared that Shapiro was scheming to separate Mrs. Oesterreich from all of her friends so that she would have only him to turn to for business and other advice, and that Shapiro was attempting to use him (Sanhuber) to further these ends.

"But at that time Shapiro was managing an automobile finance company for her, wasn't he?" asked Costello.

"It's hard to say whether he was managing it for her or for himself," was the witness's answer.

STICKS TO STORY

Step by step the prosecutor took Sanhuber back over the recital of the night of the murder, but on every material point the "garret ghost" stuck to his story that he was locked in the attic and that, although he heard the shots and heard Mrs. Oesterreich in whispered conversation with some one other than her husband, he had no part in the murder.

Switching suddenly to a new angle, Costello asked the witness if he had not, in substance, confessed the shooting to Drs. T. J. Orbison and Edsal Steel, while he was recently under observation in the psycopathic ward of the General Hospital. Sanhuber denied this, also.

QUIZ ON EDUCATION

Costello tried to batter down Sanhuber's professed lack of education and general unenlightenment that supposedly led him to be dominated by various persons, by demanding if it was not true that the "attic man" had not taken correspondence courses in various subjects while he confined himself for ten years in Mrs. Oesterrich's various attics.

Sanhuber admitted that he had studied shorthand, understood some German, but denied that he had studied dramatics.

John Fraser, Mar Vista druggist, was placed on the stand briefly as a character witness for Sanhuber. Fraser testified he had known the defendant for approximately a year while the latter worked in Mar Vista and that his reputation for peace and quiet was good.

WOMAN FIGHTS FREE AS MAN SEIZES HER

Seized by a man who accosted her as she was walking home from a street car early yesterday morning, Miss Katherine Bennett, 947 South Magnolia street, fought and screamed until her assailant released her and ran, she reported to police. She said the attack ocurred at Tenth street and Vermont avenue shortly after midnight. The man was described as about 6 feet 2 inches in height, wearing light trousers and a Panama hat.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS DECLINING

Only Three New Cases Reported in County; Urge Children's Protection

The number of cases of infantile paralysis in Los Angeles and nearby cities of the county has decreased, according to Dr. George H. Roth, director of the bureau of communicable diseases in the county health office. Dr. Roth predicted that, during the course of the coming month, figures will show further notable declines.

Starting with a few isolated and scattered cases several months ago, Dr. Roth said there had been a gradual spread of the malady, which is known as poliomyelitis, until the totals reached thirty-seven cases for the county, with three deaths, and sixty-five for the city, with four deaths.

"Poliomyelitis is something we know very little about," Dr. Roth said. "It is caused by an ultramicroscopic virus which has not been isolated. We do know, however, that it is contagious and usually spread from discharges from the mouth and nose of infected persons. We also have the serious problem of unknown adult carriers of the disease."

Dr. Roth quoted a passage from a recent bulletin of the State Department of Public Health which stated that when the disease is prevalent during the late spring and early summer, there is nearly always an extensive and disastrous outbreak in the late summer and early fall. "In view of this record," Dr. Roth said, "it would be a wise precaution for parents to keep their children away from crowds."

The medical officer also called attention to the request of the county health department for voluntary contributions of a small amount of blood from convalescent paralysis patients, saying that this serum treatment is the most effective for sufferers.

No new cases were reported to Dr. Giles S. Porter, assistant City Health Officer, yesterday and there were but three new cases reported in the county at large.

September May See Decision on Shuler Appeal

Decision in the contempt of court action involving Rev. R. P. Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, South, may be expected before the end of September, as a result of the action of the State Supreme Court in filing a formal order of submission.

Shuler appealed to the Appellate Court and then to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus after serving fifteen days of a twenty-day sentence. He was found guilty of contempt for utterances made over his radio station.

Mullins Divorce Case Postponed Until November

A contested divorce action brought by Mrs. Emma A. Mullins against James A. Mullins, Los Angeles contractor, came to a halt yesterday in the court of Superior Judge Crawford when the latter ruled that if the husband wished to press the assertions of misconduct on the part of his wife, he must file an amended cross-complaint.

The judge held that Mullins would have to make specific charges against Mrs. Mullins instead of making general assertions in his complaint.

Attorney Clarence Conlin, representing Mrs. Mullins, agreed to a continuance of the case until November 20, next, so that the amended complaint can be filed, on condition that he be paid an additional fee of $750 and that Mrs. Mullins be given $500, instead of $250, temporary monthly alimony. Attorney A. P. Michael Narlian represents the husband.

Attorney Brand Pays His Fine in Contempt Case

Edward R. Brand, attorney sentenced by Municipal Judge Bogue recently for contempt of court for filing an affidavit of prejudice attacking the court's ability after he had been refused a continuance in a liquor trial, yesterday paid the $300 fine imposed.

Brand was denied a writ of habeas corpus by Superior Judge Wood after a hearing Thursday. Yesterday the Appellate Court refused to issue a writ and, rather than go to jail, he paid the fine.

Hearing on a writ applied for by Jason Grossman, attorney with Brand in the same case, who was sentenced to pay a $100 fine by Judge Bogue for contempt, will be conducted by Judge Wood on Wednesday.

CHARLIE PROVES HE'S NO GALLANT

Trained Seal Refuses to Lose Swimming Race to Girls

Unusual Contest Held in Pool Here

Beatrice Owens (third from left) lasted longer than other fair contestants in competition with sea animal.

An excellent seal but a poor press agent is Charlie. Yesterday he competed in a swimming match against five girls in the Ambassador pool. Every one of the girls is attractive. Beatrice Owens, 20 years of age, particularly, has some professional distinction in this respect, having won the beauty prize at Ocean Park recently.

Before Charlie undertook the swimming match his manager swears he took him aside and had a heart-to-heart talk with him. "If a seal beats a girl," said the manager, "there's no news in it. But if a girl beats a seal—well, figure it out, Charlie, for yourself."

And what did Charlie do? The girls were hardly started across the pool before he had reached the other side and returned.

Charlie, who is performing at the R.-K.-O. Theater, can do a tap dance, stand on his head, balance things on his nose and sing.

"LOST"-FURRIER CLEW TURNS UP

Chicagoan's Stocks Traced by Local Officers

Securities Worth $80,000 Located at Broker's

They Vanished as Reisappel Left Before Insolvency

Discovery of $80,000 worth of stock certificates at a local brokerage firm and the tracing of their sale and purchase by police may solve the mystery of the disappearance of Mark Reisappel, fur merchant of Chicago, who has been missing under peculiar circumstances since last December.

The stock certificates were located through an effort to collect the dividends. The coupons immediately were identified as cut from securities once owned by the missing merchant. The securities were being handled by the firm here for a client, who purchased them through a New York concern, which concern reported to police that they were received from Chicago.

While tracing the securities police yesterday began a search for Reisappel, who disappeared last December after telling his wife he was going to bed. The family lived at 5136 North Kimball avenue. Reisappel operated a fur store at 5 South Wabash avenue.

Reisappel never went to bed, but in a pocket of his coat was a note saying that he intended to commit suicide. He told his wife that he was heavily involved in the stock market. He was never seen again by members of his family, but a check-up on his business during bankruptcy revealed $80,000 in securities missing. A life insurance policy for $10,000 had been allowed to lapse. The wife says that she believes her husband left home with the $80,000 in securities, and has requested the aid of police in a search for him.

Tariff Won't Affect Milk

Despite the new import rates imposed on dairy products by the recently enacted Smoot-Hawley tariff bill, the price of fresh milk served in Southern California homes will be in no way affected, officials of local milk-distributing firms declared yesterday.

"Rumors that retail prices of milk are to be advanced in this territory have been growing in volume recently, probably as a result of the publication of the agricultural schedule which shows the new levies to be made upon dairy products. Fears that these rates forecast a raise in milk prices to the consumer are groundless, however," K. L. Carver, vice-president in charge of sales and advertising of Western Dairy Products Company, declared emphatically.

"These rates will have no bearing on milk prices in this territory, since no fresh milk or cream from foreign nations is served in this market."

Defense Will Subject Him to Examination

Special Session Ordered to Expedite Trial

[illegible] Berman, prominent figure in the Julian Petroleum Corporation investigation, is expected to take the witness stand in Superior Judge Schauer's court this morning for cross-examination by defense attorneys at the trial of Morris Lavine, newspaper man, and [illegible] Johnson, charged with extorting $75,000 from Charles H. Crawford, politician.

Berman, called as a prosecution witness, already has testified concerning certain details of the asserted plot to obtain money from Crawford under threats of an exposé. A special session of court was ordered by Judge Schauer to expedite the trial.

Virtually the entire day yesterday was devoted to the testimony of [illegible] Matthews, chief investigator for Dist.-Atty. Fitts. He was called as a prosecution witness by William McKay and Frank Curran, District Attorney's deputies. He was cross-examined by Richard Cantillon, who, with William T. Kendrick, Jr., represents Lavine. William Beirne, who is attorney for Mrs. Johnson, also cross-examined [illegible].

CAPT. BEAN FILES BRIEF IN OUSTER

Dismissed Police Captain Submits Affidavits to Fight Drinking Charges

Briefs and affidavits of written testimony in his behalf were filed with the Police Commission yesterday by Capt. James F. Bean, recently dismissed from the department on the ground of conduct unbecoming an officer, following a collision between a police machine he was driving and one operated by a citizen on Angeles Mesa.

Yesterday was the final day of grace granted by the commission for filing data as the result of his request several weeks ago for a public hearing, which was denied on the ground that the commission had adopted the practice of considering written instead of spoken evidence to save time and prevent being influenced by oratory.

The briefs and affidavits, making quite an imposing pile, present evidence that Bean had not been drinking as asserted by witnesses dug up by Commissioner Drake. President Thorpe declined to make public the contents, stating that it would not be fair to the appellant until the commission has digested the written evidence and rendered its decision.

He said that Chief Steckel has not yet presented his written evidence in behalf of his action in dismissing Bean but is expected to do so shortly. Steckel can have access to Bean evidence, if he wishes, Thorpe said.

"No decision will be rendered until the board has thoroughly gone over the written evidence," said Thorpe.

TWO SEWER CONTRACTS ANNOUNCED

Line Will be Extended in Pair of Sections to Take Care of Van Nuys

Contracts were awarded yesterday by the Board of Public Works for a total of $[illegible] for the extension of the north outfall sewer in two sections to Van Nuys. On the completion of these two sections a large portion of the San Fernando Valley, at present without sanitary sewer facilities and dependent on the use of cesspools, will have sewers connecting with the north outfall.

One of the sections to be built will run from Laurel Canyon Road to Riverside Drive and Woodman avenue and the other from the latter point to Kester avenue in Van Nuys.

The contract for the first section went to Balmatin & Mckcovich for $[illegible], which was higher than the bid of Kemper & Cox, but the latter bid was irregular and was rejected at the bidder's request. The contract for the other section went to Martin Simunovich for $171,800, which was the low bid. There were [illegible] bidders on each section.

Capt. J. M. Benton and the Fake Lunch Box

LUNCH BOX LOSES CASTE BY GOING IN FOR LIQUOR

If you carry a lunch box, watch out!

After all these years of respectability suspicion yesterday was suddenly turned against this lowly article when Deputy Sheriffs King and Boone of the Sheriff's liquor enforcement detail revealed that all lunch boxes may not be what they seem to be.

To bear out their contention they exhibited what at first glance appeared to be an ordinary combination lunch carrier, but the opening of which disclosed the interior bereft of the customary thermos bottle and filled instead with a copper container holding a small quantity of liquor.

The copper container can hold a gallon. The device was seized by the officers Thursday night when they raided the home of Jose Gonzales, 34 years of age, 346 North Humphries street, confiscating a thirty-five-gallon still, thirty-five-gallon superheater, 600 gallons of mash and approximately eighty-five gallons of liquor. Gonzales was placed in the County Jail.

Vacation Spent in Los Angeles

Justice Thomas Atkins Street of the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands, known especially for his work as the principal draftsman of the Administrative Code of the islands, has been a Los Angeles visitor since March without anyone but his immediate family knowing the distinguished jurist was here.

As author of "Foundations of Legal Liability" and "Federal Equity Practice," Justice Street first came to national notice in 1909. First Communist in Plaza Riots on Trial

Eleven More to Face Court on Same Charges

Three Women Freed on Move of City Prosecutor

The jury which is hearing the case of Carl Hummel, first of the Communists to be tried in connection with the May Day riots in the Plaza, will receive the case early Monday, Municipal Judge Bogue announced late yesterday after Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday and Leo Gallagher, defense attorney, had finished their arguments. Hummel is accused of violating the city handbill ordinance by distributing Communist handbills and cards in the Plaza.

Trial of eleven other defendants, accused of offenses ranging from distributing the peace and battery to blocking the sidewalk and violating the handbill ordinance, will follow immediately. All of the arrests were made at the same time, according to Hornaday.

Charges of blocking the sidewalk filed against Mrs. Anna Stark, Mrs. Seema Kaspin and Mrs. Eda Lavine, members of the Communist party, were dismissed by Municipal Judge Chambers yesterday at Hornaday's request. The prosecutor said he did not have sufficient evidence to convict the trio. Trial of Lillian Silverman, Bessie Finklestein and Sarah Rubin, arrested at the same time on similar charges, was delayed by Judge Chambers, until July 24 because both Hornaday and Gallagher are engaged in trials in Judge Bogue's court.

George Hoxie and Hans Larsen, arrested by Detective Lieutenant Hynes on the 21st inst. for violating the handbill ordinance in front of the postoffice after the failure of the scheduled Communist demonstration at the Plaza, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Curtis. Both pleaded not guilty and their jury trial was set for July 9, next.

The session yesterday was devoted to a discussion of the Jewish National Fund, led by Dr. George J. Saylin.

Dr. Saylin said that the English people, generally, as well as the Labor party, are in sympathy with the Jewish people's ideals in regard to rebuilding Palestine.

Harold Lloyd on Witness Stand Denies Pirating

Harold Lloyd, motion-picture comedian, yesterday stated in soft-toned and gentle voice in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court that he had never "pirated" a film story. He said that at one time he took a picture story from a magazine story, but that he had already bought the rights to the story.

The testimony of Lloyd came as the climax of the suit of Mrs. Sadie S. Witwer, widow of H. C. Witwer, author of many baseball stories. The plaintiff in the action asserts that the Harold Lloyd Corporation, Harold Lloyd and others used the plot of "The Emancipation of Rodney," as the basis for the story, "The Freshman," produced by Lloyd.

Attorneys for the defense entered a motion for a nonsuit, arguments on which will be heard today by Judge Cosgrave. After the argument, in case the action is resumed, testimony will be resumed today.

PRICE TAGS PUT ON GAS PATRONS

Consumers Worth $10 Each to Local Company

That's What New Customers Cost, Says Engineer

Treasurer Testifies About Pension Fund Reserve

Gas consumers learned yesterday that they are worth $10 more than they thought they were; at least, they found, they are worth that much to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

This gratifying information was imparted by Col. Alton S. Miller, consulting engineer of New York, appearing for the corporation at a rate hearing before State Railroad Commissioner Carr in the Associated Realty Building. Miller related that the cost of obtaining a customer is about $10 and that this sum should be included in an estimate of the value of the company.

Col. Miller testified that the going value of the company is $9,228,667. He based this figure on an elaborate study of the cost of attaching business to the physical property of a company being reproduced, or built for the first time.

The witness was followed on the stand by W. E. Houghton, vice-president and treasurer of the company, who testified relative to a reserve accumulated to meet the requirements of a pension fund. The reserve now stands at approximately $30,000, but Houghton declared that it should be increased over a period of years to meet the increasing demands to be made upon it.

The hearing will be resumed next Tuesday.

PARTY WILL HUNT BODY OF GRAHAM

Two hundred men were on their way last night to the spot where Maurice Graham, Los Angeles air-mail pilot, brought his fast biplane to a final night landing last January, and will begin a systematic search near Cedar City, Utah, for the missing pilot's body this morning.

Jimmie James, a veteran pilot on the Western Air Express night run from here to Salt Lake City, on which Graham crashed during a blizzard, reported to the company's local headquarters that the searchers are equipped with food and blankets and that they will not return until Graham's fate is determined.

Meanwhile, the load of mail, valued in excess of $300,000, according to airline officials, is being held pending word from Washington. Expected directions will call for placing a special stamp on letters and packages that lay in the waterproof compartments of Graham's ship for nearly six months, before sending them on their way again.

The wrecked plane was located on a mountainside at the head of Crystal Gulch, eight miles south of Cedar City and half a mile from an automobile road.

A kitchen style show attended by Chicago's debutantes; a pigeon race at Signal Mountain, Tenn., participated in by more than 200 birds; a dog show at Del Monte, Cal., and an athletic fete at Stockholm, Sweden, are among the other features described by Graham McNamee, the talking reporter.

The schedule may be obtained by calling up the Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and asking about Newsreel No. 51.

COURT RULES GOLF CLUB BLOW NO HAZARD OF JOB

Golf hazards are increased, at least for the innocent bystander, by a State Supreme Court decision just handed down.

The decision is in the case of the Pacific Employers' Insurance Company against the Division of Industrial Accidents and Safety and Joseph Fiore over an award under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Fiore received an award for an injury received when a fellow-employee of M. Di Gesu & Co., manufacturers of cloaks and suits, indulged in a bit of skylarking with a golf club left in the establishment by a salesman. Fiore was struck in the mouth and was awarded $60.52.

The high court annulled the award. The question before the tribunal was whether the injury arose out of Fiore's employment so as to be compensable. It was found that Fiore was exposed to no greater danger of being struck by this golf club because of his employment than would have been any customer or acquaintance of the employer who might have visited the place.

The court quoted an earlier case in which it was found that the accident must be one resulting from a risk reasonably incidental to employment.

To remove the odor of tobacco smoke from a room quickly, place in the room a pail of water containing a handful of hay. This also removes paint odor.

When vegetables, meat or fruits are scorched, instantly drop in a small piece of charcoal and the scorched taste will entirely disappear.

Picnics and beach parties are never a success in the full sense of the word unless you have on each plate a generous serving of Laura C. Scudder famous "Mayflower" Potato Chips. Everybody adores them 'cause they are absolutely the finest quality, being delightfully crisp and fresh at all times. You will find they are sold at all better stores.

Keep paraffin in a lipped utensil or cheap tin teapot for quick melting and convenient pouring.

When serving fresh strawberries, after hulling, place them in a shallow dish and add one tablespoonful of vinegar to each pint of berries; sugar to taste and let stand a while before serving. They will be delicious. Persons who are unable to eat strawberries will find them quite agreeable if sprinkled very lightly with pepper.

There's no doubt whatsoever that summer is here in full force and there is no doubt that we have a craving for cooling summer drinks to have on hand when the young people come in in hot and flushed after a strenuous game of golf or tennis or some other sport. Realizing this to be true, let's prepare plenty of a refreshing beverage, the recipe for which I shall give you today.

Needless to say the recipe calls for Guasti Concentrated Grape Juice, which, you remember, contains no cane sugar nor artificial coloring and by adding four parts water to one part Guasti Concentrated Grape Juice, you actually have the juice as it was when crushed from the grapes—a drink very good for the whole family to partake of.

Be sure to copy or cut out today's recipe and prepare it for Sunday's soiree—your friends will give you a vote of thanks, believe me.

Grape Highball

Add four cupfuls water, three slices orange and three slices lemon to one ten-ounce can of Guasti Pure Concentrated Grape Juice. Serve with ice.

What about the reupholstering of your worn furniture—this is just the time to have such work done by no other than H. E. Simank of 725 W. Ninth St. Mr. Simank also designs special pieces of furniture for you, and his work is very well done. Phone him now! TUcker 2462 is his number.

There is absolutely no reason in the world why you should be bothered by ants with "Calpro" available! It's the finest system obtainable; rids house and grounds of small pests in half an hour's time—and keeps them from coming back. Do write or phone the Calpro Sales Co., 1329 Santa Monica Blvd. (OX. 1311) or 16 Canon Perdido, Santa Barbara, for full information.

When canning small fruits, such as strawberries, huckleberries, etc., much time can be saved by filling a cornpopper nearly full of the berries, locking it, and shaking it back and forth underneath the cold water faucet, or in a pail of fresh cold water, until the fruit is clean.

Have you been wondering what in the world to do with your clothes you no longer wear; and how to dispose of the various articles about the house which have outgrown their usefulness? Here's the answer: send them all to the Children's Hospital Salvage Department, 712 Maple Ave., TUcker 1303. 'Tis a splendid charity you thus assist, so get up a bundle this week if possible.

Prunes get a new flavor if a few whole cloves are put into the pan while cooking; or if a slice or two of lemon is added when they are almost done.

It is so easy to go to the telephone and call the Crown Laundry and Cleaning Co., when you have two kinds of clothes to be cleaned—the wet variety and the dry variety. You see, the Crown do both kinds of work so exceptionally well that it's a pleasure to give you their phone number, which is WEstmore 6351.

Dried fruit is far better if stewed in the oven and can be cooked while baking or roasting other food. Wash the fruit, pour boiling water on it and let it stand in a covered dish until the oven is ready; then add sugar, cover tightly and let the heat of the oven cook them. Prunes, especially, are delicious cooked this way.

FITTS ATTACKS HIGH TAXES

Candidate for Governor Addresses W.C.T.U.; Radio Speech Scheduled for Monday

California's hope of salvation from soaring governmental expeditures lies with the public officials of this State Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, declared in two addresses given in this vicinity yesterday and last nght. "Until public officials quit spending taxpayers' money foolishly and for political purposes rather than for public welfare, California's tax burden will continue to increase," Fitts declared.

MORE INDORSEMENTS

Additional indorsements by units of the W.C.T.U. continue to pour into the Fitts headquarters, the latest coming from the Pacific Palisades Unit numbering 165 members. The University W.C.T.U. also has joined the list of indorsers, as has Ira E. Weide, president of the Methodist Brotherhood of La Habra.

In his addresses yesterday Fitts charged the taxpayers of California have been bled white to supply funds with which to operate the greatest political machine any State ever has known.

"Today we have in operation a government of commissions and departments and bureaus which function for the sole purpose of creating additional patronage that the present administration may be perpetuated in office," he said.

TO MAKE RADIO TALK

Fitts will make his first radio address Monday noon, speaking by remote control from the Figueroa Playhouse over station KFWB. His address will be delivered at a luncheon sponsored by the Southern California woman's division of the Fitts organization.

More than 1000 women will be present at the luncheon judging from the reservations received to date, Mrs. Charles W. Decker, chairman, believes. Fitts will talk from noon until 1 p.m. His message will be directed to women of California.

Bakman Found Guilty in Death of Guy Whittson

Daniel Bakman, Los Banos contractor, yesterday was convicted of killing Guy Whittson after a jury trial in Superior Judge McComb's court. The degree of the crime was fixed as manslaughter. Sentence will be pronounced by Judge McComb at 10 a.m. Monday.

When the jury filed into the courtroom Bakman at first refused to leave the prisoner's room and stand before the court to hear the verdict. Eventually, however, escorted by a bailiff, he walked to his place before the bar.

Upon finding that he had been convicted of manslaughter instead of murder, and thus subject only to a sentence of from one to ten years in prison, Bakman tearfully thanked members of the jury individually for their verdict.

The complaint charged Bakman with waylaying young Whittson on Dark Canyon Road on the night of February 25, last, and shooting him to death with a shotgun. Deputy Dist.-Atty. Richardson, who prosecuted the case, charged that the shooting was prompted by jealousy over Mrs. Bakman's affections.

BERMAN SLATED FOR CROSS-QUIZ

Will Take Stand Today in Lavine Case

Defense Will Subject Him to Examination

Special Session Ordered to Expedite Trial

Jacob Berman, prominent figure in the Julian Petroleum Corporation investigation, is expected to take the witness stand in Superior Judge Schauer's court this morning for cross-examination by defense attorneys at the trial of Morris Lavine, newspaper man, and Constine Johnson, charged with extorting $15,000 from Charles H. Crawford, politician.

Berman, called as a prosecution witness, already has testified concerning certain details of the asserted plot to obtain money from Crawford under threats of an exposé. A special session of court was ordered by Judge Schauer to expedite the trial.

Virtually the entire day yesterday was devoted to the testimony of Blayney Matthews, chief investigator for Dist.-Atty. Fitts. He was called as a prosecution witness by William McKay and Frank Curran, District Attorney's deputies. He was cross-examined by Richard Cantillon, who, with William T. Kendrick, Jr., represents Lavine. William Beirne, who is attorney for Miss Johnson, also cross-examined Matthews.

CAPT. BEAN FILES BRIEF IN OUSTER

Dismissed Police Captain Submits Affidavits to Fight Drinking Charges

Briefs and affidavits of written testimony in his behalf were filed with the Police Commission yesterday by Capt. James F. Bean, recently dismissed from the department on the ground of conduct unbecoming an officer, following a collision between a police machine he was driving and one operated by a citizen on Angeles Mesa.

Yesterday was the final day of grace granted by the commission for filing data as the result of his request several weeks ago for a public hearing, which was denied on the ground that the commission had adopted the practice of considering written instead of spoken evidence to save time and prevent being influenced by oratory.

The briefs and affidavits, making quite an imposing pile, present evidence that Bean had not been drinking as asserted by witnesses dug up by Commissioner Drake. President Thorpe declined to make public the contents, stating that it would not be fair to the appellant until the commission has digested the written evidence and rendered its decision.

He said that Chief Steckel has not yet presented his written evidence in behalf of his action in dismissing Bean but is expected to do so shortly. Steckel can have access to Bean evidence, if he wishes, Thorpe said.

"No decision will be rendered until the board has thoroughly gone over the written evidence," said Thorpe.

TWO SEWER CONTRACTS ANNOUNCED

Line Will be Extended in Pair of Sections to Take Care of Van Nuys

Contracts were awarded yesterday by the Board of Public Works for a total of $356,434 for the extension of the north outfall sewer in two sections to Van Nuys. On the completion of these two sections a large portion of the San Fernando Valley, at present without sanitary sewer facilities and dependent on the use of cesspools, will have sewers connecting with the north outfall.

One of the sections to be built will run from Laurel Canyon Road to Riverside Drive and Woodman avenue and the other from the latter point to Kester avenue in Van Nuys.

The contract for the first section went to Dalmatin & Mckcovich for $[illegible], which was higher than the bid of Kemper & Cox, but the latter bid was irregular and was rejected at the bidder's request. The contract for the other section went to Martin Simunovich for $171,800, which was the low bid. There were six bidders on each section.

Capt. J. M. Benton and the Fake Lunch Box

LUNCH BOX LOSES CASTE BY GOING IN FOR LIQUOR

If you carry a lunch box, watch out!

After all these years of respectability suspicion yesterday was suddenly turned against this lowly article when Deputy Sheriffs King and Boone of the Sheriff's liquor enforcement detail revealed that all lunch boxes may not be what they seem to be.

To bear out their contention they exhibited what at first glance appeared to be an ordinary combination lunch carrier, but the opening of which disclosed the interior bereft of the customary thermos bottle and filled instead with a copper container holding a small quantity of liquor.

The copper container can hold a gallon. The device was seized by the officers Thursday night when they raided the home of Jose Gonzales, 34 years of age, 346 North Humphries street, confiscating a thirty-five-gallon still, thirty-five-gallon superheater, 600 gallons of mash and approximately eighty-five gallons of liquor. Gonzales was placed in the County Jail.

The board also approved the transfer of the Highland Transportation Company's bus line in the Wilmington area to Carasco, who will be associated with Guy C. Lyons.

The Venice service affected by the transfer includes that between the intersection of Terminal avenue and the Speedway and Penman and Rialto avenues between Seventeenth avenue and the Speedway and Navy avenue and the Speedway and between Seventeenth avenue and Speedway and Walgrove avenue and Venice Boulevard.

JURIST SAILS FOR ISLAND HOME

He Will Resume Place in Philippines

JUSTICE THOMAS ATKINS STREET of the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands, known especially for his work as the principal draftsman of the Administrative Code of the islands, has been a Los Angeles visitor since March without anyone but his immediate family knowing the distinguished jurist was here.

Following a four months' vacation, he sailed for Manila yesterday aboard the Dollar liner President Monroe. Mrs. Street and their two daughters, Lura and Julia, are remaining in Los Angeles until the girls complete their schooling.

As author of "Foundations of Legal Liability" and "Federal Equity Practice," Justice Street first came to national notice in 1909. Prior to this he had been professor of law at Vanderbilt University and the University of Missouri. He is a graduate of the University of Alabama. Immediately following his work of drafting the administrative code of the Philippines, he was appointed to the Supreme Court, a position he has held for thirteen years.

RED MAY KNOW FATE SHORTLY

First Communist in Plaza Riots on Trial

Eleven More to Face Court on Same Charges

Three Women Freed on Move of City Prosecutor

The jury which is hearing the case of Carl Hummel, first of the Communists to be tried in connection with the May Day riots in the Plaza, will receive the case early Monday, Municipal Judge Bogue announced late yesterday after Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday and Leo Gallagher, defense attorney, had finished their arguments. Hummel is accused of violating the city handbill ordinance by distributing Communist handbills and cards in the Plaza.

Trial of eleven other defendants, accused of offenses ranging from distributing the peace and battery to blocking the sidewalk and violating the handbill ordinance, will follow immediately. All of the arrests were made at the same time, according to Hornaday.

Charges of blocking the sidewalk filed against Mrs. Anna Stark, Mrs. Seema Kaspin and Mrs. Eda Lavine, members of the Communist party, were dismissed by Municipal Judge Chambers yesterday at Hornaday's request. The prosecutor said he did not have sufficient evidence to convict the trio. Trial of Lillian Silverman, Bessie Finklestein and Sarah Rubin, arrested at the same time on similar charges, was delayed by Judge Chambers, until July 24 because both Hornaday and Gallagher are engaged in trials in Judge Bogue's court.

George Hoxie and Hans Larsen, arrested by Detective Lieutenant Hynes on the 21st inst. for violating the handbill ordinance in front of the postoffice after the failure of the scheduled Communist demonstration at the Plaza, were arraigned before Municipal Judge Curtis. Both pleaded not guilty and their jury trial was set for July 9, next.

COAST UNIT OF ZIONISTS ANNOUNCED

Conference Takes Action at Its Final Session Here; National Fund Discussed

A resolution providing for establishment of a Pacific Coast Regional Bureau of the Zionist Organization of America was adopted by 300 Jewish leaders of California at the closing session of the Pacific Coast Zionist Conference yesterday at the Alexandria. A permanent director of the bureau will be chosen by a committee headed by Judge Golden of San Francisco, president of the conference. The session yesterday was devoted to a discussion of the Jewish National Fund, led by Dr. George J. Saylin.

Dr. Saylin said that the English people, generally, as well as the Labor party, are in sympathy with the Jewish people's ideals in regard to rebuilding Palestine.

Harold Lloyd on Witness Stand Denies Pirating

Harold Lloyd, motion-picture comedian, yesterday stated in softtoned and gentle voice in United States District Judge Cosgrave's court that he had never "pirated" a film story. He said that at one time he took a picture story from a magazine story, but that he had already bought the rights to the story.

The testimony of Lloyd came as the climax of the suit of Mrs. Sadie S. Witwer, widow of H. C. Witwer, author of many baseball stories. The plaintiff in the action asserts that the Harold Lloyd Corporation, Harold Lloyd and others used the plot of "The Emancipation of Rodney," as the basis for the story, "The Freshman," produced by Lloyd.

Attorneys for the defense entered a motion for a nonsuit, arguments on which will be heard today by Judge Cosgrave. After the argument, in case the action is resumed, testimony will be resumed today.

PRICE TAGS PUT ON GAS PATRONS

Consumers Worth $10 Each to Local Company

That's What New Customers Cost, Says Engineer

Treasurer Testifies About Pension Fund Reserve

Gas consumers learned yesterday that they are worth $10 more than they thought they were; at least, they found, they are worth that much to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

This gratifying information was imparted by Col. Alton S. Miller, consulting engineer of New York, appearing for the corporation at a rate hearing before State Railroad Commissioner Carr in the Associated Realty Building. Miller related that the cost of obtaining a customer is about $10 and that this sum should be included in an estimate of the value of the company.

Col. Miller testified that the going value of the company is $9,228,667. He based this figure on an elaborate study of the cost of attaching business to the physical property of a company being reproduced, or built for the first time.

The witness was followed on the stand by W. E. Houghton, vice-president and treasurer of the company, who testified relative to a reserve accumulated to meet the requirements of a pension fund. The reserve now stands at approximately $30,000, but Houghton declared that it should be increased over a period of years to meet the increasing demands to be made upon it.

The hearing will be resumed next Tuesday.

PARTY WILL HUNT BODY OF GRAHAM

Two hundred men were on their way last night to the spot where Maurice Graham, Los Angeles airmail pilot, brought his fast biplane to a final night landing last January, and will begin a systematic search near Cedar City, Utah, for the missing pilot's body this morning.

Jimmie James, a veteran pilot on the Western Air Express night run from here to Salt Lake City, on which Graham crashed during a blizzard, reported to the company's local headquarters that the searchers are equipped with food and blankets and that they will not return until Graham's fate is determined.

Meanwhile, the load of mail, valued in excess of $300,000, according to airline officials, is being held pending word from Washington. Expected directions will call for placing a special stamp on letters and packages that lay in the waterproof compartments of Graham's ship for nearly six months, before sending them on their way again.

The wrecked plane was located on a mountainside at the head of Crystal Gulch, eight miles south of Cedar City and half a mile from an automobile road.

A kitchen style show attended by Chicago's debutantes; a pigeon race at Signal Mountain, Tenn., participated in by more than 200 birds; a dog show at Del Monte, Cal., and an athletic fete at Stockholm, Sweden, are among the other features described by Graham McNamee, the talking reporter.

The schedule may be obtained by calling up the Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and asking about Newsreel No. 51.

COURT RULES GOLF CLUB BLOW NO HAZARD OF JOB

Golf hazards are increased, at least for the innocent bystander, by a State Supreme Court decision just handed down.

The decision is in the case of the Pacific Employers' Insurance Company against the Division of Industrial Accidents and Safety and Joseph Fiore over an award under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Fiore received an award for an injury received when a fellow-employee of M. Di Gesu & Co., manufacturers of cloaks and suits, indulged in a bit of skylarking with a golf club left in the establishment by a salesman. Fiore was struck in the mouth and was awarded $60.52.

The high court annulled the award. The question before the tribunal was whether the injury arose out of Fiore's employment so as to be compensable. It was found that Fiore was exposed to no greater danger of being struck by this golf club because of his employment than would have been any customer or acquaintance of the employer who might have visited the place.

The court quoted an earlier case in which it was found that the accident must be one resulting from a risk reasonably incidental to employment.

Dried fruit is far better if stewed in fruit juice and can be cooked while baking or roasting other food. Wash the fruit, pour boiling water on it and let it stand in a covered dish until the oven is ready; then add sugar, cover tightly and let the heat of the oven cook them. Prunes, especially, are delicious cooked this way.

FITTS ATTACKS HIGH TAXES

Candidate for Governor Addresses W.C.T.U.; Radio Speech Scheduled for Monday

California's hope of salvation from soaring governmental expenditures lies with the public officials of this State Buron Fitts, Republican candidate for Governor, declared in two addresses given in this vicinity yesterday and last nght. "Until public officials quit spending taxpayers' money foolishly and for political purposes rather than for public welfare, California's tax burden will continue to increase," Fitts declared.

MORE INDORSEMENTS

Additional indorsements by units of the W.C.T.U. continue to pour into the Fitts headquarters, the latest coming from the Pacific Palisades Unit numbering 165 members. The University W.C.T.U. also has joined the list of indorsers, as has Ira E. Welde, president of the Methodist Brotherhood of La Habra.

In his addresses yesterday Fitts charged the taxpayers of California have been bled white to supply funds with which to operate the greatest political machine any State ever has known.

"Today we have in operation a government of commissions and departments and bureaus which function for the sole purpose of creating additional patronage that the present administration may be perpetuated in office," he said.

TO MAKE RADIO TALK

Fitts will make his first radio address Monday noon, speaking by remote control from the Figueroa Playhouse over station KFWB. His address will be delivered at a luncheon sponsored by the Southern California women's division of the Fitts organization.

More than 1000 women will be present at the luncheon judging from the reservations received to date, Mrs. Charles W. Decker, chairman, believes. Fitts will talk from noon until 1 p.m. His message will be directed to women of California.

Peters Named Chief Enforcer in Los Angeles

In accordance with orders received yesterday from Washington, W. L. Peters, for some time assistant dry administrator for Southern California and adjacent territory, was appointed as deputy administrator for the Southern California district, as assistant to William C. Walker of San Francisco.

Mr. Walker will be in charge of enforcement of the prohibition act in California, Nevada and Hawaii, and Mr. Peters will represent him in Southern California. Mr. Peters has served the government here for three years. He served eight years as a captain in the World War. His appointment takes effect on July 1.

PROTESTS DENIED

Protests were denied by the City Council yesterday against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of Virgil avenue between Sunset Boulevard and Virgil street, thus paving the way for the early adoption of the final ordinance.

Bakman Found Guilty in Death of Guy Whittson

Daniel Bakman, Los Banos contractor, yesterday was convicted of killing Guy Whittson after a jury trial in Superior Judge McComb's court. The degree of the crime was fixed as manslaughter. Sentence will be pronounced by Judge McComb at 10 a.m. Monday.

When the jury filed into the courtroom Bakman at first refused to leave the prisoner's room and stand before the court to hear the verdict. Eventually, however, escorted by a bailiff, he walked to his place before the bar.

Upon finding that he had been convicted of manslaughter instead of murder, and this subject only to a sentence of from one to ten years in prison, Bakman tearfully thanked members of the jury individually for their verdict.

The complaint charged Bakman with waylaying young Whittson on Dark Canyon Road on the night of February 25, last, and shooting him to death with a shotgun. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Richardson, who prosecuted the case, charged that the shooting was prompted by jealousy over Mrs. Bakman's affections.

MAIL CARRIER SUES OVER FIG LAND DEAL

Return of $5120 asserted to have been paid for title to a San Joaquin county fig orchard yesterday was asked by Frank H. Billig, a mail carrier, in his suit against the Clarkadota Fig Growers' Association of Stockton, now known as the Associated Kadota Fig Growers. The suit was heard by Superior Judge Bowron, who took it under submission. Billig complained that the deed to the property never was transferred to him. The defendant asserted that Billig has not made full payment for the property.

Today's Bible Text

Put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.—Eph. iv:24.

WITH LOWERED EYES

SETTING AN EXAMPLE

Babies may become more popular now that the most popular couple in the world have shown that they look upon love and marriage in the old-fashioned way.

TRUCKS FIRST

Boston is giving trucks the right of way over other cars on the big road. However, that is not original—out here in California the trucks have been taking it from time immemorial. Hay and rocks are esteemed above people.

RADIO COURTESY

During the warm summer evenings a thoughtful neighbor will not run his radio like a calliope at a circus after 10 o'clock at night. He will remember that his rights end where his neighbor's lot begins—even in the air.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A woodcock is a bird of the snipe order and Amos W. Woodcock has been picking 'em off regularly in Maryland. If his sharpshooters will get the Capones and the Morans, Chicago and other large cities will not have to apologize so much for their crime statistics.

NOT ABOVE THE PEOPLE

Louisiana's "pajama" Governor is not the first high official who has met defeat in an effort to throttle the newspapers. Gov. Long may defy the conventions in receiving official visitors, but public opinion cannot be bought with threats.

TOURISTS

Passport fees collected by the Federal authorities in 1929 amounted to $2,087,790. The total fees, including visas, amounted to $5,504,674. These "Inno-cents Abroad" of ours also help pay the expenses of foreign governments.

ACE

A Seattle man trumped his wife's ace in a bridge game. Not to be outdone, she almost lost her temper and thumped his face with an alarm clock, knocked out his front teeth and then got a divorce. How much alimony she collects is not stated. Moral: Never trump your wife's ace.

HEROES

Not long ago Lieut. Maitland, who commanded the first plane to fly to Hawaii from the Pacific Coast, smashed into a bus while motoring in Texas. His face was badly lacerated, his lung was punctured by a spoke and he suffered concussion of the brain. Ocean flyers should have a care how they imperil their lives in motor traffic.

POOR FISH!

Where will this diet business end? Having prescribed all kinds of vitamins and calories for the rest of animal life, the dietitians are now beginning on the fish. Up to a few years ago these experts seemed content to prepare nourishing or reducing menus for mankind alone. Then they began to build bigger and better dog biscuits, tell what horse owners should put in the nosebags and that canary birds, rats and rabbits would be better or worse off with or without spinach, carrots or caraway seed. Now it would seem that not even the fish are to escape.

The piscatorial tribes are now being experimented with on a large and exhaustive scale in Nebraska. The Fish and Game Commission of that State recently appointed a group of scientists who all this summer will study the causes that make bass, perch and pike lean, fat or just well-proportioned representatives of their finny races. They will feed the fish balanced and unbalanced rations, weighing their food and counting calories, and next autumn will report the results, which doubtless will include a full piscatorial diet.

Nobody seems to know just what the fish of lake and river have done to deserve this dietary fate, but, as in the case of the poor fish of office and home, there would seem to be no escaping it.

BOULDER BENEFITS

It is not necessary to recite the benefits to California that will result from the building of Black Canyon Dam, for which Congress has just voted the initial appropriation. The $10,000,000 starter made available by the national legislature will—if nothing happens to prevent—put vast forces to work which, in the course of time, will protect California and Arizona from floods, furnish a large domestic and irrigation water supply for three States and supply power which, while not cheap in the California coastal region under present conditions, is low-cost power for the interior.

Nevada, also, realizes the benefits which Boulder Dam, as it is more commonly called, will bring. And there is also evidence that a very considerable part of the people of Arizona, as distinguished from their elected officials, have largely modified their one-time opposition, while the people of the western counties of the State, always favorable to Colorado River development, have grown more and more so. Particularly is this true in Mohave county, where many millions in mines await cheap power for their recovery. What electricity supplied by Black Canyon Dam will do for Chloride, Oatman and Kingman in the revival of flagging industry does not need to be imagined; it is a known fact. The metals and other minerals are there—gold, silver, lead, bismuth, molybdenum and many others; deep mining will bring them forth; and cheap power is required for deep mining at a profit. With cheap power, Mohave county will be transformed into a hive of industry, with big pay rolls and all that goes with them.

And as Mohave county benefits, so will the whole State. The development that will take place there and in other mining regions will add to the State revenues, provide a market for agricultural and other products, add to the State's population, and put new money into circulation to aid development elsewhere.

Other parts of the State also will benefit directly and indirectly from this construction. Many of the millions which the dam will cost will remain in Arizona, and the power development will create direct revenue for the State treasury. Yuma county needs river regulation almost to the same extent that Imperial county needs it—would be apt to suffer with Imperial in the destruction that would ensue should the Colorado break its frail barriers and change its lower course, as may happen in any high-water period.

Arizona and Southern California are essentially a single economic unit. This section is and always will be Arizona's best market, and no prosperity can come to Southern California without helping to make Arizona prosperous. There is not a single product of Arizona's farms or mines or factories or smelters that is not salable on the coast and the more people there are in California the better for Arizona. Any construction that will result in adding 1,000,000 or more to the population of the coastal region gives 1,000,000 or more additional customers to the neighboring State; means more tourists, more development, more wealth. California, in turn, is helped by Arizona development. Conversely, any obstacle in the path of progress for the one is a similar obstacle to the other. The two States ought, in fact, to be the best of friends and best of neighbors.

Politicians have done a good deal to keep them apart, to create artificial barriers, to arouse ill-feeling. There is no genuine basis for these misunderstandings. They have been perpetrated by political generations of office-holders and office-seekers who have inherited the Boulder Dam controversy as a campaign issue and whose traditional opposition to the project no longer represents the actual sentiment of the Arizona people.

Arizona and California, both States of great resources, needing capital and population, can go far as a team, much farther than they can by pulling separately and, of course, very much farther than if they pull in opposite directions. Co-operation should be the watchword.

Demagogues have tried to teach Californians that Arizonans are natural obstructionists. Demagogues have tried to teach Arizonans that Californians would rob them of their resources. Neither is true. The people in both States are essentially the same; their interests are almost identical; they have the same aims. They will both benefit from anything that helps either.

The dam will help California; yes. But it will also help Arizona. It will help Arizona, in addition, by helping California, and it will help California by helping Arizona. In the nature of things, it cannot be otherwise.

A SOUNDER PENSION BILL

Influenced, beyond question, by the unfavorable comment the nation over at Congressional over-riding of the President's veto of the Spanish War veterans' pension bill, the House has sustained the veto of the Johnson-Rankin bill and proceeded to the adoption of a sounder measure. The new bill, if no objectionable features are inserted by the Senate, will give aid to many more disabled veterans than the Johnson-Rankin measure would have reached, and at less cost. It will burden the Treasury with a load of only $50,000,000 the first year, as compared with about $110,000,000 in the vetoed bill. Further, it does not indulge in the absurdity of assuming that a man who falls ill more than ten years after the close of the war, is ill as a result of war service, without regard to the nature of that service or where it was performed.

There is no doubt that politics and desire to placate the so-called "soldier vote" caused Congressmen and Senators to go beyond the needs of the situation, the capabilities of the Treasury and the requests of the veterans themselves. But Congress has been discovering that the country, including the veterans, is able to see through such a scheme. There is, of course, no "soldier vote." The men who served in the World War think, act and feel as independent individuals and like any other citizens about public questions. Most of them are taxpayers. Opinions differ among them, as among other citizens, as to what is best to be done. They are in agreement with the President that those who suffered disabilities as a result of war service should be taken care of fully; and they also agree with him that no veteran ought to be pauperized.

Congress often proceeds, apparently, on the assumption that the voting body is as a whole unintelligent. It is an assumption that has brought about the retirement of many a politician on election day.

SAFETY OF STREET CARS

Although speed rage is much in evidence in this present restless generation, a majority of people today still prefer to arrive at their destinations under an assurance of reasonable safety rather than risk their necks to pile up the "m.p.h." Whatever may be said of the street car as a speedy method of transportation for urban and suburban traffic, on the score of safety it still leads the procession.

At the San Francisco sessions of the American Electric Railway Association E. L. McIlrath of the Chicago surface lines presented figures on street-car fatalities which show that the arrival of the street-car patron is not only reasonably certain, but is practically assured. Out of a total of 15,000,000,000 people carried last year by electric railway cars only fifty lost their lives in accidents, so that the risk is one in 300,000,000, a negligible quantity.

While the rate of death by accident has almost doubled in the last ten years for the United States, the street-car companies have kept down the risk to so low a figure that accident insurance on street-car tickets would be an absurdity. The relatives of the insured wouldn't have a gambler's chance of cashing in on it. The pedestrian on the city streets is in far greater peril than the commuter on board the street car.

This showing reflects credit on the management of American electric railways both for the care with which they pick the men responsible for handling the cars and for the attention given to tracks and rolling stock. Every year there are more destinations desired by greater multitudes of people and speedier, more comfortable and more spectacular means provided for reaching them by land and sea and air. But for the humdrum many going every day to and from their daily tasks, the old reliable street car is likely to remain a favored form of transit for some time to come.

SOMETHING TO SELL

Nobody seems to want the old City Hall site at $580,000, although everybody concedes that it is well worth the money. The municipality has more than $1,000,000 worth of downtown property to get rid of, but the moment does not seem opportune. Some day a few capitalists will wake up in time to kick themselves.

LEGISLATIVE LADIES

Women are not running for office to the extent that was expected—or feared—when the franchise was given them. Nevertheless there are now 149 in the assemblies of thirty-eight States and more coming. The State legislatures furnish a fine field for the ladies to make their initial flights in politics.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

BEAR VALLEY, including Big Bear Lake, is our idea of a nice place in which to celebrate the glorious Fourth. Fireworks will be strictly forbidden in Bear Valley, for the protection of the noble trees which make it beautiful and cool.

But this Fourth there will be another attraction, almost as great—the presentation of a pageant, "Never the Less Old Glory," a dramatization of Stephen Chalmer's novel, "Take a Chance Tamerlane," which tells the story of the Holcomb Valley gold rush with such romantic and exciting trimmings as have made Steve's books best sellers. The pageant will be presented July 4, 5 and 6.

Since the gold rush was one of the most colorful epochs in California history and Bear Valley is one of the most important spots in gold-rush history, the setting should be ideal for the show. You still can meet men in Bear Valley who were there when great gold strikes were made and even men who are making gold strikes today.

Hitchless Hikers

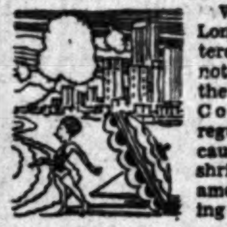
Domesticated Quail

We've run several quail stories, to show how close our city and its suburbs are to nature, but this one from Glendale seems to take the honors. The Glendale Hospital looks out on a wooded canyon and out of that canyon every evening at supper time come hundreds of quail which run all over the hospital lawn, besieging the convalescent patients for crumbs. The convalescents have trained them to do this by feeding them regularly, and the usually timorous creatures have become as saucy and importunate as are the Pershing Square pigeons or the well-fed sea gulls which so often make beach visitors glad that cows don't fly.

Observations of a Near-sighted Man



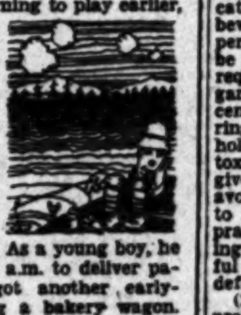
We were at Long Beach yesterday and could not see that all the sermons and Councilmanic regulations had caused much shy shrinking—except among the bathing suits.

There Are People Who Can't

When you come back from your vacation and groan because you have to go back to work again, just congratulate yourself on being able to get some real fun out of a vacation—for there are lots of people who can't.

That is less true in Southern California than in most places, because there is such diversity of entertaining and interesting things to see and do. But even here one sees plenty of vacationers who are dull and listless because they don't know what to do. They may be surrounded by things to do, but they have stuck to the grind so long that they are lonesome away from it.

The moral seems to us to be that we must start learning to play earlier, or we'll never know how when we get a chance.



Couldn't Learn to Play

We used to know a newspaper man who rose to considerable prominence from a very poor start. As a young boy, he got up at about 3 a.m. to deliver papers. Then he got another early-rising job—driving a bakery wagon. When he left school he got into newspaper work and was so clever that he not only rose in his profession but put some money into other ventures. He became advertising manager and then vice-president of a big commercial enterprise. He piled up so much money that business could take care of itself and his wife took him away to Europe for a long vacation. His lodge brothers were in the station to see him off. There was even a band. Everybody wrung his hand and said: "You lucky dog."

COME HOME! OFFICE NEEDS YOU!
GOODBY!

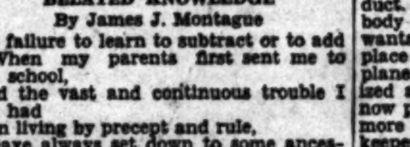
But after the first thrill of travel was over he felt lonesome abroad. The excitement had gone out of his life, the big interest was lacking. Museums and art galleries and cathedrals only bored him. But one day he stumbled on a writer he had known at home. He insisted on taking him to lunch. He was eager to take anyone who spoke his language—that is, one who understood his background—out to lunch. He became the surest free lunch of the American literary colony in Paris. But he never felt really happy until one day he got a telegram. Things in the office weren't going so well—he was needed at home.

Instead of being alarmed or worried, he was thrilled. His face beamed as he broke the sad news to his new-found friends. He booked passage immediately and hurried home.

That man was the inspiration of the novel, "They Had to See Paris."

STUDENT DUELS

They have been trying to stop student duels in Germany by the passage of a law, but it seems impossible to enforce. The custom has been intrenched for a century or so and is not to be dislodged by a legislative gesture. Students will be students. The Surgeons' Association declares that if duels are forbidden boxing must also be stopped. They insist that more persons are seriously hurt in boxing than in all the duels of the season. The students may get nicked for an occasional flesh wound, but are seldom dangerously marred. Most Germans are willing that the boys should have their sword play.



BELATED KNOWLEDGE

By James J. Montague

My failure to learn to subtract or to add
When my parents first sent me to school,
And the vast and continuous trouble I had
In living by precept and rule,
I have always set down to some ancestral trait;
My lickings, I thought were unmerited,
My ambling and laggardly cerebral gait
I supposed was inherited.

My lack of all knack for the national sport
Was a source of occasional shame,
My batting was bad, my throws all fell short,
My running was clumsy and lame.
When I golfed I was always in bunkers or traps
As my way down the fairgreen I wended,
But I put all the blame on the clumsy old chaps
From whom I descended.

In business I never could compass success;
I bought when a stock hit the top
And sold it, I'm rather ashamed to confess,
Right after it took a wild flop.
Political strongholds I could not assault,
I was not even named as a Senator,
But this I supposed was most likely the fault
Of some early progenitor.

But the claim that heredity plays the old deuce
With one's chances for power or pelf,
I have recently learned is a flimsy excuse
For the fellow who won't help himself.
If I only had known this a good while ago
When I still had my first youthful ardor,
I'm inclined to believe, though of course I don't know,
That I might have worked harder.

SOME FOOD FOR REFLECTION

BY BENJAMIN F. BLEDSOE

Out of the welter of all this prohibition business, especially in connection with the hearings recently had before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, it seems to me that several matters have either been entirely overlooked or have not been accorded their true importance. Their restatement at this time may not be amiss.

(1) Fundamentally, the prohibition law is concerned only with the prohibition of the use of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. The law is constrained to limit their use for other purposes merely that the fundamental and final purpose may be susceptible of accomplishment. To make effective the prohibition against intoxicating liquors being used for beverage purposes, some liquors, perhaps not intoxicating, had to be put under the ban. This was required in order that the old game of splitting hairs over percentages of alcohol, and sparring as to whether a given alcoholic content was actually intoxicating with respect to a given individual, might be avoided. The sole intention was to help toward making the law practically enforceable by lessening the opportunity for successful interposition of insubstantial defenses.

(2) The motive back of the prohibition law is not repression of the individual; it is protection of the community. It is the menace to society arising out of inebriety, and not the desire to interfere with so-called personal liberty, that is actually responsible for the enactment of the prohibition law. If one would retire to the solitude of some desert isle and there consume even countless quantities of intoxicants, there would be none who would say him nay. If one, however, overcome by drink, should drive recklessly down a main thoroughfare of a populous city, in an automobile, in the middle of the day, there would be 10,000 who would say him nay. In the one case, it is immaterial what the man does to himself, and, in consequence, he is not interfered with. In the other case, it is of the greatest moment what harm he undoubtedly will do to others, and, therefore, effective preventive measures are immediately taken advantage of. Prohibition is merely effective insurance against disaster.

(3) There is neither misconception nor malevolence in asserting the right to enforce prohibition. Its assertion is but the assertion of the oldest right known to the law—the right of self-defense—protection against danger reasonably to be apprehended. Its employment is but a practical adaptation, in a matter of importance, with respect to present-day needs, of the underlying principle of the Golden Rule—the rule of social good faith—a rule as characteristic of our civilization as it is determinative of our destiny. That rule has negative implications as well as positive admonitions. Under its teachings, we not only do unto others as we would that they should do unto us, but we also voluntarily deprive ourselves of the right to do to others what we should object to their doing to us. In the same spirit we forbid others doing to us what we know they would object to our doing to them. The negative aspects of the rule arise out of an inability otherwise to enjoy its positive features. There must be limitation of some things if there is to be enjoyment of others. In its essential attributes all law is but limitation—limitation demanded by the mere existence of the social structure and the requirements of good faith one toward another—limitation of those things comparatively unessential that we may retain those things absolutely essential.

(4) A simple civilization is satisfied with a simple code of laws. A complex civilization containing complicated and strenuous social and industrial structures, such as ours, requires more numerous and more effective deterrents to unsocial conduct. The doctrine that everybody may have what everybody wants can have no acceptable place in the automobiled, airplaned and otherwise mechanized age through which we are now passing. Every man is now more than ever his brother's keeper, and as his responsibilities in that behalf increase, his own freedom of action must necessarily decrease. The peace, happiness, security and welfare of the community as a whole constitute the underlying test of liberty of action. Limitation of unsocial action rather than liberty of individual action is the demand of the age if our social structure is to survive.

(5) There is not a serious, sustained, deliberate, reasoned opinion, emanating from responsible source or authority anywhere, at any time, justifying the use of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

(6) There has not been a serious, sustained effort, anywhere, at any time, to limit or prohibit by law the indulgence in intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, that such effort has not met, first, with more or less vigorous and violent opposition in the endeavor to enact such law, and secondly, with more or less deliberate and sustained effort and determination to flout and defy the law after such enactment. In other words, there are people who ever think more of the satisfaction of their own individual appetites than they do of the welfare and security of the community of which they are a part. So thinking, they have ever given most unreasoning opposition to wisely formulated limitations sought to be placed upon their conduct.

(7) Clamor for repeal of, or amendment to, the prohibition law has been made by those who have been much more epithetic than argumentative in their disputations. To listen to them you would think that no one can endeavor to encourage real sobriety without being a "crank;" that to support the Eighteenth Amendment is to write yourself down a "fanatic." The law of logic possesses little appeal to them. They want not law but license. They want a State law instead of a national law, or perhaps they prefer local option to governmental control. But have any of them ever said that they would observe and obey any other law or any other sort of law that might be passed limiting or forbidding the use of intoxicants for beverage purposes? We have had local option and State laws heretofore and the sort of people who now are seeking to subvert and destroy the national prohibition law in virtue of their persistent disregard of it or attacks upon it, are the sort of people who made the national prohibition law necessary. Their rebellious and unsocial attitude could not be adequately dealt with under local option and State laws and the enactment of national prohibition was a necessary consequence. It is obvious that the man who will not obey the national prohibition law for any reason, will not obey any prohibition law for the same or some equally unsound reason.

(8) Merely to change the sovereignty responsible for a prohibition law, or to change the sovereignty prescribing a limitation upon the use of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, will not improve conditions in the slightest. There is a menace to our American institutions—social, political and industrial—attendant upon the use of intoxicants for beverage purposes, even if that use be confined to the community in which such use is legalized. But its use may not be so confined. Our population is fluid in its movements. Train and automobile do not confine themselves to either wet or dry territory. The hip pocket and the suit case go where the owner goes. As it has been in the past it will be increasingly so in the future; whether sojourning in their own communities or not, the wets will not respect dry laws. And if we enter upon the consideration of a mere change in the sovereignty prescribing limitations upon the use of intoxicants, we shall have to go back where we were twenty years ago. Thinking America does not want to go back into that jungle. The answer to this whole commotion is: If a man will not obey the supreme law of the land—the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution and the laws enacted thereunder—what right have we to suppose that he will obey some other law enacted by a subordinate sovereignty. Those who will obey any prohibition law will obey the one we now have. Those who will not obey any prohibition law should not be permitted to intrigue us into the substitution of some other law less efficacious and with respect to which we shall have the same continuing show of disrespect, disregard and resistance. If we are ever in for a fight let us ever fight with the best weapons we have.

(9) Some with a disposition to be more definite have contented themselves with a proposed "liberalizing" of the present law. They want the lid slightly lifted. They clamor for "light wines and beers." Just what in the way of alcoholic content is meant by such, they leave to the imagination or to the satisfied success of those in search of the same. Irrespective of what is said or suggested, however, what is meant is wines and beers with a "kick." We have nonalcoholic wines and beers now. They do not suffice. The only reason they do not suffice is that their alcoholic content is so low that they do not intoxicate. No nonintoxicating wine or beer has been suggested as a substitute for anything permissible under the present law. They want something intoxicating. They want something the present law—the Eighteenth Amendment—forbids. They want to nullify the Constitution through complaisant legislative action. They want Congress to do what the Constitution says it shall not do. The courts have more than once put their veto on such a proceeding. If 2.75 per cent beer, which was lawful during the war, before the existence of the Eighteenth Amendment, is mentioned, and if such beer be assumed to be nonintoxicating, the answer is a practical rather than a legal one. No one not satisfied with what is now available will be satisfied with 2.75 per cent beer.

Finally, I have these observations to offer as my deliberate conclusions arrived at after long study of the subject and some more than ordinary experience had in connection with the passage and enforcement of prohibition laws:

(a) You point out to me some solution of the liquor problem better than that involved in public control of the liquor traffic, and I shall be for that solution.

(b) You point out to me some form of control more desirable or more effective than that arising out of a prohibition of the traffic, and I shall be for that form.

(c) You point out to me some agency or authority more effective for enforcing such prohibition than that afforded by the national government cooperatively assisted by the State governments, and I shall be for that agency.

GOLF BALL EASY TO IDENTIFY

Players may easily know their own golf ball if using one which has just appeared in England. The "identification number" is stamped in red on each of the six "poles" of the ball, so that a player may instantly identify it as his, no matter how bad may be the lie in the rough.

THAT REMINDS ME

I must confess it sorely grinds me, when I have made a chaste remark, and some one mutters, "That reminds me——" of tales that came in Noah's ark. By sad salt tears I'm almost blinded, some forty-seven times a day, for some one always is "reminded," by everything I chance to say. There's not in all the world a story I haven't heard, time after time; all anecdotes are bent and hoary, and telling them is but a crime. The story teller always finds me when I am feeling tired and stale, and, starting out with "That reminds me," he takes an hour to tell a tale. And hardly has he fairly started before I recognize the yarn; I heard it, bored and broken-hearted, in childhood, in my father's barn. My father heard the tale before me, when he was but a growing lad; and if it is inclined to bore me, it was a punishment to dad. So back into the middle ages my forbears heard that moldy tale, and some gave way to futile rages, and others trembled and grew pale. For they had heard the yarn so often, the same old yarn I hear today, they felt their brains begin to soften, and knew an urge to rise and slay. Some yarns are fairly clean and decent, so far as morals are concerned, but they are never fresh and recent, they are the ones that Adam learned. What can I do when one comes beaming to tell a gag that ne'er was young, expecting that I will be screaming with laughter when the joke is sprung? I know I should rebuke him dourly, and greet his story with a frown; but story-tellers catch me hourly, and seldom do I turn them down. For most of them are friends and neighbors whose one ambition is to please; and so I cease my useful labors to listen to the ancient wheeze.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

TOMATOES BENGAL

Cut six rounds of bread and fry in butter on both sides until crisp, drain and keep hot. Peel and cut in thick slices three medium-sized tomatoes, season with salt and a few grains of curry powder and place in a baking dish. Pour a spoonful of thick cream sauce over each slice, sprinkle thickly with bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven for ten minutes. Spread the toast with a little chopped chutney or chopped sweet pickle, place a slice of tomato on a slice of toast and serve at once.

LAMB STEW

Cut up three medium thick slices of salt pork, and fry until crisp, then add two pounds of lamb cut in small pieces, one sliced carrot, one sliced onion, one sliced clove of garlic, two chopped stalks of celery, and one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, and fry until slightly brown. Sprinkle in two tablespoonfuls of flour, and cook five minutes longer, add two cupfuls of stock or hot water, and one cupful of tomatoes. Season with salt and paprika, and allow to simmer until the meat is tender. Transfer the meat to a casserole and pour the sauce over it. Add a third of a cupful of orange juice, and if liked, two tart apples may be added, and a half a dozen small onions that have been parboiled. Cover tightly, place in the oven and cook for half an hour longer. Green peas may be substituted for the apples.

DENMARK FRUIT PIE

Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, and cream into it three tablespoonfuls of sugar. Sift one-fourth of a cupful of flour, with one teaspoonful of baking powder, and one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and add to the butter mixture. Separate four eggs, beat the yolks and beat into them one and one-half cupfuls of milk, add this to the creamed butter and flour, beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and dry, and add to the mixture, folding them in, place a thick layer of any kind of canned or fresh fruits in the bottom of a baking dish, cutting it in small pieces. Pour the batter over the top and bake in a moderate oven. When it is baked, the custard will separate from the crust, and make a middle layer over the fruit.

PECAN WAFFLES

One and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-half a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of soda, one and one-fourth cupfuls of sour cream, two eggs, one-half a cupful of chopped pecan meats. Sift the flour, with the salt, sugar and soda, and stir in slowly the sour cream. Add the egg yolks well beaten, and the chopped nut meats. Beat the egg whites until stiff and dry and fold into the mixture, pour into a hot waffle iron and bake.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

BOTTLE FEEDING PASSE AFTER NINE MONTHS

These sentences ought to be framed and hung on the wall. They become almost as trite and commonplace as some of the old proverbs. When we see a husky chap of 2 years old lying down on the bed and having a bottle thrust into his mouth, we have an almost nauseated feeling. But if you ask his mother, "Why are you giving that big boy a bottle?" she is able to say one of two things: "He likes the bottle," or, "He won't drink enough milk unless I give him the bottle."

Neither is any excuse at all. Never. Several months before the child is a year old, he should be taught how to drink from a cup. At 9 months he will get one or more feedings a day chiefly by cup, and at 1 year he simply puts the bottle out of the way and he takes all of his milk by cup.

THREE MEALS AT 1 YEAR

Remember that at 1 year the child only needs three meals a day, and a small lunch at about 3:30 in the afternoon. With each meal he gets one cup of plain, undiluted milk with no water or sugar, and a small cup of milk in the middle of the afternoon. That is all he needs. The rest of the diet is made up of cereals, vegetables, eggs, perhaps a little meat, bread and fruit juices and fruit sauces. With all these excellent foods to eat at his three meals, the child doesn't need more milk.

Suppose we say he won't take as many as even two cups of milk daily. What is his mother to do? Stop the bottles, anyway. Give the milk by cup at each meal, making no effort to force it upon the child but just putting it near his plate and leaving it there. Then in order that he get milk, she can put milk with and on his cereal, in his vegetables, give him cottage cheese once a day, give him custard and milk puddings, put milk over his toast, all kinds of ways in which she can use milk even if he doesn't drink a drop for a while.

GRADUAL CHANGE

If she is tactful and doesn't talk about it, if she keeps bottles entirely out of the way and makes that small, attractive cup of milk look as if it were something any boy or girl would just love, then the child will begin to experiment with it. Drinking a swallow today, tomorrow tilting up the cup and taking half of it, then gradually finding that like a glass of water it is a very nice way to finish up his meal of solids. Tact, patience and determination will win the battle and it won't even be a skirmish.

There is too much fear about the amount of milk a child drinks. It is a fine food, but it should not be stressed to the extent of refusing to allow the child to grow up and become a child instead of staying an infant tied to a bottle. Bottles belong only to the first nine months, and should not be dragged into the second year. Spoons, plates and cups are the utensils for food in that year. You want your child to progress, not remain stationary at any stage of his growth.

Household Quips

Powdered bath brick will remove stains from steel knives and forks.

A handful of salt in the water when washing colored clothes will greatly prevent the colors from running.

It will lengthen the life of the phonograph spring if the machine is allowed to run down every now and then.

YOU CAN'T AFFORD IT

NO MATTER how many fine silks and woolens you own, you can't afford to wash them in hot water. Because, even if you have the price of new ones, you can't renew the tender skin of hands that emerge red and swollen from hot wash basins.

If you think that only hot water can get clothes clean, here's news for you! White King Granulated Soap, a pure vegetable and nut oil soap, will yield quick, cleansing suds in cool or lukewarm water. Ginghams and prints will stay bright, white goods wash whiter, and your hands will remain smooth and soft.

White King Granulated Soap is condensed. You will be surprised to find how little is required. It's the safest and yet the most economical soap you can buy. Hard water does not hinder its effectiveness. Have you tried it? At your grocer's.

GRAPE JUICE For Breakfast!
Physicians Recommend It

[illegible] of the reasons why Welch's is becoming the favorite breakfast fruit juice in many thousands of homes:

1. Welch's is the pure, unadulterated juice of luscious Concord grapes, Pasteurized.
2. Welch's is rich in fruit nourishment and mineral salts, and so perfectly adapted to the human system that it is taken into the blood-stream without digestive effort, releasing quick energy. It's non-fattening.
3. Welch's is already squeezed. [illegible]
4. There's no squeezer to clean, no crockery to sterilize. No muss!
5. There's not a particle of waste!
6. In every pint there are six liberal servings, making Welch's only 5c a serving—even less if diluted with water, and many prefer it so.
7. It's ready instantly. And temptingly delicious. You simply dilute [illegible], pour and serve.

At your hotel or club, ask for grape juice on the breakfast menu, and insist on Welch's. [illegible] "Welch's," Free, write to [illegible] Dept. B, Westfield, N. Y.

SHOWER BATHS BEST

The best kind of bath for daily bathing is the shower. A good method is to first spray the body with warm water, soaping afterward if desired, and washing again with cold water. It is always a good plan to take some physical exercises just prior to the shower, as this will increase the circulation and open the pores so that they will be better cleansed with running water.

A short bath is usually more beneficial than a prolonged one. After the bath the skin should be dried vigorously with a coarse towel. I am convinced that the ordinary tub bath in which one sits for a long time in hot water is weakening and devitalizing and should not be used except as a therapeutic application for some special reason.

The body does not seem to be weakened by bathing done in cool or running water. Showers also have the advantage of being more sanitary than tub baths, as the soiled water runs off the body and a fresh stream of water descends on the skin. It is almost impossible to take too many shower baths.

During the warm weather it is very refreshing to take a cool shower in the middle of the day. If you like to use warm water it is best to take the warm shower just before going to bed, when it acts as a sedative, relaxing the nervous system.

If you do not have a shower bath built into your home, you may secure an attachment at any drugstore for about a dollar. This may be attached to any hydrant and serve the purpose as well as a more expensive built-in arrangement.

A few years ago bathing was no doubt too infrequent, and even yet doctors will occasionally come across patients who believe it injurious to health to take a bath every day, but the common practice among our best citizens is to take one or two baths daily. Occasionally I come across a patient with a bathing mania for taking too many hot tub baths and who is consequently weakened from the use of too much hot water which makes the tissues flabby, and decreases the circulation on account of the relaxing effect of the heat upon the blood vessels.

It is a good plan to take a shower bath at least once a day to cleanse the pores of the sweat which they are constantly exuding even in cold weather. Then there are the outer cells of the skin which are constantly scaling off and being replaced. By cleansing the skin regularly you can improve its texture.

A good skin is a social asset. It is an indication of civilization. We favorably judge people with clear skins. The personal cleanliness from frequent bathing is a social necessity. The only danger from taking too many baths is if you use hot tub baths, but it is almost impossible to take too many shower baths if you finish off with cold water.

NO ACTION TAKEN OVER RAIL PLEA

Council Fails to Give Consideration to Extending Central-Avenue Line

No action was taken by the City Council yesterday on bids which had been submitted by the Los Angeles Railway Corporation for franchises to extend the Central avenue trolley line from Seventy-seventh street to Manchester avenue and the West Third street line 1300 feet west from Western avenue.

The Council hesitated in the matter because the bids as submitted are for franchises with a life of twenty-one years, and it was objected by Councilman Williams that it is illegal to grant franchises for such spurs for a longer term than the time remaining on the franchises of the main lines.

In neither case considered yesterday is there as much as twenty-one years remaining on the franchise of the main line. The Council referred the whole matter to the City Attorney for recommendation.

Wife Beaten; Husband Held

As the result of a beating assertedly administered by her husband with a club, Mrs. Jessie Ecker, 37 years of age, of 856 West Florence avenue, is in the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital in a serious condition and her husband, Sandaker J. Ecker, 41, is held by police on a charge of suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Although the attack, police said, took place Wednesday, neighbors did not learn the extent of the wife's injuries until yesterday, when they called officers. Police surgeons declare the victim may die.

Miniature Golf Course Opening Set for Tonight

After weeks of grading and planting of rare plants and shrubs, "Shady Greens," said to be one of the largest of the miniature golf courses in the city, will have its formal opening tonight at 8 o'clock. The course was laid out under a design of Daniel R. Hull, landscape engineer, and is located at 5037 Hollywood Boulevard, near Bronson avenue.

With a frontage of 200 feet on Hollywood Boulevard and extending for approximately an acre the miniature course can give space to more than 200 players at one time. The course has been built on what is known as the Brokaw estate, which for years has been heavily planted with palms and shade trees. In the midst of these are built the new bunkers and hazards giving players the greatest amount of shade.

Ralph B. Smith, manager of the course, has been busy for several weeks in preparation for tonight's opening program.

Eaglets to Have Contests Today

Outstanding boy members of the Los Angeles Times-Playground miniature aircraft league will demonstrate how far they have advanced in the science of model airplane building and flying in a series of exhibitions at Los Angeles Municipal Airport today, held in connection with an "open house" for Boy Scouts.

Under the direction of Louis Orsatti of the city Playground and Recreation Department, there will be a speed contest, exhibitions of parachute dropping, bombing, and the laying of smoke screens and a duration flight contest.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

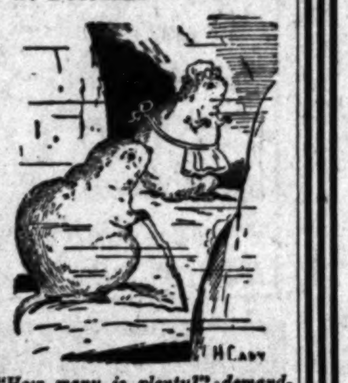
by THORNTON W. BURGESS

'Tis well for him whose pride is lost
To get it back at any cost.
—Jerry Muskrat.

JERRY GETS HIS PRIDE BACK



"How many is plenty?" demanded Peter

Can you think of anything more humiliating than for a father to be asked how many children he has and not be able to tell? It was that way with Jerry Muskrat. One of the first questions that Peter Rabbit asked him when he learned that Mrs. Muskrat had a family was, how many babies were in that family. Jerry Muskrat pretended not to hear.

"I say," repeated Peter, "how many babes have you, Jerry Muskrat?"

Jerry could no longer pretend not to hear. "Plenty," said he, remembering what Mrs. Muskrat had said.

"How many is plenty?" demanded Peter.

"Enough," replied Jerry.

Peter looked very hard at Jerry. "And how many are enough?" he asked severely.

"As many as I wanted," said Jerry.

Peter looked at Jerry for a long minute and began to suspect the truth. "Jerry Muskrat," said he, "you don't know how many children you've got. No, sir, you don't know how many babies you've got. The idea! The very idea!"

Jerry squirmed uncomfortably. Finally he admitted it was so. "You see," he explained, "there isn't room in that home of mine for two big people like Mrs. Muskrat and myself and those babies all at the same time. Of course, they have to have their mother and so I keep out of there. I know Mrs. Muskrat would prefer that I should."

"Do you mean to say that you haven't been in there since those babies were born?" Peter demanded.

"Oh, I've been in there!" replied Jerry hastily. "Of course, I've been in there. But it was dark in there and I couldn't stay but just a minute, and those babies squirmed so that I could have counted them if I had had plenty of time.

"Hasn't Mrs. Muskrat told you how many babies you have?" inquired Peter.

"No," said Jerry. "All she has said is that there are plenty. Now you know as much about them as I do. Plenty doesn't mean much. It may mean one thing today and another thing tomorrow, depending on just how you are feeling when you say it. If Mrs. Muskrat happened to feel out of sorts, two or three would be plenty. If she happened to be feeling fine, plenty might mean half a dozen."

It was perhaps two weeks later that Peter and Jerry found out just what "plenty" did mean. Peter was sitting on the bank of the Smiling Pool just after jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had gone to bed behind the Purple Hills. Jerry Muskrat was idly floating in the water just below him. Suddenly Mrs. Muskrat appeared. She had come out of the underwater doorway of her home and up to the surface. Then a funny little head popped up just behind her. Peter's eyes popped out and his ears stood up straight. "One," said Peter. Another little head popped up. "Two," said Jerry Muskrat.

A third little head appeared, and another. "Three! Four!" cried Peter.

Up popped two more. "Five! Six!" cried Jerry.

Another pair appeared. "Seven! Eight!" shouted Peter, beginning to dance about.

One more popped up. "Nine!" said Jerry Muskrat, drawing a long breath.

"Plenty!" said Mrs. Muskrat.

The next story: "Jerry is Introduced."

R.-K.-O. PLANS SUPER SPECIALS

Slim Summerville Has Long Contract With Universal; Dorothy Burgess to Play Lead in William Boyd Film; Arthur Byron Cast as Hero of Fox's "Hot Numbers"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

An ambitious program, featured by specials and including at least two series of short subjects, is that being put out by R.-K.-O., according to an announcement reaching us yesterday. Many notable stage plays will be filmed as talkers, and comedy is to receive special attention.

Betty Compson is to star in two pictures, the names of which are not yet announced, but it is understood that at least one of them will be from a noted stage play.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, besides pictures already announced, including "Babes in Toyland," which Luther Reed will direct, are to costar in a story called "A Going Concern," having to do with a South American revolution, and also in another which is to be a revue.

R.-K.-O. is to release three Basil Dean productions made in England and to be directed by Dean himself, the first being Galsworthy's "Escape," now completed, with a cast which includes many notable English names, including Gerald DuMaurier, Edna Best, Lewis Casson, while the second production will be an A. A. Milne mystery play, "The Perfect Alibi," from the stage play of that name.

Herbert Brenon has just returned from England, and is even now conferring with William Le Baron as to which of several stories he shall direct first.

Richard Dix is slated to appear in several stories, already announced, while "The Iron Trail," not yet announced, is to be the last of the series.

Anne Caldwell is to write the book and lyrics of "Heart of the Rockies," which Luther Reed will direct.

Charles Rogers is to produce for R.-K.-O., his schedule including four specials. His contract was signed in New York yesterday. He is due here early in July, but is now busy in the metropolis, lining up players to be used in addition to the regular Hollywood players.

The two series of shorts will include one called "Headliner," while another will be called "Mick and Tony," starring Henry Armetti, produced by Louis Brock and to be directed by Mark Sandrick.

DOUG AND MARY ON QUICK TRIP EAST

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford are on a flying trip East. They left last night on the Chief, with the intention of meeting Gwynne Pickford, Mary's 13-year-old niece, in New York, who is returning from school at Lausanne, Switzerland. She has been attending the Brillamont school for girls in that city.

Rumors were circulating yesterday that Doug was uncertain as to whether or not to play the role in "Reaching for the Moon" that has recently been announced, and that he was going to debate the matter on the journey. It was stated at the studio last evening, however, that so far as is known he will play in the picture. Mary will probably set to work on her production of "Forever Yours" as soon as she comes back, which will be in about ten days. Sam Taylor is completing the story for this picture, which he will also direct.

MARY PICKFORD

SLIM SUMMERVILLE WITH UNIVERSAL

The world must have its laughter, and so one class of film actors which seems destined to survive the onslaught of the talking pictures is composed of the comedians.

So excellently well has Slim Summerville done for Universal in all the pictures in which he has played of late, and in such high esteem do Universal officials hold his comedy talents, that he has been signed by that organization to a long-term contract, through his manager, Arthur Shadur.

Summerville's contract is for five years, and he is to be starred in feature-length comedies. The first of these will be called "See America First."

William H. Craft will direct the story, which is an original by Vin Moore and Edward Luddy. Craft directed Summerville recently in "The Little Accident. Summerville was formerly a star of short reelers.

Arthur Byron With Fox

He is Arthur Byron, who, the first day after he reached town with a stage show, was sought for pictures. Pathe signed him. Yesterday Fox borrowed Byron for the leading male role in "Hot Numbers," which Sidney Lanfield will direct.

Zasu Pitts, we understand, is to play the leading character role. Zasu also cannot complain that the talkers have been harsh to her.

ARTHUR BYRAN

Dorothy Burgess Has Lead

At last it has been decided that Dorothy Burgess can play something besides vamps. It was all settled yesterday indeed that Miss Burgess should have the leading feminine role opposite William Boyd in "The Painted Desert," which Pathe is to produce.

The picture is to be filmed down in Arizona. The story was written by A. A. Kline.

No director has yet been settled on, but probably will be within a day or two.

"Merry-Go-Round" Prepares

When "Merry-Go-Round" goes into production at Universal City, with Rupert Julian directing, there is a strong probability, we hear, that John Boles will play the role of the dashing nobleman essayed by Norman Kerry in the original version, when the picture was made as a silent.

Fans are frantically inquiring of me whether Mary Philbin will play the role she played in the original, a role which seems to us to suit her fragile, wistful beauty, her tenderness and her delicate dramatic powers to perfection.

Clara Blandick Chosen

That well-known character actress, Clara Blandick, has been given a featured role in "The Last of the Duanes," in which George O'Brien is being starred by Fox we learned yesterday. She will play the sturdy pioneer mother.

Having created the role of the caustic-tongued mother-in-law in the stage and screen version of "The Show-off," it looked for a while as though Miss Blandick were destined to play waspish roles to the end of the chapter; but she finally succeeded in obtaining a variety of roles, respectively, in "The Girl Said No," "Sins of the Children" and "Romance."

CLARA BLANDICK

Robert Chisholm Goes East

That very engaging young actor, Robert Chisholm, who scored so heavily in "Sweet Adeline" in New York last season, and who has come west for pictures, isn't to be allowed by fate to continue his picture career, after all. Instead, Paramount has postponed "Honeymoon Hate," in which Chisholm was to have played the leading role, due to the fact that the actor is called back to Broadway to appear in a new musical to be produced by Arthur Hammerstein.

Russell Hopton in It

Russell Hopton, the young screen actor who is now appearing in a prominent role in "The Last Mile," will divide his time between the stage and screen during the next few weeks.

He was signed yesterday by Warner Brothers to play the featured role of Ed Smith in "College Lovers," which John Adolfi will direct.

Arthur Lubin Here

That talented young actor, Arthur Lubin, who formerly delighted us so much by his playing of the star roles in "Liliom" and "Desire Under the Elms," but who has been spending the last few months in New York, where he appeared with much success in "Jealousy" and other plays, is here again.

He arrived yesterday, and is already learning all over again how to put on the film make-up, as he has received several offers from picture concerns.

YOUTHFUL COMICS TO TAKE BOWS

Mickey McGuire Slated to Appear at Orpheum at Matinee Performance

As a special opening-day feature, the Orpheum Theater has arranged for the personal appearance of Mickey McGuire and his gang, stars of "Mickey The Romeo," comedy subject, at matinee performances today. These youngsters are said to be among the most popular child actors on the screen.

This juvenile comedy is being shown in conjunction with "Svenson's Wild Party," musical comedy film which starts at the Orpheum today. The new feature stars El Brendel with Marjorie White, William Collier, Jr., Noel Francis, Huntley Gordon, J. M. Kerrigan and a chorus of more than 300 dancers.

Gala Show to be Presented by Film Stars

With Harold B. Franklin, general chairman, personally presiding over the staging of the Hollywood midsummer jubilee at Hollywood Bowl Wednesday night, it is anticipated that one of the greatest shows of its kind ever presented here will attract crowds to the amphitheater.

Among headline artists and presentations billed for the great jubilee program are Don Jose Mojica, noted tenor, Fifi D'Orsay, Marjorie White and Frankie Richardson, Everett Marshall, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Others are Charles King, Lottice Howell, Cliff Edwards and George Houston. Abe Lyman and his band will play.

Producers Seek New Drama for Noted Actress

So great has been the success of Fay Bainter now in the Viennese comedy, "Caprice," with Reginald Owen at the Belasco Theater, that her managers, Belasco and Curran, are seeking a new play for the actress, to be presented here following the conclusion of her eastern fall season.

Although a local girl, and a favorite here, Miss Bainter is said to have made a host of new friends and admirers by her performance as the vivacious young Viennese in "Caprice."

The star is compelled to return to New York after her brief Coast visit, to appear in a new play. The last two weeks of Miss Bainter's engagement at the Belasco will start Monday.

O'BRIEN'S NEXT

George O'Brien has been assigned the stellar male lead in Fox's latest outdoor romance, "Fair Warning," which is adapted from Max Brand's novel, "Untamed."

'SHADOW OF LAW' BRIGHT IN DIALOGUE

William Powell Starred in Role of Man Convicted on Circumstantial Evidence

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Some such gentle admonition as this might be drawn from William Powell's starring picture, "Shadow of the Law," showing at the United Artists' Theater. Powell is into a lot of trouble in this opus because he happened to take a too acute interest in a lady dwelling in the same apartment-house in which he lived. He goes to prison for murder, convicted on circumstantial evidence. He also is nearly victimized on a blackmailing scheme. And he comes within an ace of having to say farewell forever to the lovely daughter of a wealthy mill owner with whom he falls in love after he has escaped from the penitentiary.

Altogether, "Shadow of the Law" keeps its hero in much hot water, and perhaps on that account, and because it is sometimes very amusing in its dialogues, this feature may please.

The story is neither very weighty, nor extremely probable, and the actual finish especially lacks the convincing punch that it should have. For those who approve Powell, though, and prefer to view him in the guise of an obviously sympathetic character, there will no doubt be a share of satisfaction. He plays square even with his buddy in the penitentiary, and justifies the action by saying, virtually, that he wouldn't have adhered to the code of the criminal when he was first incarcerated, but after serving a portion of his time he has acquired a different standard of values. That's not an altogether acceptable theory, though there probably wouldn't be much of a picture without it.

"Shadow of the Law" really recalls the older genre of prison films of which "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and others were salient examples. It deals chiefly with a convict's effort to hide his identity until he can clear himself of his presumed guilt. It doesn't attempt the modern realism of the gray-walled penitentiary drama, and consequently is never either vigorous nor too depressing. The characters are hokumishly gilded; even including the burglar who aids the hero in his attempt to prove his innocence. Also the detective turns out to be a big generous-hearted one.

"Shadow of the Law" was directed by Louis Gasnier, the adaptation of the novel by John A. Moroso having been made by Max Marcin, and the scenario written by John Farrow. Many of the situations are rather well built up in the direction and cutting.

Paul Hurst as the Powell prison buddy succeeds in being unusually amusing at times in the delivery of the funnier lines assigned to him. Marion Shilling is the girl, and Frederic Burt the indefatigable sleuth who almost takes the escaped convict back to prison, but finally decides to fasten his attentions on the hero's nemesis, the blackmailer, instead. George Irving, Regis Toomey, and James Durkin are others.

Smith and Dale in a comedy, "Accidents Will Happen," the Terry-toon cartoon, "Cod-Fish Balls," and a Robert Bruce scenic, "Sunset Hunters," as well as the organ number by Gaylord Carter are additions to the program, the Smith and Dale comedy furnishing the better proportion of amusement.

Downtown Will Screen Spanish Version of Play

Tonight at midnight Warner Brothers Downtown Theater is to have a special performance, showing "El Hombre Malo," the First National Spanish version of the play, "The Bad Man." This production is entirely in Spanish. Antonio Moreno, a prominent motion-picture actor, plays the title role.

Included in the cast are Rosita and Conchita Ballestero, Roberto Guzman, Andre de Segurola, Juan Torena, Deli Magana, Carlos Dillarias, Manuel Conesa, Carlos Ramos, Jose Dominguez and Martin Garallaga.

This is the first Spanish version of a picture with dialogue to come from the First National studio, and all the cast of the picture, as well as all the Spanish-speaking Consuls, will appear in person on the stage.

Film Veterans Return to Play Picture Roles

Two veterans of filmdom appear in support of Nancy Carroll in "Devil's Holiday," which is now playing at the new Pantages Hollywood Theater. James Kirkwood, who is seen as the stern and unrelenting older brother in the story, entered motion pictures in 1907 following a stage career. He started with D. W. Griffith in Biograph pictures.

The other veteran is Hobart Bosworth, who joined the old Selig film company in 1909 after twenty-two years of stage work. In "Devil's Holiday" he is seen as the father of Phillips Holmes.

The current stage show is headed by "Country Club Idea."

Last Week of 'Crime' Will Start Monday

"Crime," underworld play, enters its third and final week at the President Monday. This action drama presents Kenneth Daigneau in the role of a crook leader.

Daigneau is ably assisted by a cast of thirty persons.

VERSATILE CAST PLAYS ON SCREEN

"Notorious Affair" Given Smooth Performance at Downtown Theater

BY JOHN SCOTT

A happy combination of splendid acting, beauty, clever dialogue and more adherence than usual to the object of motion pictures, motion, "A Notorious Affair" was thrown on the screen at Warner's Downtown Theater yesterday to near capacity audiences.

With Basil Rathbone and Kay Francis in important roles, the picture at the start seemed assured of at least two smooth performances, and such was the case, although Billie Dove, noted more heretofore for her charm and beauty, rose to the occasion and heroically kept up the rigid pace set by the other two.

"A Notorious Affair" has been taken from a play by Audrey and Waverly Carter and adapted to the screen by J. Grubb Alexander, who also wrote the dialogue, which has much to do in carrying through situations that might well have lagged and slowed up the plot.

The story is a familiar one, with a few new twists. Miss Dove as Patricia Hanley, daughter of Sir Thomas, meets Paul Gherardi, a hard-working violinist, and marries him without further ado. Rathbone is the man of her choice, and when he pays his first visit to the family in the imposing mansion, there results some really clever comedy.

The feminine menace, Kay Francis as Countess Balakireff, seeks to number Gherardi as one of her conquests and succeeds after he has become a celebrity. Kenneth Thomson as Dr. Allen Pomroy happens to be an old sweetheart of Patricia's and for the purposes of the plot he is called in to attend to the violinist, who subsequently suffers a nervous breakdown, resulting finally in paralysis. After the scene shifts to Southern France the not unanticipated ending is logically worked out.

The supporting cast, though small, was very efficient, as mentioned before. Kenneth Thomson as the doctor added further prestige and ability. Philip Strange appeared briefly. The direction of Lloyd Bacon should be commended, although working with such versatile players the director's job was no doubt more or less easy from the beginning.

Miss Dove seems to be improving with each role and with heavier parts should continue to further her screen following.

The surrounding program included Joe Frisco in "The Song Plugger," a rather interesting short subject; Ryan and Lee, who enacted something called "A Tenement Tangle;" The Times-Universal newsreel, depicting some recent events, and a rather novel method of introducing the next attraction.

Song Hits Heard at Vine-Street

Two of the season's radio and dance hits are highlights of "Under a Virginia Moon," the comedy drama of the South, starring Miss Percy Haswell, at the Vine-street Theater. "Sleepy Time Down South" and "11:30 Saturday Night" are the two pieces.

Clarence Muse, versatile Negro actor and singer, who has a leading role in the Vine-street production, pleases nightly with his rendition of "Sleepy Time Down South," the lyric of which he wrote especially for this production, and Albertina Pickens, jazz dancer, is called upon for three and four encores an evening.

WRITES IN DESERT

Josephine Lovett wrote her most recently completed story, "What a Widow," while vacationing at La Quinta, on the desert. The story is serving as a starring vehicle for Gloria Swanson and was written especially for the star. It is now in production.

PLAY SHOP OFFERS IBSEN'S "GHOSTS"

Individualism of Women Made Vital in Drama: Cast Well-Chosen

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

"Ghosts," perhaps the most audacious invective of Ibsen, master diagnostician of social disorder, is receiving a splendid performance at the Play Shop.

In "Ghosts" Ibsen places the sensitive finger of his imagination upon a cancerous growth which gnaws at the very vitals of society quite as truly today as when this was written, and he doesn't mince words either. This play, born of the intense inner conviction of the Norse genius, marches with the velocity and stark inevitability of a Greek tragedy. The individualism of woman is stressed for he no longer sees her a sacrifice to the delusion and caprice of man, but rather as an individual who must keep her own honor and responsibility. Mrs. Alving through her weakness in listening to the conventional advice of others instead of to the promptings of her own heart brings sorrow and tragedy upon herself and those she holds most dear.

This mother, sensitively alive to a larger life and reaching toward that goal, felt the quickening of the living air in the "Ghost" thoughts which crept about her. The transmutations, the weirdly voluminous qualities of those shivering of the ether, which somehow belonged to this home, to this environment, closed in upon her, even as in a different sense they closed in upon her son, the young Oswald.

Perhaps William Moran as Engstrand in the parlance of the theater rather "stole the show." His sensitive artistry was evidenced in this vivid and finely wrought delineation. The devious emotions of this old rogue were subtly and humorously portrayed and one felt that here in very truth stood the wily Jacob Engstrand. Lucille La Pointe in the role of Mrs. Alving was convincing and gave an interesting performance, though marred in spots by a lack of projection of voice. Otherwise her voice was pleasing and diction excellent. Alan Brock, though perhaps a trifle young for the part, gave an intense and moving portrayal of the young artist. Pastor Manders was assured with fine dignity and considerable sympathy by Frank Ball. As Regina, Virginia Barber was true to type and acted with spirit.

"Last Mile" to Close Tonight

The two final performances of "The Last Mile," now at the Majestic Theater, will be given today. "The Last Mile" is based on a series of true happenings in western penal institutions that have been forcibly brought before the public's attention, it is said. It was written by John Wexley, a young and heretofore unheard of playwright.

WELL-ACTED FILM OPENS WARNER RUN

BY ELENA BOLAND

Combining comedy with particles of drama and relaxing therefrom into bantering farce, "Recaptured Love" assures both subtlety and humor to Warner Brothers' Hollywood patrons.

This entertaining piece, which is based on the play, "Misdeal," by Basil Woon, occupies a unique position in that it presents a cast practically all of whom have passed what is gently referred to as "the prime of life." In fact, the spirit of youth is upheld solely, if somewhat exaggeratedly, by Dorothy Burgess, a Lorelei of a deeper dye.

John Adolfi is to be credited with the direction, and Charles Kenyon is to be applauded for the screen play and dialogue, for from these latter two springs much of the amusement.

"Recaptured Love" is fare of light order for the sophisticate set and it is enacted by players with a thorough knowledge of their duties. John Halliday heads the list with a performance as fine in its various shadings as any that have yet shadowed the screen. It is his difficult task to retain his dignity and at the same time regain his youth. A modern husband he is with a masculine maximum of vanity. An actor of less merit might easily have made the character no heavier than ridiculous.

As a surprise, Belle Bennett, who comes in for her customary jolt, keeps smiling to the end. Although at first, her speeches are rather unintelligible, Miss Bennett fairly astonishes by her later delicate interpretation and the care with which she handles her trifle too feminine characterization.

A decided change of personality is evinced by Dorothy Burgess, who departs for the time from her popular flamboyantly fire-eating vampires. True, her influence is that of the siren, but what a gurgly, girlish creature! Poodle dogs and gentlemen all come in impartially for her generous affection.

In the beginning, when the apparently average American family is happy together, the son being well drawn by Junior Durkin, the dialogue seems strange, if not strained. Husband, wife and child talk as though they had just met instead of having grown old one with another. It is then that the home is broken up by the vital vampire and Miss Bennett casts her fate with modernism and eventually wins, as her reward, her husband back again.

Among the list of short subjects must be mentioned a bit of extravagant nonsense by George S. Kaufman entitled "The Still Alarm." Except for the ending, which weakens what is forerunning, this is one of the most enjoyable of the Vitaphone minute drolleries.

There are also Trixie Friganza in "Strong and Willing" and Shaw and Lee in "Going Places."

Quick Retort of Rogers Leads to Screen Success

Every man can point to his start, it is said. Not to be outdone, Will Rogers, whose latest starring Fox production, "So This is London," is the current attraction at the Carthay Circle, can point to his way up to the topmost gallery in a Midwest town.

It was here that a "wise-cracker" commented loudly enough for Will to hear, during one of his silent rope-spinning vaudeville days. Will's witty retort was simple enough to be understood, consequently it registered. After that it was simply a case of thinking up humorous things to say.

Three Donalds in Mix-up at Duffy Theater

To call for "Donald" backstage at the El Capitan Theater is something akin to shouting across a narrow canyon, inasmuch as the echo comes back threefold, as all the Donalds answer.

It happens that in the cast of "Nancy's Private Affair," the current comedy at the El Capitan, one of the principal characters is Donald Gibson, the husband of Nancy. And it also happens that this role is being acted by Donald Douglas.

Then there is Donald Campbell, who answers to the call. This Donald is both stage manager and actor.

AMOS 'N ANDY WILL HAVE NEW EPISODES

When Amos 'n Andy begin their broadcasts in Hollywood during the filming of their first motion picture they will use a new series of episodes now being prepared by Melville Brown. The scenes will be based on experiences of the pair in their motion-picture environment. Brown is to direct the comedians at R.-K.-O. when they arrive early next month.

WOMAN IN SLASHING GIVES BAIL

Miss Rudya's Preliminary Hearing for Assault on Oil Man Set for July 8

Antonia Sofia Rudya, proprietress of a fashionable shop at 307 North Fairfax avenue, who is asserted to have severely cut W. W. Stewart, wealthy retired oil operator, 233 South Hamilton Drive, Beverly Hills, with a razor blade, Thursday afternoon, will have a preliminary hearing July 8. She was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Ballard on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, and released on bail of $1000.

She gave her true name as Antoinetta S. Rurkowsky. The asserted attack occurred on Orlando avenue in the Stewart automobile. The belief that she was about to be jilted was given by the Wilshire police as the reason for the attack.

Stewart, who suffered a dozen gashes about the face from the razor, was not dangerously injured, according to the police. He is confined to his home as a result of the slashes, police say.

WIFE SAYS SHE WAS TORTURED

Young Woman Granted Divorce Decree

"This Is How He Did, Your Honor"

THROWING his wife against a door was one of the acts charged against Theodore J. Risdon by Mrs. Vivian A. Risdon, who yesterday obtained a divorce, granted by Superior Judge Bowron. Mrs. Risdon, 18 years of age, was married in an elopement to Yuma, Ariz., on January 2, 1929, and separated from her husband May 19, 1929.

Anna Sentell, a friend, testified that Mrs. Risdon's right leg was black and blue and that the young wife said her husband had thrown her against a door.

Risdon chased her with a dead mouse, twisted her arm, and insisted on her kissing him when his mouth was full of tobacco, the young wife complained.

The husband had sued for divorce asserting that his wife let dirty linen accumulate.

Douglas M'Lean Expected to be Sued by Spouse

Indications that a divorce action will be filed soon by Mrs. Faith Cole MacLean against Douglas MacLean, former film actor and producer, was seen by friends here yesterday in reports that the wife will take up her residence in Reno.

A dispatch from the Nevada city said that a hotel manager had instructions to accept mail for Mrs. MacLean, but he said that the former film actor's wife had not yet arrived at the hotel. He declined to give further information as to her whereabouts or as to when he expects her as a guest.

The MacLeans separated more than a year ago following a marriage of about fifteen years, and news of the impending divorce action was not unexpected or a surprise here.

Professor and Director Meet

Introductions were accomplished between Theodore J. Hoover and Sergei Eisenstein, Russian director, engaged by Paramount Publix Corporation, yesterday at a luncheon at the Masquers Club in Hollywood. The affair was given in honor of Prof. Hoover, who is dean of the Stanford School of Engineering, and Director Eisenstein under the auspices of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, and among those attending were besides the special guests, Roy Pomeroy, Karl Struss, Theodore J. Reed, J. A. Ball, Karl Freund, Carroll H. Dunning, Iver Montagu, Lawrence Grant, Clinton Wunder, Lester Cowan and Don Gledhill.

As harlequin or executive head of the Masquers Mitchell Lewis tendered everyone present at the luncheon a guest card entitling the holder to the privileges of the club.

KINGDOM COME HAS NO LURE

Threat to Knock Her There Laid to Husband as Wife Gets Divorce Decree

Kingdom Come is a place Mrs. Mabel Wolf yesterday testified she did not wish to visit, particularly if sent there by a blow from her husband, Melchior Charles Wolf, studio property man, from whom she won a divorce. Superior Judge Hazlett granted an interlocutory decree on grounds of mental cruelty.

"He threatened to knock me into Kingdom Come," testified Mrs. Wolf. "I was frightened for my life."

The Wolfs were married March 3, 1925, and separated in December, 1929.

NILS ASTHER APPEARS AS DEFENDANT IN SUIT

Nils Asther, film actor, with his former business manager, J. I. Angus, appeared yesterday in Municipal Judge Pope's court to defend themselves in a civil action brought by Louis E. Heifitz, Hollywood writer, for $600 which he asserts is due for publicity and a talking picture prologue he asserts he furnished Asther. Heifetz declares he wrote the prologue to accompany a vaudeville act in which Asther planned to appear. Both Asther and Angus denied having signed contracts for the prologue. They said they talked the matter over with Heifetz but never agreed to have him do the work. The case, unfinished yesterday, will be resumed this morning.

VETERANS TOLD HOW TO REACH PICNIC AREA

Whiting Wood Park, site of the Federation of French World War Veterans' picnic tomorrow, is at the northern terminal of the La Crescenta-Montrose street car which meets the red car leaving Los Angeles via the Subway Terminal Building. Prompt connections also may be had by boarding an E car going north on Broadway to Glendale Junction. Motorists can reach the wooded glen by following the Verdugo Road and the arrows posted thereon. The entertainment committee announced that Maurice Chevalier, Paramount player, will appear for forty minutes commencing at 4 p.m.

OUSTING OF MARRIED WOMEN BY CITY URGED

The dropping from the city pay rolls of married women whose husbands are also employed by the city is recommended in a resolution adopted by the Men's Brotherhood of University Christian Church which was received by the City Council yesterday and referred to its Efficiency and Personnel Committee. The resolution also suggests that in filling the positions which would be made vacant by such a step preference should be given to persons with families dependent on them.

OIL COMMITTEE ADVISES WILBUR

Kettleman Hills Group Gives Views on Unit Plan

Two Points in Colton Bill Stressed to Secretary

No Permit Yet Granted for Continental Offset

A telegram directed to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur by the Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee, following a lengthy session yesterday at the California Oil and Gas Association offices, requested that the Secretary give serious consideration to two proposals in the Colton bill having to do with the unit plan of development of the Kettleman Hills oil field.

According to the telegram, the Kettleman Hills committee, headed by William Reinhardt of the Shell Oil Company, suggested that the government should be bound by a unit plan to the same extent as lessees and operators. The telegram also suggested that opportunity be given the committee to comment on any future proposed legislation which would have a bearing on the proposed Kettleman Hills unit plan.

The telegram stated that "we believe continuance of leases should not only be for the twenty years, but for life of the field," and "that termination or the alteration of the unit plan of development in whole or part by the Secretary of the Interior at his discretion would not be acceptable to lessees."

Copies of the telegram also were sent to the chairman of the Public Lands Committee of the United States Senate and to the chairman of the House Public Lands Committee.

Some word regarding the government's action concerning the Continental Oil Company's north dome permit at Kettleman Hills was expected yesterday. A late announcement was to the effect that no permit has yet been granted to allow Continental to start drilling a well as an offset to producing wells of the Standard and Petroleum Securities oil companies.

The Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee some time ago made recommendations to Secretary Wilbur that an exception to the rule be granted in this case.

Officer Accused of Protecting Still Operator

Charged with protecting a Lynwood still operator from arrest, Charles Ecker, 27 years of age, a motorcycle officer, was taken in custody yesterday by Tom Cavett, District Attorney's investigator, and held on a felony charge.

After reviewing the evidence, a charge of possession of a still was filed against the officer.

According to Eavett, Ecker's arrest is an outgrowth of a confession obtained by former Police Chief George Doney shortly before the latter ended his own life a month ago.

The still, which Ecker is accused of protecting, was located at 11130 Modjeska street, Cavett asserts.

Young Mother Exonerated of Attack Charge

Mrs. Anna Willey, 20-year-old wife of Leslie A. Willey, air transport pilot, was found not guilty of beating her sister-in-law, Miss Marlow Murray, by a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court yesterday.

Mrs. Willey declared that she went to Miss Murray's home at 1014 North Virgil avenue on May 26, last, to see her two children, Colleen, 4, and Leslie, 19 months, who were being cared for there. Miss Murray refused to allow her to take the children, she said, and slapped her when she picked up the little girl. Miss Murray said that Mrs. Willey assaulted her without provocation and filed a battery complaint.

SCHEDULE OF PLANES TO BAY CITY CHANGED

C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager of Western Air Express, announced last night that beginning Sunday the schedules of the northbound and southbound planes between Los Angeles and San Francisco will be changed to one hour later. The northbound plane leaving here will depart at 5 p.m. instead of 4 p.m. and the southbound will leave Oakland at 5:10 p.m. instead of 4:10 p.m., he said.

ADMIRAL PRATT ARRIVES AT LOS ANGELES BASE

Admiral William V. Pratt, commander-in-chief of the United States Fleet, arrived here yesterday afternoon aboard his flagship, the battleship Texas, having departed Annapolis on the 9th inst. Before sailing for Honolulu on July 9, Admiral Pratt will hold a series of conferences here with flag officers of the battle fleet relative to operations for the coming year.

Upon her return to the Coast from Hawaii the Texas will rejoin the dreadnaught squadron as a regular unit of Battleship Division Three, tentative plans providing for transfer of the United States Fleet flag to a completed 10,000-ton light cruiser pending commissioning of the U.S.S. Chicago or U.S.S. Augusta for that duty in 1931. Arriving at Honolulu July 17, Admiral Pratt will inspect the Hawaiian establishment and sail July 26 for Seattle, where the Texas will join the battle fleet on August 2. She will return to San Pedro with the fleet on August 27 and operate here thereafter with the battleship divisions.

Admiral Pratt, who has been named to become chief of naval operations—highest duty possible to an American naval officer—will be relieved at this base about October 4 by Admiral Jehu V. Chase, now at Washington as a member of the Navy General Board.

As the first of the battleships to depart for Fourth of July holiday ports, the U.S.S. New Mexico and U.S.S. Nevada will get under way tomorrow for Tacoma, where they are due July 3. Monday, the California will depart for Oakland and the Tennessee for Monterey, via San Francisco, while the Oklahoma will sail the same day for San Francisco. The West Virginia will go to Santa Barbara on July 3.

OLD LANGDON LETTER READ

Epistle from Then Mrs. O'Brien to Husband Declares Friendship With Actor Platonic

There was no sentimental attachment between Harry Langdon, film comic, and Mrs. Helen Walton O'Brien, now Mrs. Langdon, she wrote to Thomas J. O'Brien, then her husband, it was revealed in a letter read yesterday at the trial of a suit by O'Brien to collect $11,500 on notes given by the comedian. Before this letter was read in Superior Judge Blake's court, O'Brien testified that it contained a demand for his expression of belief in his wife's loyalty.

Attorney Bayard Rountree for O'Brien read the letter to Mrs. Langdon on the stand. It was dated August 29, 1925, and said:

"Harry came by here after work, and I showed him through the new place. We had a long talk, and I convinced him that the suspicions directed toward me before—you know what I mean—were false. And she saw him, and later called me on the telephone, threatening me."

Mrs. Langdon said that the "she" referred to was Mrs. Rose Langdon, then the comedian's wife. The letter continues:

"I defied her. The Monday night following, she came here with some man who said he was a detective. They tried so hard to get me alone, but I told them I had no secrets from Mother and Daddy Harris, and they would have to wait till they came in. She said all kinds of things that were not true, and I told her I defied her, that my conscience was clear.

"There never has been anything between Harry Langdon and myself. I swear to that. He respects me and believes me to be a good, pure woman, and I am worthy of it and everyone's respect, because I have kept my womanhood unsullied . . .

"I have just discovered that she (Mrs. Rose Langdon) is watching our house every night—such wild doings as she has discovered, Daddy and mother and I—just having a lovely time together."

In this letter Mrs. O'Brien laid down her terms to her husband of that time, as follows:

"If you have faith in me, and believe my womanhood is unstained, you may return. But understand once and for all, I shall never endure for one moment the slightest charge to the contrary. If you believe me capable of dishonor, then don't come back."

O'Brien testified yesterday that it was in answer to this letter that he wrote one, read earlier, in which he affirmed his belief in his wife's loyalty, but that he had mental reservations.

"At that time I knew that Harry Langdon was coming between me and my wife," he asserted. "I had protested in vain. Those protests were resented, so I adopted an attitude of accepting responsibility for everything. Knowing her nature, I reaffirmed my faith in her, in spite of my actual belief to the contrary."

Over objections by Paul W. Schenck, attorney for Langdon, Attorney Rountree read into the record a deposition made May 6, last, by Mrs. Laura Walton, mother of Mrs. Langdon. Mrs. Walton is absent from the city. She deposed that O'Brien seemed to be a loving, dutiful husband, and that she never had any trouble with him.

Judge Blake adjourned the trial until 10 a.m. Monday, after attorneys agreed the case will probably end Tuesday afternoon.

CHIEF OF AVIATION ON VISIT TO CITY

Maj. Clarence M. Young

PARK WILL HAVE MUSIC

A program of Spanish music will be given at Westlake Park tomorrow afternoon. Solos will be by Elma Zelinda Foley, soprano, and Mario Alvortz, baritone, who will be accompanied by Yascha Arowsky's concert orchestra. Ernie Owens and his jazz band which plays every night from 8 to 10:30 o'clock will play from the pontoon on the lake after the Park Board concert until 6:30 p.m. and again in the evening.

SUCCESS OF AIR TRAVEL DISCUSSED

Maj. Young Speaks on Traffic Gains and Tells of New Problem

Aviation companies have won half the battle: They have sold air transportation. Such is the opinion of Maj. Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary of Commerce, who is in Los Angeles on a business trip, stopping at the Ambassador. He is in charge of aviation for the Department of Commerce.

Vast increase in passenger volume on air transport lines has proved that people are not afraid to travel by air, the visitor said. Now, however, the question arises as to whether increased volume at the reduced rates will make it possible to operate profitably or whether tariffs must be revised.

New regulations pertaining to air mail will make available to air transport companies between $15,000,000 and $18,000,000, Maj. Young said. If the appropriations are equitably distributed, he continued, the new measures will bring an extension of air mail service to places not now receiving it.

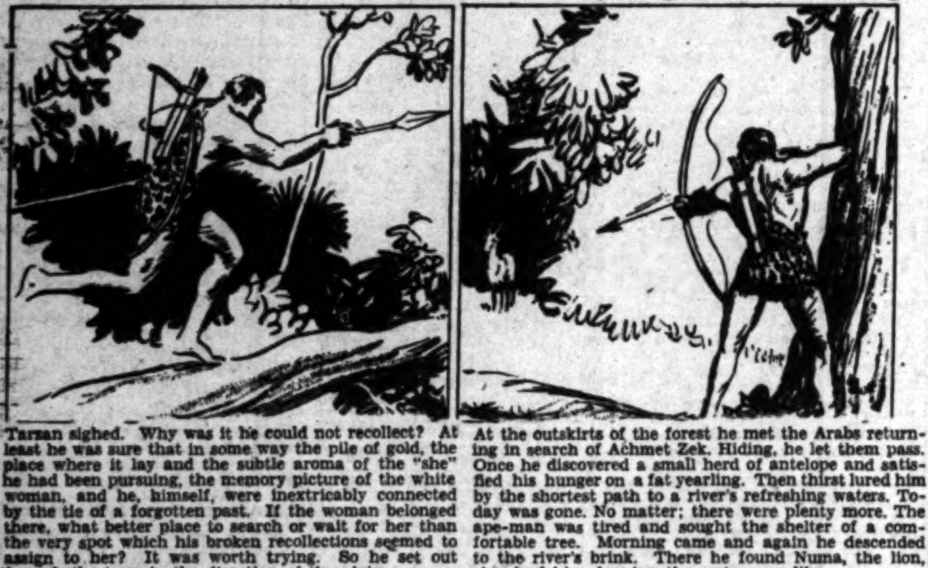
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Tarzan sighed. Why was it he could not recollect? At least he was sure that in some way the pile of gold, the place where it lay and the subtle aroma of the "she" he had been pursuing, the memory picture of the white woman, and he, himself, were inextricably connected by the tie of a forgotten past. If the woman belonged there, what better place to search or wait for her than the very spot which his broken recollections seemed to assign to her? It was worth trying. So he set out through the trees in the direction of the plain.

At the outskirts of the forest he met the Arabs returning in search of Achmet Zek. Hiding, he let them pass. Once he discovered a small herd of antelope and satisfied his hunger on a fat yearling. Then thirst lured him by the shortest path to a river's refreshing waters. Today was gone. No matter; there were plenty more. The ape-man was tired and sought the shelter of a comfortable tree. Morning came and again he descended to the river's brink. There he found Numa, the lion, ahead of him, lapping the water greedily.

At the approach of Tarzan, he raised his head and with a low growl of warning glared at the intruder. But Tarzan, guessing that the beast had just fed, paid him little attention. Stopping a few yards above the tawny cat, he dropped upon his hands and knees and plunged his face into the cool water. For a moment the beast continued to eye the man; then he resumed his drinking and man and beast quenched their thirst side by side, each apparently oblivious of the other's presence. After a plunge in the river, Tarzan set off again toward the ruined bungalow.

And when he came upon the spot, great was his surprise and consternation for the yellow metal had disappeared. The earth trampled by the feet of horses and men gave no clew. It was as though the ingots had vanished into thin air. The ape-man was at a loss to know where to turn or what next to do. Everything seemed to elude him—the pretty pebbles, the yellow metal, the "she," his memory. Tarzan was disgusted. Well, he would go back into the jungle and look for Chulk. For two days he moved rapidly in a long, easy trot, then taking to the trees with the agility and speed of a small monkey.

PERMIT ISSUED FOR WAREHOUSE

Crescent Company First to Get Plan Approved

Work on $70,000 Plant Will Begin Immediately

Auto Concern Gets Site for $65,000 Project

BY WALDO DRAKE

The race to establish the first privately operated shipside warehouse at the harbor yesterday appeared likely to be won by the Crescent Wharf and Warehouse Company, with announcement by the State Railroad Commission that it has granted permission to the veteran concern to build and operate a structure on Terminal Island. Charles Bayly, treasurer of the Crescent firm, said last night that a modern reinforced warehouse, of 40,000 square feet and costing about $70,000, will be built on the firm's own property at Ocean and Seaside avenues immediately.

Coincidently, announcement was made yesterday by the Banning Estate that Elmer C. Cord and John W. Cord, automobile magnates, representing the City and Harbor Warehouse, Ltd., will immediately construct a concrete-and-steel warehouse on 84,300 square feet of land leased from the Banning Estate on Mormon Island. This warehouse, to cost $65,000, will have 80,000 square feet of storage space. It was said further that construction and operation of the Mormon Island warehouse will be carried out regardless of the outcome of the concern's application before the State Railroad Commission, which will receive final consideration on July 1.

Since, after seventeen years, title of the Banning property involved reverts to the City of Los Angeles, representatives of the City and Harbor Warehouse, Ltd., and Fred A. Hooper, district manager of the American - Hawaiian Steamship Company, will confer at the port this morning with Burt Edwards, general manager of the Harbor Department, in an effort to secure extension of the leasehold. It is known, however, that policy of the Harbor Department is against granting of leases on property to be gained in the future.

Plans of the Wilmington Transfer and Storage Company, third concern planning a port warehouse, were yesterday reported indefinite. A permit for operation of storage facilities has already been granted this concern.

Yesterday's developments are said to indicate a complete victory over the efforts of the California and Los Angeles Warehousemen's Association to block establishment of shipside warehouses.

DOLLAR LINE UNIT OCEAN MAIL BIDDER

The Dollar interests, through their subsidiary American Mail Line, were revealed yesterday by the Shipping Board to be the surprise bidder for the Portland-Manila mail contract, in competition with the Pacific Atlantic Navigation Company, the Dawson-Dant-Russell concern, of Portland. Pacific-Atlantic had previously offered to build five $3,000,000 combination passenger-and-cargo vessels for operation from New York to Manila, via Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland.

Admiral Oriental Line bids were: Vessels of Class 4, $5.45 per nautical mile; Class 2, $10; Class 3, $8. Pacific Atlantic Navigation Company bids were: Class 4, $6; Class 3, $8; Class 2, $10; Class 1, $12.

The mail contract, expected to be awarded next week, is to run ten years, with ten voyages the first year and from twelve to eighteen trips annually thereafter.

Don Montague with a gross score of 76 and a net of 64, yesterday won the Bethlehem trophy in the Bilge Club's first annual golf tournament at Royal Palms. George A. Bankson took second honors with a net 72, and Leon Brown was third. Sixty-four members participated for forty-two prizes.

Danish East Asiatic Line's new motorliner Amerika will sail from the port homeward bound on her maiden voyage Monday evening. Carrying a capacity list of sixty passengers, she will load here 2575 cases of grapefruit for Southampton, 540 tons of borax, for Hamburg and Hull, and a consignment of sardines for Copenhagen. She will also make a special call at Basseterre, Guadalupe, Leeward Islands, to load bananas.

Harry Col, vice-president of the Anglo London and Paris Bank of Los Angeles, will be among the 125 cabin passengers sailing from the port Monday aboard the Panama Mail intercoastal liner Guatemala. Mr. Col, in company with Laurie W. Eley, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank of this city, is making an extended business tour of the republic of Salvador. Also a passenger will be J. Irigoyen, chairman of the board of the Banco Central de Guatemala, accompanied by his wife and their son and daughter.

Two thousand young orange trees went out to South America last night aboard the W. R. Grace liner Charcas for establishment of an orchard near Pimental, Chile.

WAR CRISIS IN CHINA

Nanking Battles With Rebels

Conflict Involving 300,000 Rages in Honan Province; Reserves Hurled In

Nationalists and Northern Foes Both Claim Victory; Decision Must Come

SHANGHAI, June 28. (AP)—Striking for the heart of China's Central government, rebel forces tonight are at grips with the Nationalist armies in Honan Province in an engagement that may prove the decisive battle of the rebellion.

The battle of 300,000 men raged all day, becoming more intense at night as each side rushed reinforcements to the front lines.

Fifty thousand soldiers were thrown into the battle by each commander without marked advantage in the critical struggle of the series of battles which began May 8 in the rebel effort to break through to Nanking, overthrow the government and banish President Chiang Kai-shek.

VICTORY IN DOUBT

Fighting is so fierce, said independent dispatches, either rebels or Nationalists must give way, but victory cannot be predicted.

Contradicting Nationalist claims of gains, rebel dispatches asserted the northerners of Gens. Feng Yu-hsiang and Yen Hsi-shan are pounding the government lines so hard between Lanfeng and Kaifeng disintegration is imminent and victory certain.

Although predicting the Nationalist forces will triumph, Foreign Minister Wang admitted the government considers the crisis is the most critical it has experienced.

NANKING STRONGER

He said, however, the government excels in resources of men, money and ordnance and Chiang Kai-shek, therefore, will break the back of the northern rebellion. This will be accomplished, he said, when the Nationalists capture Kaifeng and Chengchow in Honan.

Shantung Province dispatches said the Nationalists are continuing their retreat southward before slowly advancing northern forces, but are still many miles north of the Kiangsu Province border.

Meanwhile, civil war conditions south of the Yangtse River are chaotic. The government asserted its armies are scattering the Kwangsi Province rebels, driving them from southern Hunan and Kiangsi provinces into Kwangsi and Kwangtung, farther south.
